(Back to Index)

The "Len TrumbleMemorial Award/Trophy" has been donated to the club by Al Howey Jewellers of Fonthill in memry of Len Trumble. The competition consists of six digital image competitions during the camera club season. Entries are due by midnight of the day following the first meeting in September, October, November, January, February, and March.

All members must submit their digital images using the "Online Digital Entry System". In the event of system problems entries can be sent to the competitions director via email. Entries can also be submitted for future months.

The main function of the competition is to give the club members an opportunity to have their images scored by advanced photographers who are also experienced judges and to have their favourite images viewed by club members

The member achieving the highest total points for their entries during the year will receive the Len Trumble Memorial Award Certificate.

Image competition scores will also be used to determine advancement from one division to the next.

Image Naming Convention

All members are assigned a 3-digit members id number. All images entered in ALL competitions MUST BE NAMED in the following manner:

G175_Image Title.jpg

The first uppercase letter is to indicate your division: B-bronze, S-Silver, G-Gold, D-diamond, M-Master and your 3-digit number. Followed by an UNDERSCORE *not a minus sign (dash) Please keep the title to 2-3 words. The judges do not see the titles.

Members can submit up to 4 images each month, one each in the following 4 categories: Nature, Pictorial (non-nature), Creative, and Open

Definitions

(1) Nature: In conjunction with CAPA and PSA (Photograhic Society of America) we have adopted their definition of what constitutes a nature image.

Images entered in Nature sections meeting the Nature Photography Definition above can have landscapes, geologic formations, weather phenomena, and extant organisms as the primary subject matter. This includes images taken with the subjects in controlled conditions, such as zoos, game farms, botanical gardens, aquariums and any enclosure where the subjects are totally dependent on man for food.

This category also include all wildlife - those animals living free and unrestrained in a natural or adopted habitat.

INELIGIBLE: The following are NOT eligible nature subjects; domestic animals, pets, mounted specimens, cultivated plants (flower gardens), floral arrangements, or any image in which humans and man-made objects appear, unless of archaeological significance, or the natural habitat of the species.

NOTE: Images with obvious colour manipulation are not acceptable.

DIGITAL TREATMENT: A photographer may perform minor digital enhancements, which improve the presentation of the image that could have been done at the time the image was taken, as well as those that are part of normal darkroom procedure, provided that it does not change the truth of the original nature story. Increasing saturation (similar to polarizing), cropping, dodging, burning, adjusting levels, sharpening, or adjusting digital noise, flipping (the equivalent to reversing a slide) are acceptable practices.

Not permitted is digital manipulation such as adding, removing, rearranging, cloning parts of the image or changing the image from how it appeared in nature by changing colour, texture, or contrast. Any manipulation or modification to the original image is limited to "minor" retouching of blemishes (dust spots on the sensor) and must not alter the content of the original scene. This rulelis based on the Honour System, if an altered image is entered "Choice" and the competitions director moves it to the Nature division, so be it.

(2) Pictorial: Those images that by their subject matter are deemed "non-nature". Portraits, people in action, architecture, vehicles, domesticated animals, horticulture and/or scenery with man-made objects as the main subject.

(3) Creative: Those images that represent an "altered reality" - through the use of in-camera techniques such as multiple or long exposure, infra-red, camera movement, intended blur, etc. Or alternatively, post production techiques using filters, plugins, composites and any other method of choice. Please read section regarding plagerised material.

(4) Choice: Enter a second image in any of the above categories, it will be placed in the appropriate category prior to judging.

7. The Helen D'Amico Memorial Competition (Bronze Members Only)

This competition is a sub competition within the Len Trumble Competition. The award was created to give Bronze members their own competition.

22. Judging (Back to Index)

All images submitted for the Len Trumble Competition and the end-of-year competitions will be distributed to judges for scoring. To improve scoring consistency all judges (internal or external) would be given a copy of the WCC Judging Guideline to help guide them to give a proper score.

To improve consistency in the scoring of the images presented during competitions, The Welland Camera Club asks that you follow this simple guideline when issuing a score.

We all like some topics more than others, but please do not allow this to be a major decision in selecting a score. Please score each image out of 10 based on the following guideline.

Scoring Guidelines

18-19 – WEAK, BELOW AVERAGE: An image would receive this score because the main subject is out of focus, the exposure is significantly under/over, or the image lacks composition.

20 - 23 – AVERAGE: The image is mostly in focus and generally properly exposed. The image has the elements of good composition but may lack in the handling of the composition elements. The effectiveness of the image is reduced because of mergers, distracting hot areas, improper cropping, off colour, or the colour harmony is off.

24 – 27 – ABOVE AVERAGE: All the main photographic elements exist. The image is properly focused and exposed, has good composition, handles colour well, has no mergers, contains no distracting hot areas and does not have large areas of wasted space.

28 – 30 – EXCEPTIONAL: Images that contain excellent lighting, NO technical flaws, and has visual impact. An image of this calibre should be expected to score well in any competition.

23. Plagiarism

(Back to Index)

Digital photography and the internet have made it very easy to acquire high quality images that individuals could present as their own work. Due to incidents of plagiarism at competitions run by the NFRCC and the George W. Glennie Memorial Nature Competition, these institutions have put in place a plagiarism policy along with many other clubs in the region.

As a result the Executive has drafted up a Plagiarism Policy that will cover the WCC in the unlikely event the situation should arise. This policy is as follows;

Images submitted to WCC competitions must be the sole work of the maker unless otherwise stated as a collaborative work where permitted. This includes any iamge considered to be a composite: parts of various images layered together. This also applies to the use of overlayus and artistic effect not created by the submitting member.

Images that receive high scores or have been recognized for their excellence may be subject to scrutiny by the Club Executive. Any available technology will be employed to verify the validity of the image submitted including a request from the Executive;

- for a copy of the original file from the camera,
- to produce the camera the image was produced on for examination,
- a copy of the editing file used in the production of the final image,

- and performing a web search for similar images.

Concerns brought forward to the Executive on the validity of any image presented to the WCC for competition will be taken seriously.

It is advised that all members keep safe any digital files that can be used to validate any image they intend to enter in club or affiliate organizations for competition. For composite images like HDR's and panoramas, the source images need to be available for scrutiny.

For digital files scanned from photographic material (slides or negatives), the original film material will be required for validation.

If an image cannot be conclusively demonstrated to be the maker's, it will be disqualified as not having been entered and any adjustments required will be made to the competition to make the proper awards.

Any member found guilty of submitting plagiarized material in part or in whole will be barred from all club competitions for a period of two years. Any subsequent violation will result in a lifetime ban on participating in any club competitions or having their images submitted as representing the club.

All decisions of the Welland Camera Club Executive shall be final.

24. Members Mini Shows (Back to Index)

Mini shows are to be submitted to the Competitions Director by the last meeting prior to the dinner. They can also be brought to the dinner if time is an issue.
