GOD THE GREAT COMMUNICATOR
Inside the Jacket

By Pastor Kevin Alexander

It is mind boggling that we are coming to the end and beginning of a decade, a century, and a millennium. There is much speculation and misinformation concerning the activities of God in the earth. Now, more than ever, we need the skill of being able to hear and perceive what is God's will, purpose, and plan for the Body of Christ and mankind at any given moment. We are grateful to the Lord in our Ministry because He has given us a covering of seeing and hearing. However, we have painfully learned that seeing and hearing is just not enough.

It is imperative that our hearts are pure and that our mindset is consistent with Scripture since we still only see in part and through a glass darkly. However, there is much that can be shared with us by God if we meet His conditions of true relationship.

True relationship can be defined as losing our life and seeking after the life that God has prepared for us.
As we maintain a pure heart before the Lord, we will "see" God (Matthew 5:8). We are told in Proverbs 25:2 that it is the glory of God to conceal a matter, but the glory of kings is to search out a matter.

The pursuit of becoming skilled at being able to receive communications from God in this time of human history will become the difference between life and death.

Spiritually, being able to hear God clearly will make the difference between growing and developing in God and being stagnated, and even possibly, backsliding. Physically our inability to hear God may mean walking into a situation or circumstance where we actually lose our lives. This would be fine if it is the will of God. However, many times we find ourselves in situations that were not the will of God, but our own will.

The crux of the matter is this: It is God's sovereign will to be able to lead and guide us by His Spirit. He has prophesied in His Word that the fullness of the deception of the enemy is going to be poured out in the last days.

I believe that we can all agree based upon Christ's description of the last days in Luke 21, Matthew 24, and other verses of Scripture, that we are in the Last Days. Thus, it behooves us to develop the ability through relationship with God to hear Him clearly.

It is for this Purpose that God is making this book available as the first of a quartet for the Body of Christ at this time.

My prayer is that you read it meditatively and seek the teaching of the Holy Spirit as you learn that God is the Great Communicator.

GOD, THE GREAT COMMUNICATOR
Publishing Notes

1. There are some sentences that are grammatically incorrect for impact. Also, please note that the term "man" is used to refer to mankind in most instances.

2. I am not giving extensive examples because there is not just one thing that is being communicated. The purpose is that the reader understands the method and seeks God for an understanding of what He is communicating at any given point in time.

3. When referring to the true, living Body of Christ, we have used Church with a capital "C". However, when referring to organizations where the presence of the Holy Spirit is quenched, we have used church with a lower case "c".

4. The King James Version of the Bible was used for all direct quotes, which will be in italics. Paraphrased Scripture is in quotation marks and is not italicized.

FOREWORD

Signs and wonders are a key way in which God communicates, confirms, and bears witness of His presence. So often, signs and wonders are understood solely in the context of the gifts of healing or the working of miracles. While I am pleased and get excited at God moving in the gifts of healings and the working of miracles, I believe that we are in a day when the signs and wonders of God will be poured out in various ways through His Body. In Scripture we see such things as Moses raising His staff and opening up the Red Sea. We see Joshua speaking to the sun and the moon to stand still. And we see Elijah calling fire down from Heaven. I believe that the time has come for God to demonstrate Himself in very similar ways, and in other ways that are not as dramatic, but show the hand of God.

It was under these circumstances that I am writing this quartet of books. Through the seer of our ministry, Pam Kline, God gave a dream that showed me dictating boos and Pam typing. In this dream, the presence of God was awesome and the Spirit was flowing through me and communicating precious Truths that He wants to be proclaimed to His people. Several years ago, the Lord had spoken to me concerning writing, but I knew I had to wait on the timing of God so that the Spiritual Fruit that He desired could be produced. The quartet of books, God, the Great Communicator; Seeing and Hearing; The Language of the Spirit; and Fellowshipping the Spirit; along with a fifth book, The Restoration of the Temple, were dictated and written over a three-week period. The presence of God and the revelation of God was intense over this time period.

The Lord's presence was manifested mightily to confirm and sanction the content of these books and that He is the One that is directing them to be written and the content that they contain. This was a tremendous sign and wonder – to see God at work in this way. I submit these works to you in hopes that the Lord will speak to you by His Spirit and grant you to know Him. Five books over the period of three weeks is a tremendous task. However, the Lord made this a labor of love. My prayer is that the fullness of God will be manifested in your life, and that the Person of the Holy Spirit will be revealed to you in depths that you have not known. I submit these works to you, the Family of the Most High God.

DEDICATION

To my wife-partner, Carmen, who has gone through the preparation process with me to see God's promises manifested in our lives.

To Patricia Williams and Linda Maupin for their proofing and editing the five manuscripts on such short notice.

To the Kingdom of God Church family for their patience, support, and sacrifice during three and one-half weeks of almost total seclusion to write the books.

To my Grandmother, Christine Alexander, who is with the Lord, and my Mother, Bessie Alexander, who sowed the seeds of prayer over my life when I did not know God.

And most importantly to my Lord I give thanks, I pray that I have been faithful to You in carrying out Your will. Bless You, Lord!

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of KAM is to reveal the purpose, plan, and will of God for mankind. We are commissioned by God to identify, mature, and prepare the Bride of Christ for the coming of her Bridegroom, Yeshua! Our mandate is to communicate the Father's ultimate intention for man, which is the attainment of the measure of the stature of Christ's fullness (Ephesians 4). To accomplish this, we preach Christ and Him crucified (1 Corinthians 2)

We believe that the greatest witness of the reality, power, authority, and love of God is demonstrated by a transformed life into Christ-likeness. We have committed to Him to use whatever means He desires: radio, television, books, newsletters, the Internet, etc., to fulfill His will in the earth. We believe that the greatest weapon of God is the demonstration of His love to mankind.

Our goal is to be used by the Lord to assist in the manifestation of the unity of the Spirit in the Body of Christ.

READING NOTES

This book is designed so that the reader can use it as a daily meditation to learn to become skillful in the ways that God communicates with mankind. As you read this book, please ask the Holy Spirit to reveal His understanding to you.

Chapter 1
The WORD

God, Who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son, Whom He hath appointed Heir of all things, by Whom also He made the worlds; Who being the brightness of His glory, and the express image of His person, and upholding all things by the Word of His power, when He had by Himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high; being made so much better than the angels, as He hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they."

"For unto which of the angels said He at any time, Thou art My Son, this day have I begotten Thee? And again, I will be to Him a Father, and He shall be to Me a Son? And again, when He bringeth in the First Begotten into the world, He saith, and let all the angels of God worship Him. And of the angels He saith, Who maketh His angels spirits, and His ministers a flame of fire. But unto the Son, He saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever; a scepter of righteousness is the scepter of Thy Kingdom. Thou has loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even Thy God, hath anointed Thee with the oil of gladness above Thy fellows. And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning has laid the foundations of the earth; and the Heavens are the works of Thine hands: They shall perish; but Thou remainest; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment; And as a vesture shalt Thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but Thou art the same, and Thy years shall not fail. But to which of the angels said He at any time, Sit on My right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?"

—Hebrews 1:1-13

The Heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth His handiwork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night showeth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard. Their line is gone out through all the earth and their words to the end of the world. In them hath He set a tabernacle for the sun, which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race. His going forth is from the end of the Heaven, and His circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb. Moreover by them is Thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

Who can understand his errors? Cleanse Thou me from secret faults. Keep back Thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression. Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

—Psalm 19:1-14

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made. In Him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

—John 1:1-5

It is obvious from these Scriptures that God's desire is to communicate Himself to mankind. In Hebrews the first chapter we receive the witness that God has spoken to mankind in times past by the prophets. God specifically chose men and women of various backgrounds, circumstances, experiences, personalities, etc., to be His mouthpiece, to speak His Word, and to proclaim His message. These men and women communicated the mind, will, emotions, and heart of the True and Living God. They were witnesses to the people of God's desire for their lives.

Think of it! God gracing man, endowing man, partnering with man, choosing man to communicate His will—the eternal God, communicating His Word through temporal man. Look at people like Moses, study characters like Elijah, meditate on people like Isaiah, and you will begin to comprehend God's ultimate desire to communicate to people Who He is. The zenith of God's communication to mankind was Christ Himself, the Son, and the First Begotten. In times past, God has spoken to the fathers—our fathers–by the prophets; but in our day, in our time, He has spoken to us by the Son. So often when we read the Scripture, we think of Christ's coming in the flesh. Let me suggest to you that it is Christ's coming in the flesh that is emphasized here, but it is through the coming of Christ in a corporate Body of Believers by His Spirit that God speaks to mankind.

Christ is called the First Begotten of God. Understand, He is the First Begotten of many brethren. He was the seed that was sown for God to reap a family of sons and daughters in His image and after His likeness. God not only desired to communicate words, but to communicate Himself—the Word—to men and women. This communication is not limited to speaking, but the impartation of the Life of God into jars of clay, transforming the jars of clay into a Temple made without hands, holy, magnificent, filled with God by the Holy Spirit.

John, the first chapter, reveals to us the very character of God. God is a God of communication. In His preincarnate state, Yeshua was called the Word. How much more clearly can God reveal His nature to communicate than to name Himself the Word? And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth (John 1:14).

Yeshua said in the Scriptures that when we see Him, we see the Father. The Bible lets us know in Colossians that it pleased God that the fullness of the Godhead would dwell in Christ bodily. Think about this. The fullness of the Godhead dwelling in Christ. The Bible lets us know that we are His Body. If we are His Body, then it pleases God for the fullness of the Godhead to dwell in the many-membered Body of Christ bodily. This is beyond our current teaching, doctrine, and theology, but a revelation that God is bringing to His people in this time.

Rick Joyner, in his book, FINAL QUEST, speaks about the powers of the age to come. This is walking in that power. It may look like we will never get there, that it is impossible for man, but all things are possible unto God.

God desires for us to walk in total unity, total revelation, and total communion with Him and each other by His Spirit. This is His design, this is His plan from the beginning. The Bride of Christ will be those who walk in this experientially. The Lord shared with me a couple of years ago, that as the Day of the Coming of the Lord approaches, He will allow His servants to take excursions into Heaven and bring back a timely message to prepare the Bride of Christ for the time of His visitation.

In order to entrust us with this level of revelation, God has to prove, to test, His people and conform us into the image of His Son. His ultimate intention is to replicate, duplicate, and create more christs. Our current theology is so self-centered and so man-centered that we can't believe that this is possible, but it is His intention. He is sending out a clarion call to those who have an ear to hear what the Spirit is saying to the Churches. What our apostolic forefathers modeled and experienced was the beginnings of this. Paul revealed in Ephesians, the fourth chapter, that God's goal is to bring us to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ. This can and will be accomplished by God endowing us with a measure of His Spirit that mankind has not yet experienced.

God has gone through pains-taking efforts to even communicate to us through the natural creation. As we just read, the Heavens declare the glory of God. God has so created the Heavens and His natural creation that when we approach this creation with a pure heart, it proclaims resoundingly GOD! This language, communicated by creation, is above every human language. As it says in Psalm 19, there is no speech or language where their voice (the Heavens and the firmament) is not heard.

Paul says in the first chapter of Romans that men are without excuse because God's physical creation speaks clearly of the invisible God. Many Christians today do believe that God speaks, but have not developed an intimate relationship with God whereby there is consistent communication from God to them. Much of our communication with God is us speaking to Him in prayer, making petitions, asking for our desires. God desires to teach us how to be quiet and listen to His voice. We need to learn the various ways that God speaks, or more accurately, communicates His purpose, plan, and will for Himself to and through us.

God is speaking. God is speaking. God is speaking*! Shall we have an ear to hear? The Great Communicator is communicating to us. Shall we be open to receive? In the following chapters, we will look at the ways God speaks. This book is not designed to be an exhaustive list, but as a beginning to make us aware of the divers ways in which God communicates. I ask that you read it meditatively, openly, and asking for the guidance and leading of His precious Spirit Who has been given unto us to teach us all things. May God richly bless your study of Him, the Great Communicator.
