Protect yourself and your family

Did you know that families are more likely to experience identity theft than individuals?

And when they do experience fraud, it takes families two times longer to resolve the issue. Plus, the costs that families incur as a result of fraud are three times higher.[2] Our Family Plan provides coverage for kids and teens of all ages, allowing you to better protect your children's future and give them a safe head start. If they are dependent on you financially or live under your roof, they're covered.*

It's easy to get started:

We'll begin monitoring for threats against your identity, and you'll be eligible for restoration and reimbursement if identity theft occurs, with no additional setup required.
