Owners Matt and Tiffany Johns

Cindi's House is in a quiet, rural area in Charlestown, Indiana. Just outside of city limits, our home is a peaceful and welcoming place for men to receive the support need as they learn a new way of life. Cindi's House allows the perfect balance of rural living, with ease of access to what the City of Charlestown has to offer.

"DESPITE OUR PAST, WE CAN AND DO RECOVER"

LIVING IN A NEW WORLD

Learning skills to navigate everyday life in a way that is supported by a 12-step program. Utilizing sponsorship and healthy support to become functional members of society.

"Cindi Johns had the biggest heart and cared for anyone that crossed her path. Her door was always open, no questions asked. If you were hungry, she would feed you and if you were lost, she would stay with you until you were found."

- TIFFANY JOHNS

Large gathering areas throughout the home allow for group activities, meals, and more.

ONE TEAM, ONE DREAM

Our team is made up of qualified professionals with years of personal experience and knowledge of recovery. We partner with Recovery Centers, Case Workers, and skilled trades to help provide the foundation that is needed for successful recovery. We have partnerships with trusted professionals throughout the Clark, Floyd, and Scott counties.
