Sylvania, GA – State Senator Max Burns announced today that he will be seeking reelection for a 3rd term to Georgia’s 23rd State Senate District. “Today, I am announcing that I will seek reelection to Georgia’s 23rd State Senate District. While we have had redistricting of the State Senate maps since the last election, the 23rd Senate District makeup is not changing. I am committed to serving the citizens of the 23rd State Senate District. Conservative values in Georgia, and the United States as a whole, are under attack, and we must support and protect Georgia’s economy, education, public safety, religious freedoms, and election integrity. I have a proven conservative track record of results, and I look forward to continuing to serve our communities in the 23rd District and provide leadership for Georgia in the State Senate.”

The Republican Primary Election Date is May 21, 2024.

The General Election Date is November 5, 2024.

The 23rd Senate District is made up of Burke, Columbia (portions), Emanuel, Glascock, Jefferson, Jenkins, McDuffie, Richmond (portions), Screven, Taliferro, and Warren counties.
