Dedication, Donation at St. John's

By BOB SANTOS

In March of 2021, then Grand President Joe Castillo placed a plaque in St. John's Hospital Rose Garden. Because of COVID there was no ceremony so, during this year's presentation to the hospital the plaque was dedicated by Castillo and Grand President George Adams.

After the dedication there was a welcome by Sheryl A. Bourgeois, President and Chief Executive Officer of St. John's Health Center. She introduced the staff of St. John's Cleft Palate Center. A program update and patient introductions was done by Julia Hobbs Senior Speech Pathologist. Ms. Hobbs spoke on how insurance does not cover speech problems of a cleft palate patient. The Native Sons' donation helped start St. John's speech program and our donations still continue helping speech care. Ms. Hobbs introduced two young patients who gave a heartfelt "thank you" to the Native Sons.

Grand President George Adams with Steve Faessel, Southern California Coordinator of the CF and Paul Lapachet Chairman of CF presented a check to Ms. Bourgeois for $65,000 for St. John's Cleft Palate Clinic.

The Native Sons Charitable Foundation has donated to the Cleft Palate Center for 54 years continuously and are one of the longest donors at St. John's. Ms. Bourgeois stated "We honor and thank the Native Sons for their years of dedication to the children of the Cleft Palate Center." The Cleft Palate Center at Providence St. John's Health Center in Santa Monica is a nationally recognized team known for its innovative approach to helping children with Cleft lip and palate and other craniofacial anomalies.

GRAND PRESIDENT

Holiday Greetings!

As the Holidays approach and the many parlors meet for holiday dinners and events, I am looking forward to visiting multiple parlors to spread the word of family and friendship. This is one of the most exciting times for me as the Grand President to attend the holiday celebrations and to meet many of our members and their families. The Grand Officers will be traveling to their official visits and attending those holiday functions at the parlors as well.

As you gather with friends and family outside of the Native Sons encourage them to become members. Be proud of the good work we have accomplished and the plans we are working toward. I would encourage all members to check out all the improvements on the website (NSGW.ORG). You will find current information about upcoming events and links to dedications that have been completed. I ask all parlors to send information in so that we can all be aware of their upcoming events. It is a great way to advertise and increase your attendance, especially if you are raising money for your charitable contributions.

Attending the hospital visitation to deliver the donation checks for cleft palate has been a highlight for me. Due to COVID this was the first year to return to the hospitals for the check presentations. We were able to present a check for $65,000 dollars to Saint John's Hospital in Santa Monica on behalf of all the Native Sons. On November 20 I presented a check to UCSF Childrens hospital for $65,000. In December I will be attending a check presentation to Sutter Memorial to present the last check for $65,000 dollars. As the Grand President I would to thank the Charitable Foundation and all our members for their hard work that makes this happen.

In Friendship, Loyalty and Charity, from my house to yours,
Best Wishes and Happy Holidays!

OPINION

We Are Still Responsible for the Actions of Our Ancestors By Joe Castillo, PGP, Los Angeles #45

In the previous edition of The Native Son, Past Grand President Fred Codoni provided a compelling argument on why our Order should not be considered a racist organization based on our inclusion of minorities in our leadership roles within Grand Parlor. The supporting information provided by PGP Codoni is based on facts and clearly indicates that the Native Sons of 2023 have moved beyond the racist actions of our forefathers. We have changed our Constitution to not become involved in political activities, we have allowed females into our Order and we have changed our image of a "white-only" private membership club. These enhanced positions have allowed us to move into the 21st Century by clearly showing we can improve who we are and to reflect on an ever-changing California social and cultural environment.

Even though the Native Sons have made great strides in improving our image and opening our membership rolls to people of color, our membership numbers continue to decline, just as the membership numbers of other fraternal, service, and social clubs throughout California and the United States. However, the case against the Native Sons being a racist organization does not lie in what we do and accomplish today or who we allow to join our organization but it remains in our history, a history in which we have failed to take responsibility for our actions.

The main reason we are still considered a racist organization is our anti-Asian position we took before World War I especially in the agriculture industry. The Native Sons strongly opposed the employment of Asians working the crops, orchards, and fields of California's growing and prosperous agricultural industry. When the United States was unexpectedly attacked at Pearl Harbor during World War II, our anti-Asian views escalated against all people from Asian countries. The anger and hate of the Native Sons, including those who were in positions of authority as Grand Parlor officers, called on United States and California political leaders to act against Japanese immigrants living in this state, even those who were native-born citizens of the United States.

To make matters worse, the Native Sons persuaded other organizations like the Native Daughters, the American Legion, and the California State Grange to follow our lead and vocalize their concerns to their local government officials. The role we played in the Japanese interment is part of our history and no matter how many good deeds we do, we will never be able to alter that history.

Our past is our own worst enemy and we need to take responsibility for our actions of the past. Perhaps an 80-year-old overdue apology is the first step to help the healing process but until that happens we will continue to be held accountable for our racist actions. In 1988, President Reagan addressed members of Congress when signing the bill providing restitution for Japanese interment during World War II and apologized to an entire generation of Japanese-Americans by stating "We are gathered here today to right a grave wrong".

The Native Sons of the Golden West need to learn by President Reagan's example and do the same thing.

The Native Son welcomes your letters and opinion pieces. We believe every member of our Order is entitled to speak on subjects relating to the Native Sons of the Golden West.

We are pleased to print your contributions, especially if they offer suggestions that can improve our Order and this publication.

OPINION

David G Allen, PGP

As the Native Sons of the Golden West approaches the 150th anniversary of its founding, the Order needs to take a more aggressive approach in defending and presenting itself. There seems to be a section of the population that is determined to label the NSGW a racist organization, based upon information that is over 75 years old. To wit: the Native Sons of the Golden West are an evolving and ever adapting organization and have continued to change for the last three-quarters of a century.

The Native Sons of the Golden West is long acknowledged as the most significant fraternal historical society in California. From its inception in July of 1875, it has been responsible for saving, preserving, marking, educating, purchasing, and donating labor and funding to many of California's most significant historic sites as well as dedicating hundreds of public buildings.

The Order was one of the contributing groups that led to the beginning of California State Parks Department and the California State Historic Resources Commission.

The Order, which reflected society during the late 19th and early part of the 20th Centuries, also acknowledges its regrettable past racial policies, the most egregious of which was its involvement with the incarceration of Japanese American citizens during World War II.

The Native Sons had many successes following their historical mission in this era, but their policies concerning racial matters were not reflective of their precepts of Friendship, Loyalty, and Charity. That is the dilemma that the Native Sons face as they move forward in the 21st Century.

Over the last several years many of the early Native Sons transgressions have come to the forefront. Nationwide, many monuments, plaques, and historical references have been removed without proper review. As part of this removal process Native Sons plaques have been removed from public buildings and historical sites. The Native Sons have yet to understand why a plaque dedicated to "Truth, Liberty, and Toleration" is considered racist.

Many "historians" and groups have determined that an Internet search is good enough to indict the organization as racist, even though those views have long been expunged.

Modern researchers do not know that the Native Sons, through their Charitable Foundation have been donating to Craniofacial Clinics at three major hospitals in California for over 60 years. They do not realize that for over 20 years the Historical Preservation Foundation of the Native Sons of the Golden West has been donating to Chinese, Japanese, Native Americans, Blacks and Hispanic groups and/or sites for education, restoration, and preservation purposes.

They do not acknowledge that during the height of its anti-Asian activities in the early twentieth century, the Order contributed to the earthquake relief effort in Japan.

They do not know that for over 50 years the Native Sons have welcomed members of all ethnic groups. Many have served as state officers and several have continued to the highest level of the order, Grand President. They do not realize that there are other philanthropic endeavors through the Native Sons, both

Bourbon Brother from LA #45

Brother Luke Bramon, Los Angeles Parlor #45, won First Place in the Kentucky Bourbon Shootout held at the Kentucky County Fair. Luke's entry of a tasty, flavor-filled, easy-drinking bourbon distilled and marketed under the catchy name of "Colonel Bramon's Bad Ass Bourbon" was the runaway winner over 47 other competitors.

For his winning entry, Brother Luke won a Kentucky County Fair Belt Buckle and added his name and entry to the best distilled bourbons in Kentucky's long history of award-winning barrel-aged American whiskeys. Luke is a native-born Californian showing his Kentucky brethren how bourbon is really distilled in the Golden State.

LA Parlors Honor Vets

Los Angeles Parlor #45 honored our veterans by placing U.S. flags at the grave markers of over 150 veterans. On Veterans' Day 2023, LA #45 members placed U.S. flags at Downey Memorial Cemetery, a California Historical Landmark, as our tribute to American veterans. This marks the ninth consecutive year in which NSGW LA #45/Rio Hondo #294 have placed flags on both Veteran's Day and Memorial Day.

In a separate event, PGP Joe Castillo gave an hour-long Veterans' Day presentation on General George S. Patton, Jr. to members and guests of the Alhambra Historical Society. Included in the presentation was NSGW's dedication of the General George S. Patton, Jr. Memorial Museum on Memorial Day 2020 and the accomplishments of the Historical Preservation Foundation of the NSGW. The Memorial Museum is located 40 miles east of Indio in Riverside County.

locally and statewide. Not one of those actions has been racially exclusive.

Current examiners seem to focus their research on information that is over seven decades old instead of recognizing changes within the organization.

Every society for thousands of years had a group that was abused, whether it was outcasts, peasants, serfs, slaves, indentured servants, or untouchables. Social structure determined that every society discriminated against those that were not able to defend themselves or were different, be it color, religion, rank or status. This is not a justification for past behavior, it is a historically-researched point.

Removing statues, re-interpreting history and incomplete historical research does nothing more than bury history under an avalanche of misinformation. While the views may be abhorrent to modern society, they represented that society at that time. The current Native Sons acknowledge their history but cannot alter it. The misfortune would have been if the Native Sons had not changed from earlier generations and continued to repeat their own history. If anything, the Order's ability to pivot from its past to its current structure is commendable and should be noted as it continues to learn and tell the story of California.

So where do the Native Sons of the Golden West go from here? Going forward is the only option. The Order owns its past regardless of how it is interpreted, but more importantly, the Order owns its present and its future and something can be done about that.

That is why we study and learn from history.

HISTORICAL PRESERVATION FOUNDATION

By CARL VON BARGEN

If there was an appropriate song for the Historical Preservation Foundation it would probably be "On the Road Again." The last few months have been quite hectic traveling around the beautiful state of California. Visiting parlors north and south. Sharing the goals and objectives of the Historical Preservation Foundation. Travels have included Los Banos Parlor, Observatory Parlor, Sonoma Parlor, Guadalupe Parlor, Amador Parlor, Dolores-California Parlor, Redwood Parlor, Pebble Beach Parlor and Piedmont Parlor. During some of these trips it was a great pleasure to be able to thank the parlor and the members for their generous support to assist the Historical Preservation Foundation to continue to promote the aims and goals of the Native Sons of the Golden West: Education and Preservation of the history of California.

In the coming few months look for announcements from various Historical Preservation Foundation directors, like Vice Chairman Robert Bruno and his development team regarding a PowerPoint Presentation to share with potential donors, or Director/Grand Trustee Brice Walker and his creation of "Historical Preservation Foundation Awareness Month." Or, the Board of Directors rolling out various awards for varying levels of donations. These will include special buttons, pins, patches and challenge coins. Be on the lookout for how you can get your own HPF award.

These are just a few of the projects that the Historical Preservation Foundation Board of Directors is working on to improve our effectiveness at supporting the Native Sons of the Golden West. The Historical Preservation Foundation looks forward to discussing ideas for fundraising and worthy projects to showcase what Native Sons of the Golden West are all about. Please feel free to reach out to your local Director of the HPF, as listed below, if you have new ideas for fundraisers, or if you have a recommendation of a

The Native Sons of the Golden West dedication ceremony of the historical plaque for Providence Saint John's Health Center, officiated by PGP Joe Castillo and assisted by GP George Adams in the St. John's Rose Garden was originally installed by then GP Joe Castillo back in March of 2021 but because of COVID there wasn't any ceremony.

Mission Statement. The Native Sons of the Golden West Charitable Foundation is a nonprofit corporation dedicated to helping children who are born with a cleft lip and palate and other craniofacial birth defects.

corporate or individual donor that you feel we should approach, or information about a project that you feel should be investigated and supported that will enhance California Historical Preservation and Education. We look forward to working hard for each and every Native Son for the coming year.

We appreciate the opportunity to assist the Native Sons of the Golden West to prosper and grow. Please look at the Historical Preservation Foundations roster and find your local Director to discuss how the HPF can help your Parlor with a future project. RETRO RAMBLINGS

By DOUGLAS LOVE, Grand Trustee, Napa Parlor #62

Within Victory Park in downtown Stockton stands the red brick Haggin Museum. The museum houses an extensive collection of American and European art as well as displays covering the history of California, the growth of manufacturing and agriculture in the Central Valley and in Stockton in particular. There are displays dedicated to Charles Weber, the founder of the City of Stockton, an entire gallery dedicated to Benjamin Holt and the development of the Caterpillar Tractor, to Tillie Lewis, who introduced tomato production and canning to San Joaquin County, to Sperry Flour Mills, one of the oldest milling companies in California. The museum also has an exhibit dedicated to Stephens Brothers boats and houses that company's archives. There is also a reconstructed 1900s "Main Street" and various exhibits of local interest.

In 1928, the San Joaquin Pioneer and Historical Society was founded with the following objectives: "To develop educational facilities for the study of history, to collect documents and articles of historical interest and to establish and maintain a museum where such items could be stored and displayed." In April 1929 Mr. Robert T. McKee made an offer to the San Joaquin Pioneer and Historical Society on behalf of his wife, Eila: if an art wing was added to the purposed history museum and named in honor of her late father, Louis Terah Haggin, she would donate thirty thousand dollars towards construction of the building as well as an unspecified number of paintings from her father's collection.

Museum Opens in 1931

With this gift, the museum opened on June 14, 1931. The museum has been expanded and renovated several times since then; the latest renovation being completed in 2017. The several galleries hold pieces from the Haggin collection of European and American art, a significant collection of the works of J.C. Leyendecker, who was, before Norman Rockwell, one of America's best known commercial artists, and the archives, not only of the San Joaquin Pioneer and Historical Society, but of the Stephens Brothers Boat Works, material from the Holt Manufacturing Company, the Sperry Flour Company, and the Tillie Lewis Food Company.

In its American Gallery, the Haggin displays some of the finest works from the Hudson River School including paintings by George Inness, William Bradford, Thomas Moran and Albert Bierstadt. In the Haggin and McKee Galleries, there are many European Realist and Impressionist works to view, including works by William Merritt Chase, Rosa Bonheur, Jean Beraud, Pierre-Auguste Renoir, and many others, all dating from the mid-19th to the early 20th century. There are some small statuary and ornamental pieces on display. There is also the Jeanie Hunter Rooms, which give a glimpse into how a prosperous farmhouse was furnished at the turn of the 20th century.

Indigenous People, World War II, Murderer

The museum also has an extensive collection of Indigenous American artifacts, including a recreated Miwok dwelling, and various historic vehicles on display including a WWII jeep that was one of 275 funded by the donations from the students and faculty of Stockton High School.

One of the oddest artifacts is the "Death Trunk" of Emma LeDoux, the first woman sentenced to death for murder in California. Emma poisoned her third husband, stuffed him in the trunk while he was alive and had the trunk sent to the train depot in Stockton. Her husband died in the trunk. The murder was discovered after the baggage master noticed a foul smell emanating from the trunk and called the authorities. Emma was sentenced to death, but upon retrial she was sentenced to life in prison. The trunk is a grisly artifact of an at the time scandalous crime.

Leyendecker Art

For me, the jewel of the Haggin Museum, besides the collection of Bierstadt paintings, is the collection of illustrations by J.C. Leyendecker. From the early 1900s though the 1930s Leyendecker was one of the best known commercial illustrators in the country. His clients included Arrow shirts, Hart-Shaffner & Marx, Amoco, the Boy Scouts of America, Ivory Soap, Karo Syrup, Palmolive, Cream of Wheat, Kellogg's, the Saturday Evening Post, the Timken Company, Willys-Overland, Collier's Weekly and the U.S. Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. His illustrations helped define the style and look of the 1910s-1930s. Some of his illustrations remain recognizable today. He was Norman Rockwell before Norman Rockwell became famous. His sister donated many of his works to the Haggin Museum upon her death. The Haggin Museum now holds the largest museum collection of his works.

A precursor of Norman Rockwell, J. C. Leyendecker was the premier illustrator of his era. The Haggin Museum has the largest collection of his work in existence.

GETTING THERE: The Haggin Museum is located at 1201 N. Pershing Avenue, Stockton, CA 95203. From 414 Mason Street take I-80 East across the Bay Bridge to I-580 East. From I-580 East, take I-205 East towards Tracy/Stockton. Merge onto I-5 North. Take Exit 473 for the University of the Pacific/North Pershing Ave. Turn Left on to Picardy Drive and then right into Victory Park. The museum will be on the right.

LOTT'S LAKE REPORT

By DAN FOPPE, Lott's Lake Chairman

As mentioned in our last report, we went to Lott's Lake for a clean up of the property. The crew included Dan Foppe, Sean Roaden and Carl and Karen Von Bargen.

When we arrived, we noted that the tank house was ready to fall over and was unsafe and had to be dismantled. We found old mining tools which will go to the NSGW Museum.

The roof covering the outhouse at the end of the property had blown off so we replaced it. During the three days and two nights that we were there, we managed to haul three trailer loads out to the dumps.

The east campground was cleaned by others prior to our arrival. I want to extend a big "thank you" to the members for their time and efforts in cleaning up the campsite.

I'm planning a Lott's Lake Committee meeting in January 2024, the date and time and to be determined.

Los Angeles Parlor #45 has arranged for a tour of the restored San Gabriel Mission on December 9 at 8:30 a.m. The tour is open to all NSGW and Native Daughters of the Golden West and is free of charge. The Mission was damaged in an arsonist started fire in 2020 and has just completed repairs. The tour will cover the Mission church, the museum and garden area. The NSGW, NDGW and the Historical Preservation Foundation are all providing funding for the restoration of the Mission after the devastating 2020 fire and the Mission is holding this tour in their honor. Please contact PGP Joe Castillo (626-205-0017) or Fran Carothers (626) 332-1203.

Peet House Dedication

Los Angeles Parlor #45 will hold a dedication of the historic Peet House located at 1139 S. Harvard Blvd., Los Angeles, on Saturday December 2 at noon.
