Joshiah: Well, now. Well, it is indeed a pleasure to be invited back into your vibrational level, once again, and we would like to take the opportunity to express to each of you our greetings, and as well, to express our gratitude for you, once again, offering us this opportunity to enter into and to share with each of you in your vibrational level.

Now. Before we begin this evening we would like to suggest that there exists for each of you the opportunity to be involved in what we refer to as a silent communication, a telepathic interaction, if you wish, with other entities that would be with us on this evening, or indeed that portion that you might refer to as your higher self, or indeed any other particular entity that you may feel you would like to interact and to share with. You will find, that as a result of the energy that you have created in this sacred space that it's quite easy for you to alter your consciousness. You will find if you just close your eyes and express the intent that you will indeed have that opportunity to enter into a meditative state and in that altered state of consciousness have that opportunity to interact in what we might refer to as a telepathic exchange of information.

Now. As always, that exchange of information at that telepathic level many times is much more accurate and much more pertinent to your individual needs and desires than is the information that we would express through our friend Elias, and indeed, through the use of this vocabulary, which at times can be quite limiting in an attempt to give an expression of a concept or of an idea.

And so, once again, we would encourage you to enter into that meditative state, should you choose to do so, and as always, the choice is yours, absolutely.

Now. We will begin with a very simple and basic message. It will be a simple and basic message indeed, which is the foundation of this reality that you experience and you exist in. For us to give you other information indeed can be quite entertaining but the bottom line, if you wish, is the simple truth of this reality that you exist in and create in, of this reality that you exist in. You exist in, for lack of a better term, what we refer to as a vibrational level. You could call it a level of existence or a plane of existence, it doesn't really matter. You exist in what we refer to, once again, as a vibrational level. And we use the term vibrational level because it allows us to use an analogy that can be indeed very descriptive and very accurate analogy of the type of reality, not only that you exist in but that all of the entities in all of creation exist in.

You exist in a vibrational level in which while you are in your awake and consciousness state is, for lack of a better term as well, illusionary. Time and space only exist in your awake consciousness state. They're illusionary. Doesn't mean they're not important, it doesn't mean they don't have any significance. It doesn't mean that they [aren't] indeed valuable tools in your creation process and in your creating that which you desire. Absolutely not. But nonetheless, they exist only in your awake consciousness state.

In your altered states of consciousness, be that in a meditative state or in a dream state or what you might refer to as a between incarnational state, it doesn't really matter, in your altered states of consciousness you have the opportunity to get glimpses of an understanding of what it is to exist without time and space. But nonetheless, time and space are illusionary realities that exist in your awake consciousness state. In this vibrational level, once again, time and space are illusions. You exist in a vibrational level that exists within the same time and the same space of all the vibrational levels throughout all of creation.

It is a very good analogy to give you some type of an example of that concept so that you can grasp it. You understand absolutely that there exists within your atmosphere a multitude of what you refer to as radio waves or radio frequencies, air waves. They exist within the same time and the same space. You understand that, absolutely. You also understand that it's within your capacity to use some type of an apparatus to tap into particular and separate individual wavelengths or radio waves and to have those particular wavelengths or radio waves transmitted through that apparatus while eliminating all of the other radio waves or radio frequencies that exist within the same time and the same space.

So it is that this vibrational level that you exist in exists within the same time and the same space as all of the other vibrational levels. Time and space are illusions [that] only exist in your awake consciousness state.

And so this vibrational level that you exist in is quite similar to the other vibrational levels throughout all of creation. Similar in many aspects, and yet it has some very distinct differences. You see, in your vibrational level you put in place what we refer to as a veil. And we use that terminology simply because it's something that individuals in this New Age movement have coined as being a phrase that you can get a grasp of and an understanding, like it's a veil that limits your capacity to understand who and what you truly are in your awake and consciousness state.

You put in place in this vibrational level a veil, an electromagnetic type of energy that exists throughout each and every atom of your entire universe. This particular electromagnetic type of energy has two basic concepts, if you wish, two basic purposes quite similar and yet unique in that specific purpose of what [you] put in place, that electromagnetic [path] of energy, in an attempt to achieve. And the first is, within this vibrational level that electromagnetic type of energy limits your capacity to understand who and what you truly are. In your vibrational level, regardless of the level of consciousness that you exist at, you may [turn] to a certain extent that vibrational level type of magnetic energy that limits your capacity to understand who and what you truly are. Even in your dream states and in your so-called between incarnational states and in your meditative state, you limit that capacity to have a total understanding of the concept of who and what you truly are. That's the first purpose that you put that electromagnetic type of energy, that veil, in place for.

It has another rather unique purpose. And that is, that it also limits the capacity of other entities that exist outside of your vibrational level any type of capacity to interfere in your creation process within your vibrational level. In other words, entities existing outside of your vibrational level, if they wish to interact in your vibrational level, enter into the vibrational level and exist within the limitations of the veil, within the limitations of that electromagnetic type of energy and it limits anyone existing outside of your vibrational level to create or to influence the creation within your vibrational level.

You see, there are many who would believe that there are these entities who exist outside of your vibrational level, who exist outside of your reality, if you wish, and they influence your creation, these entities that have an influence upon what it is that you're experiencing. Well, it's really not that way. There are no entities existing outside of your vibrational level that influence or create your reality for you. Absolutely not. You, through a choice, put in place an electromagnetic type of energy, a veil, that limits entities existing outside of your vibrational level the capacity to do so. It's really that simple. There are no entities existing outside of your vibrational level that influence or create your reality for you.

The irony of it is that there are no entities existing outside of your vibrational level that have any desire to create your reality for you. There are many entities who may be interested, but slightly interested. For you see, if you are truly interested in being involved in your vibrational level then you simply enter into it. But when you enter into it, you as well join what we refer to as a human consciousness concept, an agreement that you will exist within the limitations of the veil.

And so you have in place this electromagnetic type of energy that limits your capacity to understand who and what you truly are in all your levels of consciousness, be it in your awake consciousness, in your meditative states, if you wish, in altered states of consciousness, in your day-dreaming states, in your dreams states, and even in your between incarnational states. The electromagnetic type of energy, the veil exists. There are varying degrees of that [maintenance] of the veil, but nonetheless it exists. It exists throughout your entire universe. It exists throughout your entire vibrational level. Absolutely.

And so you exist within, once again, what we refer to as a vibrational level. And in that vibrational level, you as the entities existing within that vibrational level have chosen to put in place an electromagnetic type of energy that limits your capacity to understand who and what you truly are, limits your capacity to understand your creation process, and limits the capacity of others existing outside of your vibrational level to have the opportunity or indeed the capacity to influence and to create in your vibrational level.

Now. If that's the case, then it begs the question, how do you create this reality that you exist in? Well, the answer is very simple. It's so simple that it's disarming. You create the reality that you experience. Absolutely. The reality that you experience is a reflection of beliefs that you hold. The reality you experience is a reflection of the beliefs you hold.

In your awake consciousness state you, once again, put in place that veil that limits your capacity to understand who and what you truly are. And you enter into this vibrational level for a very simple reason. And that reason is to have the capacity to create in a state of existence, in a state of consciousness, if you wish, where you don't understand that you are indeed the creator. And as a result of creating this reality you have the capacity to experience a broad range of emotions and feelings that's not possible and not duplicated in any other vibrational level throughout all of creation. That's why you're here. It's alarmingly simple and yet it is the crux of why you entered into this vibrational level and why you choose to remain in this vibrational level.

We've been telling each of you to look at any particular activity that you're involved in and to break it down to the basis of what it is that you're attempting to achieve. And somewhere, as you're breaking it down and attempting to understand what the basis is that you're attempting to achieve, you'll come to the realization that you're involved in a particular activity or you're involved in a particular creation process for the purposes of creating the opportunity to experience a certain emotion and feeling. It all comes down to emotions and feelings. And so the reality that you experience is a reflection of the beliefs that you hold.

Now. In your awake consciousness state, where you don't understand that it's your creation process, when you don't hold that concept, when there's always that doubt, and so there's also that electromagnetic veil that you put in place, that becomes a very difficult concept to grasp, that the reality you experience is a reflection of the belief that you hold. For you see, in that awake consciousness state there's a tendency to believe that the beliefs that you have are as a result of experiences that you have had in your so-called awake consciousness state. In other words, you hold the concept that you have an experience and as a result of that experience you form a belief. Well, we would suggest it's not that way at all. We would suggest that it's the other way around, that you hold the belief, and as a result of the belief, you create the reality to validate the belief.

As a result of the belief you create a reality to validate the belief. And that again becomes a very difficult concept to grasp. For you see, to grasp that concept is to also accept total responsibility for the reality that you experience. Total responsibility. And that can be very difficult, absolutely. For you see, in your awake consciousness state you begin to dwell upon, "Well, what did I do to create this reality? Where did I get that belief?" The experience that you have in your awake consciousness state is but a minute part of who and what you truly are. In other levels of consciousness you put in place, you choose belief systems to influence this reality.

Now. We can give you examples in order for it to have some type of validity in a concept that you can grasp we would use your reference in time and space. But understand, that time and space only exist in your awake consciousness state; they're illusions, they're not real. Not to suggest they're not important, but they're not real. They're illusionary. But nonetheless, allow us to use that reference to time and space in order to give you some idea of the concept of this choosing and putting in place your belief systems that influence the reality that you experience.

First of all you have what we refer to as the human consciousness belief system. When you enter into this vibrational level you agree to participate and to put in place and to exist within the limitations of certain human consciousness belief systems, what your scientists might refer to as laws of physics. You agree to put in place this belief system in time and space. You agree to hold these human consciousness belief systems that it's necessary for you to have certain type of sustenance in order for you to continue to exist. And you can go along and use various examples of your so-called laws of physics that we refer to as the human consciousness belief system.

The human consciousness belief system says there will be time. The human consciousness belief system says there will be a night and a day and that you will live, exist upon a sphere that indeed circles another sphere and there's all of this universe that has a balance. You agree as a human consciousness to put that in place. And so this human consciousness belief system [affects] your whole universe and indeed affects you in your particular day-to-day activities and it becomes very difficult for you to step outside of the human consciousness belief system.

And then you have what we refer to as the societal belief systems. You understand that around this Earth sphere there are multitudes of societies and these societies hold very different belief systems. And depending upon which society you exist in, you agree, to a certain extent to operate within the limitations of the belief systems of that society. Now, it's much easier for you to alter the societal belief systems than it is to alter the human consciousness belief systems. But still, you agree to a certain extent to exist within the so-called societal belief systems. They give you order; they give you the capacity to exist and to coexist with others in certain accepted concepts that you agree to facilitate and to put in place and to validate.

And then you have what we refer to as the individual or the personal belief systems, the belief systems that you put in place through your choice to experience certain emotions and feelings. And it's these individual belief systems that are the easiest for you to alter. Absolutely.

Now. The reality that you experience in your day-to-day activities is a combination of these particular belief systems. And so, you have the human consciousness belief system, and the societal belief system, and the individual belief system, and they're all interacting with each other to create this reality that you experience. And then along comes a particular reality that you question, "How could I ever have such a belief system that would allow me to have an experience with such a negative and terrible experience?"

Well, first of all, understand that the negative experience is only negative in your awake consciousness state. Right or wrong is a human consciousness concept. It does not exist at the level of your consciousness from which you create this reality. And so you hold a belief system that indeed has the capacity to be fulfilled, if you wish, in a particular element or time frame of your incarnational period, and you question, "How on Earth could I ever have that belief system?"

Well, again allow us to refer to your beliefs in time and space. Your belief that you live and you die, and you live and you die, and you live and you die. That is, if you believe in reincarnation. It doesn't matter whether you do or don't; you will exist many times in this vibrational level, absolutely. And so, allow us to give you an example based upon your belief in time and space. You, in your so-called between incarnational state, make choices to enter into a particular existence in a particular incarnational state. You choose the society that you wish to reincarnate into. You put in place the agreements and the contracts with the individuals that you will interact with in that incarnational period in that society. Indeed, you choose the possibilities for realities to choose to be created in a particular incarnational period. And you put them in place as belief systems.

Now. You like to have scientific proof in your awake consciousness state. You like to be able to validate it. And so, your so-called scientists have discovered the DNA, and they understand as well that within that DNA there are various aspects that are very active that influence your existence, that influence as well your entire physical being. They also understand that there's a huge part of that DNA that they don't understand, that they don't have the concept of what it's there for. It seems to be just stuff that's there. Well, we suggest that within that DNA there exists the possibilities that you put in place as belief systems in your so-called between incarnational state, in your altered states of consciousness. And should you, throughout your particular existence in your awake consciousness state, make various choices and decisions, hold certain attitudes and beliefs, you have the opportunity to take that possibility in the DNA and turn it into a probability. You influence that DNA by your thoughts and feelings, absolutely.

You alter the energy that surrounds the DNA, and as you alter the energy that surrounds the DNA you activate or deactivate, whichever way you wish to look at it, various aspects of the DNA and you turn what was once a possibility into a probability. And so it comes into your reality and you experience it: a choice in a belief system that is made in your altered state of consciousness, not in your wide-awake state of consciousness.

You see, you believe that in your wide-awake state of consciousness that this is it, "This all there really is. There isn't anything any greater than this, is there? I mean this is really it. When I'm daydreaming, well, that's just all not real. When I enter into a dream state, well, that's just all my imagination." Well, we would suggest to you that when you're in your altered state of consciousness that this is the illusion. It's not that the others aren't illusions as well, but understand that an illusion can have importance. And illusion can have significance. It doesn't mean that because it's an illusion that it's not important. It doesn't mean you can discard it and forget all about it, "Well, it's illusionary. I'm not going to worry about that." It's illusionary because it's a reflection of the beliefs that you hold and you can change it. Absolutely.

Now. In your awake consciousness state, this illusion is the most difficult one for you to sustain. We absolutely guarantee each and every one of you at some point will indeed fall asleep. You will enter into a dream state. Guaranteed. There are those who would suggest that they have insomnia and they can't sleep. Well, we would suggest to you that at some point they sleep. Absolutely. They may not sleep to the level that they would desire to sleep, but they do sleep.

Well, you see, in your so-called altered state of consciousness, in your dream state, you put in place the agreements and the contracts to perpetuate the reality so that you can experience it, and then you seemingly [run] out of those agreements and contracts. You fall asleep. You can't stay awake. You can't maintain this conscious state. In fact, we guarantee not only will each and every one of you at some point enter into a dream state, we also guarantee that each and every one of you at some point will go beyond that dream state and enter into what you might refer to as a between incarnational state. You will die, in other words. But you can't really die. Dying is a human consciousness awake concept. You can't really die. But you do alter your states of consciousness and you, for all intents and purposes, leave this vibrational level, leave this particular incarnational period.

Now. The irony of it is that when you leave this incarnational period the only ones that are concerned about you leaving it are those that are left behind. You're not worried about it when you leave it. We guarantee you that you will not worry about it. We guarantee that you will indeed enter into that altered state of consciousness that you refer to as dying, that between incarnational state. And in that altered state of consciousness, in that between incarnational state you still exist within the limitations, to a certain extent, that that veil, of that electromagnetic type of energy, and in that altered state of consciousness, in that between incarnational state, you will still sustain various realities that are a reflection of the beliefs that you hold.

That doesn't change. The reality you experience is a reflection of the belief that you hold. And it doesn't matter what level of consciousness you're at. But when you're in that altered state of consciousness, in that between incarnational state, it becomes much more difficult for you to sustain the illusion. Because you begin to realize, "Yeah, I can change that." In fact, many of you in your so-called dream state become involved in what we refer to as lucid dreaming. You understand that it's possible for you to take various parts of your consciousness into that dream state and to influence your dreams.

Well. When you're in the between incarnational state you are one step beyond the dream state. But you are also at a state where it becomes much more difficult for you to sustain the illusion. And at that point you should have the opportunity, should you choose, to leave this vibrational level. Or, should you choose, to reincarnate and to come back into this vibrational level in an awake consciousness state. The choice is yours. The choice is yours.

You are not put on this (inaudible) Earth, you do not enter into this vibrational level for any other reason than to experience the emotions and feelings that it's possible for you to experience in a vibrational level where you, at some level of your consciousness, are not aware of who and what you truly are. You are not put here to learn any lessons. There is nothing that you must do in order to advance. You cannot be separated from your spirituality. You exist within a vibrational level that is your creation. When we suggest it's your creation, it's your creation in conjunction with all of the other entities that exist within your vibrational level. You create it all.

Now. For many, when we suggest that you create it all, they look at us and say, "Well, I can understand that I have the capacity to influence the various [parts] of my creation. I can understand quite well that it's possible for me to influence (inaudible) at 8 AM at any given morning that I desire. I can influence that part of my reality." That you can accept. We're not suggesting that you only influence that part of your reality. We're suggesting that you create the entire vibrational level. You and the entities that exist within your vibrational level are the creators of this vibrational level. Absolutely. Each and every atom of the entire universe is your creation. It's your creation. It's a reflection of the belief that you hold.

Now, the irony of it is that many individuals would look at that and say, "Well, I don't believe I create my reality. Look at all of these other individuals, my neighbors, that are influencing my reality and there's got to be this universe that influences my reality. There's this high power that influences my reality." Well, you can have that. Once again, it's not right or wrong. This is not a right or wrong concept. You can have whatever it is that you desire and it will be a reflection of the beliefs that you hold. And if you believe you're not in control, you will create all types of realities that validate that belief system. If you believe that you have guides and angels that surround you and they create this reality for you, you can have that. It's not right or wrong. It's your choice. It's a reflection of a belief that you hold.

If you choose to believe that you are in absolute control, you can have that as well. You see, that's the irony. You can have whatever it is that you desire. This reality that you experience is a reflection of the beliefs that you hold. Right or wrong is not a concept that exists in any other level of your consciousness other than your awake consciousness state. The spark of consciousness that you are that creates this reality does so from a position of absolute unconditional love and it does so without judgment. It does not judge whether the belief that you're holding is right or wrong. If you believe that you're not in control then this spark of consciousness that you are puts in place all types of realities to validate that belief and it does so joyously.

You create your reality from a position of absolute unconditional love and the reality that you experience is a reflection of the belief that you hold.

And so, if you were to look back upon what it is that we've discussed with you this evening and attempt to break it down into some simple concept that you can grasp, there are but three beliefs that you cannot alter. The first is that this reality that you exist in is your creation. The second is that you are the god that you search for. You are a spark of consciousness, no greater than and no less than any other spark of consciousness that exists throughout all of creation. And the third, you absolutely cannot fail to come to that understanding. You absolutely cannot fail.

Now, that becomes, once again, a very difficult concept to grasp in your awake consciousness state. We understand that, absolutely. Understand as well that that's your choice. You put in place the energy that limits your capacity to understand who and what you truly are. You put it in place. You choose to enter into this vibrational level. You choose. There is no other entity that puts you here, there's no other entity that demands that you stay here. You choose, and you do so for the purposes of experiencing the emotions and feelings. The reality that you experience is a reflection of the belief that you hold. And it's not right or wrong. Right or wrong is a human awake consciousness concept. It does not exist in your altered states of consciousness. The spark of consciousness that you are creates the reality that you experience as it validates the beliefs that you hold and it does so joyously from a position of absolute and unconditional love. And you absolutely cannot fail to come to that understanding.

The rest of the message that we give to you when we talk about other concepts and we answer questions are simply reflections of what it is that you desire to hear. You see, we are an entity that exists outside of your vibrational level. To believe that we somehow have access to knowledge that is not within the grasp of each of you is ludicrous. To believe that we somehow have access to your creation process that you don't have access to is ludicrous. We simply reflect back upon you that which you desire to hear. We appreciate the opportunity to interact with our friend Elias and in return we give to you that which you desire to hear.

The irony of it is that you will not be able to find an explanation in any type of written or oral form. It just isn't there. If you wish to discover who and what you truly are, you must go within. All of the answers lie within. Absolutely. And when you discover the answers in you, discover as well that you can't explain it to someone else for they might discover it as well. It's a journey that you can make, to go withinside, if you desire. It's not necessary. You can't fail. You can't be separated from who and what you truly are. You can't lose your spirituality. You can hide from it, if that's what you wish to do, but it's not right or wrong either. This is not a right or wrong concept. You absolutely cannot fail. If you wish to have an understanding of who and what you truly are, if you wish to bring that into your awake consciousness state so that you can experience what you might refer to as an inner peace, that's within your capacity to do so. It's not necessary, but you can do that.

But the answers are withinside. You will not find them, once again, through any channeling such as we do. You will not find them in any transcript. You will not find them written. You must discover them yourself. But it's within your capacity to do so, for you create this reality. You are a spark of consciousness that's equal to, no greater and no less than any other spark of consciousness that exists throughout all of creation. And you absolutely cannot fail to come to that understanding at some level of your consciousness. The rest is up for grabs. The rest is a reflection of your beliefs. Absolutely guaranteed. All of it, not just some of it.

Now. Once again, it has indeed been a pleasure to interact and to share with each of you. And we would like to suggest that we are not separated by time or space, but rather exist within a different vibrational level within the same time and the same space. And should you choose to interact with us you have but to express the intent and we would welcome that opportunity to interact and to share with each of you. And we would bid each of you farewell, with love and with peace. ❀
