back to the horizon.
Note convergence of all lines of the o.c.v. (centre of vision or eye). Notice and direction of the shadows which indicate that the sun is fairly low, on the right, of the spectator.
Exemplification of the law of reflection the angle of incidence is equal to the angle of reflection": in other words, there is the exact reverse of the object appearing reflection. Apply this as here depicted ing

object as in last case.
VIII. Example of artificial the ground lines radiate from a center exactly below the source of light on the ground itself—not the horizon—just as tho the foot of the lamp-post. Having dr radiating lines on the ground, carry co lines away from the light to
