Did You Know?...

The longest distance ever ridden on a motorcycle in 24 hours was 3256.5 km. Matthew McKelvey set this Guinness World Record in 2014 while riding in South Africa.

The median age of a biker in the US is 50 and a whopping 39% of motorcycle owners are between the ages of 51 and 69. Whatever your age, you can hop on a bike and ride into the sunset, no problem!

The first ever Harley-Davidson motorcycle only went 40km/hr. It had a single-cylinder engine that actually used a tomato can as its carburetor.
