

Fellow learning leaders,

Um, Wow. My phone and email are BLOWING up with over-the-top insanely positive feedback and reactions to today's session!

"He got FIRED UP!" "It got REAL!" "How do you keep outdoing yourself?" "Great discussion." "I feel empowered to make things happen!"

THIS. This was an authentic conversation! As predicted, Admiral Richardson walked his talk, and not only told us why and how to have authentic conversations, he moderated one himself! And he called on ALL OF US to be moderators of authentic conversations in our OWN work and life spaces.

Yes!

Link to session is here (Fast forward for four minutes between 25:20 and 29:40—I should have paused the recording when we went to breakout rooms. Yep, a real RISK of being a moderator means sometimes having to publicly admit mistakes. My mistake! I can only hope you'll find the recording absolutely worth the inconvenience!)

The session started with this song, which ADM Richardson specifically chose to kick things off!

Lean On, friends!
