IMPORTANT OUTING NEWS

Our main base of operations for this outing will be at Port Renfrew, where we will be staying for 3 nights. Port Renfrew is a small community with a limited amount of accommodation. For this reason, accommodation bookings will need to be done soon – before the end of December. The lodging that has been chosen is the Wild Coast Wilderness Resort. There is also camping available in Port Renfrew although the earliest that this can be booked is 90 days before arrival. If there is sufficient interest in camping, a group site reservation may be made. There is a lot of interest from Club members for this outing and, as the Resort is limited in size and types of accommodation, we encourage those planning to attend to share the lodging with your friends – this will ensure that we will have a room for everyone that wants one. It will also keep your costs down! As we have done for previous extended outings, an email distribution list will be created for those that are interested in attending this outing. Please let Bob Johnson know (vpcoutings@yahoo.com) if you (and your partner) are planning to attend this trip. Please indicate if you will be looking at a stay in the Resort or if you will be camping. If you would like to carpool with someone or can offer ride space to someone from the Okanagan, please indicate that also in your response – we will try to connect the travelers. As the online booking at the Wild Coast Wilderness Resort may be a little confusing, we will forward you the booking instructions. We will also forward the booking instructions for the camping later, as the date for booking availability gets closer. In Cowichan Bay, the accommodation will be at the Wessex Inn. The contact information for this lodging will be included in the booking instructions. There is camping available in the Cowichan River area.
