Petition for Child Custody and Support

The Parties

This Petition is for a parent to ask the court for an order for custody and child support when there is already a legal finding determining who is the father of the minor child(ren). A legal finding of paternity may be a court judgment or an acknowledgment of paternity, which is an affidavit signed by the parents to get the father's name on a child's birth certificate. Genetic (DNA) testing or an administrative child support order done by the Family Support Division are not legal findings of paternity.

If there is no legal finding of paternity, the Petitioner must file a petition asking for a paternity judgment. If the parties already have a court judgment that decided paternity, support and/or custody, the Petitioner must file a motion to modify. These forms are different from the Petition for Child Custody and Support, but are also available on selfrepresent.mo.gov.

Throughout this case you will always be referred to as the Petitioner. The other parent will be referred to as the Respondent.
