The Shedd Way

Use the following list, respective to the appropriate week to practice the behaviors your dog has learned. Each week this list will change and have new behaviors add to it. The Shedd Way is a great way to practice already learned behaviors. It allows the dog to perform multiple behaviors and not have to do the same behavior over and over. When practicing with your dog, changing up from working on only one behavior to working on many known behaviors helps solidify the behaviors. It is also a great way to help reduce frustration by your dog when learning new behaviors. Once your dog has learned a new behavior and you are practicing the new behavior, adding in requests to do other already know behaviors keeps the dog thinking, from getting bored and technically uses the known highly reinforced behaviors as a reward for doing the new behavior. We start incorporating The Shedd Way at Week 3 in our training process. Use the following lists, respective to the appropriate week, for warming up for a practice session, for quick practice sessions, and to solidify learned behaviors.

Week 3	Week 4	Week 5
10 treats in hand 1. Sit-Release CT 2. Sit-Release CT 3. Down-Release CT 4. Touch Nose to Target CT 5. Down-Release CT 6. Sit-Release CT 7. Touch Nose to Target CT 8. Touch Nose to Target CT 9. Down-Release CT 10. Sit-Touch-Down-Release CT Repeat Again - (Get out 10 more treats) CT = Click Treat	10 treats in hand 1. Touch to Stationary Target CT 2. Touch to Moving Target CT 3. Sit-Wait-Release CT 4. Down-Leave-it-Release CT 5. Leave-it-drop treat CT 6. Sit-Wait-Release CT 7. Sit-Down-Touch-Release CT 8. Touch to Moving Target CT 9. Sit-Down-Wait-Release CT 10. Sit-Down-Touch-Release CT Repeat Again - (Get out 10 more treats)	10 treats in hand 1. Nose Touch to Target CT 2. Nose Touch to Moving Target CT 3. Leave-it-drop treat CT 4. Sit-Down-Release CT 5. Sit-Wait-Release CT 6. Go to Mat-Sit-Release CT 7. Go to Mat-Down-Release CT 8. Sit-Down-Nose Touch CT 9. Down-Wait-Release CT 10. Leave-it - Take-it Repeat Again - (Get out 10 more treats)

Clever Paws & Robyn Walters, All rights reserved