MORE ABOUT CUTHBERTS TRAM

Cuthbert's Tram 939 was built in 1948 at the Preston Workshops in Melbourne, as an SW6 class tram.

In 1994 the tram was extensively modified for use as the third restaurant car in Melbourne.

It was retired in May 2012.

Air conditioned and heated for total comfort, with one-way glass windows for your privacy. The tram is fitted with stabilizers to make it a smooth ride.

The tram was purchased by the Ballarat Tramway Museum, and restored with a grant from the Victorian Government as part of the Transport Investing in Regions Program.

The tram began service in Ballarat in April 2016 as "Cuthbert's 939", named for Sir Henry Cuthbert, first Chairman of the Ballarat Tramway Company.
