
Right Place, Right Time, And..?

It’s all about being at the right place at the right time.

Or is it?

Listen here as LT Andrea Howard thoughtfully reflects on major cultural changes that have taken place during her career so far, with refreshing candor and wit!

Her stories show us that being at the right place at the right time were only the first two, of three steps. She compares her “lucky duck” moments to the historical events of that sweep up Forrest Gump, and his memorable reaction in those moments.

When Andrea found herself as a newly welcomed outsider inside various “clubs," she banded with others and shared strategies and encouragement so together, they could thoughtfully embark on that all-important step three of successfully shepherding cultural change: making the right investments.

What are the right places, the right times, and the right investments for integrating women officers in submarines? For integrating women enlisted in submarines? For repealing Don’t Ask Don’t Tell? Listen to Andrea’s story, and listen to the audience interact with their reactions to her story, so we can ALL learn!

Lean On, friends!

Emily Bassett, CAPT, USN