Roswell
Hi. When I awake from a dream I feel real disappointed because the dream ended. My dreams always have me in one of my TV shows that I love, like Roswell. I am always there with my magic and helping people and their difficulties. Still there's always love. Friendship-love nothing and a little more, but nothing really heavy, just romantic. There used to be a guy who came in my dream whenever I was sad. He carried three roses with him. One red, one white and one pink. He always made everything okay. I never understood any of these dreams. Hopefully you can help me.
Thanks, Honey

Hi Honey,
Dreams can serve as an escape from your waking life. I must admit that I have never watched the show Roswell, but generally speaking, television shows are another form of escape from reality. And in particular with Roswell, a show about alien teens (correct me if I am wrong), further suggests your retreat into a fantasy world. Your dreams indicate that you are idealistic and optimistic. You like to look at the positive side of things. Your dreams may be in contrast to the situations you are faced with in your waking life. And thus they may serve as a reminder about the importance of love (red rose), friendship (pink rose), and peace (white rose).

Bear In A Field
I only remember parts of this dream. I am in a field. It is peaceful and green and I can see trees off in the distance. All of the sudden, there is a brown bear and I run. He is close behind me and I hop over a barbed wire fence and run for the trees. Then I am suddenly at some meeting in a shopping mall that has pink stucco walls.
Thank You, Carolyn

Hi Carolyn,
Chase dreams are quite common and often reflect a situation that you are afraid in confronting. The bear is symbolic of introspection and self-reflection. In mythology, it also refers to the great mother figure. The green fields indicates your hopes and your unlimited potential for growth. The fence is obviously an obstacle that you overcome and is a reflection of your determination and will. I think the bear is chasing you not to attack you, but to push you away. It is no coincidence that you run toward the trees. The trees are significant for they are a symbol of self-development and individuality. Your mother may be pushing you to explore the world on your own and become your own person. At the end of your dream, you suddenly found yourself in a meeting. The meeting reiterates again how you need to redirect your energies in a more productive manner.
Best Regards, Steve

Aries - Your January Monthly Forecast: Mars now slips slowly towards a conjunction with Jupiter. That's traditionally an energising influence that bestows strength and stamina. You can always make things happen when you want to, but they don't always work out to your advantage. Sometimes, you spend half your life initiating events, and the other half dealing with the unwanted consequences! Yet, as Jupiter and Mars also form a harmonious alignment to the Sun, this month, you can make the right things happen. Start as you mean to go on.

Taurus - Your January Monthly Forecast: Our reasons for entering into relationships are complicated. Sometimes, rather than face our fears, we choose to share our lives with other people, and lull ourselves into a sense of contentment. But, it's only a short-term fix. Inner demons make themselves heard no matter how much we ignore them. January will bring a moment that forces you to take a good look at what you're learning from a close attachment. The news, though, will be encouraging. Your demons are not as scary as you think!

Gemini - Your January Monthly Forecast: We're surrounded by surprises. Joyous moments, and delightful events wait around every corner. Positive, helpful energy is always at hand. With so much to look forward to, it's almost impossible to take it all in. Why, then, does life sometimes feel so empty? When Mars forms a conjunction to Jupiter this month, its energy is amplified. As it moves opposite Gemini, you may feel yourself growing surprisingly impatient with someone. As your ruler changes signs, perspective is within easy reach.

Cancer - Your January Monthly Forecast: A Full Moon in your sign would usually be the highlight of your outlook. But not this month! As January sees your ruler form a strong, supportive astrological kite, it will help you re-energise your key relationships. Then, since the second, 'blue' Full Moon of the month is a Lunar Eclipse, it brings the realisation of the gifts and skills you have at your disposal. While you've been working hard to understand what makes someone happy, you've been discovering your own needs. Now's the time to start fulfilling them.

Leo - Your January Monthly Forecast: Have you got a favourite football team? Or a sportsperson you like and support? When we care about something more than another, loyalty colours our thinking, and our subjectivity goes out of the window. That's just the way of life. But, it's valuable to keep this in mind, and important to be open to alternative points of view. January offers an opportunity to gain insight into the other side of an issue. It won't turn your world upside down, but it will change how you see your place in it.

Virgo - Your January Monthly Forecast: Would you mind doing something? Place your hands on either side of your head? Now, please move them forwards, keeping them the same width apart, so that you can see them? That's the size of the space that your brain fits into! All your thoughts, ideas, worries, hopes, passions and imaginings happen in that small area. It makes you think! How can anything be bigger than you when you're more complex than the most powerful computer? You have the ability to change your world.

Libra - Your January Monthly Forecast: Optimism is a precious commodity. If you listened to the pundits, or watched the news, you'd think it should be stored in a bottle, gathering dust on a top shelf. Feeling positive about 2018 is not a popular sentiment. How can anyone be hopeful in such uncertain times? But, change is just a part of life. And its very nature is unsettling. It's not, though, a reason to fear. Your bottled up optimism is ready to be savoured. It might not contain stability. But it holds joy.

Scorpio - Your January Monthly Forecast: As Mars and Jupiter combine in your sign, your feet are growing itchy. With Mars' energy, combining with Jupiter's spirit of adventure, it's no surprise. But as the Sun, Venus and Pluto exert their influence, you'll have to do more than just throw a dart at a map and set off before packing your suitcase. The cosmos is granting you strength to go it alone, but it hasn't given you licence to abandon ship. Ensure your exploits lead you to the right destination; make sure that they're properly thought through.

Sagittarius - Your January Monthly Forecast: Unlike most of us, the more frenetic a situation, the more effective you are. When you're excited you get creative. Your energy makes things happen. You find the courage to make difficult decisions, plus the determination to implement them. But, though you are stunningly effective, are you really at your best? As Mars, on its way into your sign this month, conjuncts Jupiter, rather than wondering what will work, consider what would be most worthwhile. You can make a difference.

Capricorn - Your January Monthly Forecast: The Sun converges with Pluto in Capricorn this month. It has done this annually since 2008, and will continue to do so until 2025. But it's the first time your ruler has also been in your sign. And the first time Venus has been involved. So, expecting this January to follow a familiar pattern would be to ignore the opportunities available. I'm reminded of the lyrics of a certain Frankie, who went to Hollywood: 'The power of love, a force from above'. But it's the love hidden within you that's your greatest strength.

Aquarius - Your January Monthly Forecast: I often misremember the opening of Blue Moon, by Rodgers and Hart. 'You saw me...' becomes: 'I saw you... standing alone'. But that's silly - the definition of a Blue Moon is that it's twinned with another Full Moon, in the same month. And with January's Blue Moon, (also an Eclipse), arriving opposite your sign, there's a strong chance that 'standing alone' isn't something you'll be doing.

Pisces - Your January Monthly Forecast: Contrary to popular belief, logic is not the best way to form an opinion. Our views are shaped by our emotions and experiences. Our hopes and fears, and our loyalties and sympathies, all have a contribution to make to our way of looking at the world. Not even the most analytical academic believes that objective thinking is the only way. You owe it to yourself to access your objectivity this coming month. As Mars combines with Jupiter, if you open up to a fresh perspective, you'll add another string to your mighty bow.
