My child, those who have committed these unjust acts upon My Little Ones within the womb and outside the womb are bathing themselves in the blood of the innocent. When they seek to destroy My Creation, My plan, know that the hour of justice is coming. It is in the blood of the innocent that mankind will find that his hour of reckoning has come. Now go forth, for I Am Jesus, and My Mercy and Justice will prevail.

My child, I tell My children it is time to prepare! It is time to repent and turn away from sin. The world has entered into a new corridor in time, and it is only through prayer that you will find your peace, find your strength, for what lies ahead. The tides of change have come, and the storm clouds that have taken over are soon to be cast away by great light. I Am the Light of the world, for I Am Jesus. The trumpets are soon to ring out all around this world. Take hold of your rosaries and pray for the great number that are soon to face the great judgment seat. The walls that hold back the water are soon to come down in a region of the world that has immersed the world into great suffering. Those who live by their comforts of money and lust cannot stop the great shaking that is soon to come, for the grains of sand will begin to shift. When the ocean floors begin to crack, and the water begins to inundate, what good is your money when you have surrendered your soul to the custody of hell. It is time to arise, My children, for you need to begin to cleanse your soul and purify your hearts to the truth by living the truth. Now go forth, for I Am Jesus, and be at Peace, for My Mercy and Justice will prevail.

My child, there are many today within the walls of government that continue to eat the forbidden fruit. There are leaders today who seek to lead in the name of truth, yet their actions are that of Judas. My child do not despair for this is a time when the world will begin to share in the wounds of My passion. When your heart aches at the site of My little ones being mercilessly slaughtered within the womb of its mother know that your conscience is responding too truth. When the innocence of My children is being stripped away in the name of lust and greed the earth can only begin to tremble. This world has entered a time that is calling upon the prophets of today to rise up and not fear for the world will begin to crumble around you, but it is your time, your hour to lead My sheep back to its Shepherd. This is an hour of awakening and for the world to get down on its knees and repent. I tell My children to pray, pray with an open heart and when you pray you are surrendering your petition to your Father in Heaven for, I Am Jesus, and My Mercy and Justice will prevail.

My child be at peace and do not lose hope for the eagle is about to take flight. Many ask why I did not answer their prayers; many seek to question My true existence. My Child, if I answered prayers in the manner in which mankind interpreted, then it would fail to reveal the many faces of evil. Many have prayed and continue to, for it is through prayer that the soul begins to recognize the deception that is in front of them. The conscience responds when faith and trust work together. Listen, listen to the words that I have given you during these times that I have come and placed these words on your heart, that I have spoken these words to you. I never abandon My Faithful Children. All that has been concealed is being pierced by the light, for I Am Jesus and be at peace, for My Mercy and Justice will prevail.

My child I desire for you to tell the world that beginning this Thursday in honor of My Mother when she announced herself as the Immaculate Conception for everyone to pray a Rosary in her honor. I desire for this Rosary to be said each first Saturday for the next 9 months. Every bead that is recited is a bead of light that will begin to pierce the darkness from this earth. And it will begin to heal this world from the despair that has overcome so many. Now go forth for I Am Jesus and do not lose hope for it is My Mercy and Justice that will prevail.

My child, many ask you for My words yet how many are truly living the Gospel message? At a time when it should be spring you will see the dry heat of summer begin to show the cracks of the earth and the quick swirling winds will turn up the fires that will spread rapidly across this earth. My children, you have entered into the time that I have been warning about for some time; a time when the dividing line has been drawn and is defined as the sea is from the sand. You are being blinded by two forms of truth; the truth the world seeks to have you live by, and the true truth of what I have formed within your conscience to know what it is that I desire for you to live by, for I Am Jesus. There are those who seek to intimidate the sun, the moon, and the stars, and to manipulate My Creation, My plan. Those who seek to decide who should live and who shall die, just as they did by having Me put to death. I ask My children, are you altering your life, your actions, in fear by those in positions of power or are you defending the truth? Great change is coming, My children, for what has been stolen will be returned, for no one can silence that which I have appointed. The dam of deception is about to break, and when it breaks where the three rivers meet, know that great change is coming. It is time to pray as you have not prayed before. It is time to truly find joy in this time because when you seek to have a joyful heart, your soul recognizes that your time on this earth is passing by. Your hope is in your eternal salvation. Your hope is written in the Gospel message. Your hope is in the sacrament of reconciliation. Your hope is in receiving Me in the Eucharist. Your hope is in My Most Divine Mercy. Your hope is in Me, for I Am Jesus, the way, the truth, and the life. Without Me, your hope is lost, it doesn't exist. You must recognize the time that you are in. You must put on your armor because confusion is multiplying, and it creates a fog in your ability to recognize the truth. Now go forth and take heed, for I am Jesus, and My Mercy and Justice will prevail.

My child, the hour is coming when I will command the attention of every soul that is living on this earth. There will come a time when time will not be of awareness, rather a time when humanity will see the wounds that he has added to My Most Sacred Heart. An hour in which the earth will no longer rotate, but by the command of My Voice the world will be shown the great depths of My Mercy; the world will be shown My Mighty Hand of Justice. This will be an hour when evil will not reign upon this earth, but an hour when I show mankind his soul through the eyes of his Creator, for I Am Jesus. Mankind will see that there is no reason in which sin is justified. I ask My children to take this time to turn off and away from the world. When you take time to live in the creation that I created, you will begin to hear My voice, My words, My will for your Life. You will begin to live the mission you were sent to do. My children, you will begin to find courage when you respond to My Will and you will be My witnesses in this world where evil no longer seeks to be hidden; when evil is no longer hidden, neither is the lies of those who have chosen to live by them. Remember, what is done in darkness will always come to light. When the hour of warning comes the only harbor of light on this earth is that of which I come with, for I Am Jesus, the light of the world, the very vessel in which mankind passes from this life to eternal life. Now go forth, My children, and be My light in this dark world, for I Am Jesus, and My Mercy and Justice will prevail.

My child, I say to My children, you are each a vessel of history. The very artery of which My blood flows to and from My Most Sacred Heart. I weep, My children; I weep for this lost and fractured world that has surrendered to the enemy. Darkness is covering this earth for the chambers of hell are emptying out upon this earth. Love is lost in the midst of this darkness, and many are turning on their neighbor. I say to My Faithful to remain strong and vigilant in the truth, for those who walk with pride and haughty hearts because they have evaded justice in this life will find it in the next for their time of mercy has expired. Woe to those who have harmed My Little Ones. Woe to those who seek to render death when I Am the author of life and death. Where are My Chosen Sons? Where are My Priests to guide My children in the truth? Where are My Priests to tell the world that the road to hell is becoming grid locked with souls who have fallen into Satan's trap? I am being held prisoner from My People while the voice of the enemy echoes through the walls of My Church. How many have marked themselves with the blood of the innocent out of fear. How many have surrendered their faith and trust in Me for the false science of man instead of the creator of the world, for I Am Jesus. Where does your faith reside? I tell you this, that when you see the remnants of My Church scattered throughout the world, be at peace because victory is coming, and the hour of My return is on the horizon. Now go forth, for I Am Jesus, and be at peace, for My Mercy and Justice will prevail.

My child, the days have now become the hour in which a great many will stand before Me. A time when many will come to see what fear has brought them to. I have warned My children that I am not the God of fear, for I do not author such things. I am a God who speaks to the heart of My people and do not sow seeds of fear in their mind. I created each one of My children with the means necessary to live a mission on this earth, to be instruments of light and hope in this dark world. I have come to tell My children that the hour has come when you will say, "where is my brother? where is my sister?" The hour has come when you will desire to say the Chaplet of My Most Divine Mercy endlessly for the multitude that were not prepared to meet Me. Wake up My children, for you are being deceived by the prince of darkness, the author of fear. You are being driven by a false promise. Your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit—not too be silenced, manipulated, or depleted of My Creation. This world is passing yet too many are being complacent. It is time to prepare your soul, for the hour has come when I will warn mankind that his ways are not pleasing to Me. What will you harvest, My children, when the fires surround you? What will you harvest, My children, when the floods wash away your vegetation? The harm of My Little Ones does not go without punishment. I have pleaded in love and mercy to turn away from sin, yet so many seek to alter My Creation, My Plan. The hour of reckoning has come upon this world, for the hand of justice can no longer be restrained. The truth will be shown to the world, for what has been silenced behind closed doors will be opened to the light. It is time to prepare and to warn those who have fallen asleep to the lies that they have fallen for. It is time to bind your rosaries and fall to your knees in humility, for I Am Jesus, and My mercy and Justice will prevail.

My child, the world is soon to be inundated with water. It will not come from the rains but will be from the tears of My people when they see what has been done to My little ones; when the world begins to recognize that the blood of the innocent will not go unpunished. My child, the sins of man are many but when pride remains, they will devour themselves into the pit of misery. I am coming to remove the blindness that has covered this world. I am coming to extinguish the confusion, and in the blink of an eye, the world will come before the judgement seat while on this earth. The days of evil harboring in the hearts and minds of My people will no longer be. I speak in warning that those who fail to recognize the time of My visit and continue in their wickedness will drown themselves in the eternal pit of darkness. The time is approaching when all light will be extinguished except that of which I come with because I am Jesus, the light of the world. I am coming to shine the light into each and every soul on this earth—not one will be spared. This is a time of truth, and when the world begins to weep is when healing begins. This will be the greatest act of mercy bestowed upon humanity since My passion, death, and resurrection. I tell My children to repent today for the hour is upon you, for I am Jesus and my mercy and justice will prevail.

My child, I am not a God who acts in haste rather I am a God of patience, mercy, and order. I am the one who separates day from night, the weeds from the wheat, darkness from the light. It is time to prepare your hearts, My children, for history only begins to repeat itself when My children remain complacent. I have come to tell you that mankind has ushered into a new time, a new era in which the weeds are being separated from the wheat; a time when a great cleansing will come forth. My child, My heart is weeping because so many have been led astray. So many have allowed the fear of the enemy to overcome the knowledge and judgment that I have infused in their soul. Be on guard, My children, because the page of history is turning and as this comes so will a great shaking. The walls that have guarded this evil will be destroyed. I will shake every corner of this earth. Nations will crumble, governments will cease to exist as the deception that has been placed upon My people is removed. Those who have remained steadfast in their prayers, faith, and remain close to the sacraments and the gospel message will have the courage to help those who are lost. This will be an era when I will summon the prophets written in the gospel message to guide mankind. I tell My children where there is confusion there is the devil, where there is no peace there is the devil, when you are inundated with fear there is the devil. I am a God of order and peace. Where does your trust rest? In a world that seeks to destroy your soul or in your messiah, for I am Jesus, the savior of the world? Now go forth and be at peace for it is My mercy and justice that will prevail.

My child, I come to tell the world that if you desire peace then begin to pray. If you desire love, then first you must come to know your Heavenly Father because I am the source of all love. If you desire patience, then you must first pray for understanding. I tell my children that in order to imitate your creator, you must come to know that My ways are not man's ways. I am the author of life. I am the source that breaths the very first breath that you take and the last one as you leave this earth. You are formed by the very same hands that were nailed to the cross. You were created with a mission to fulfill on this earth. You were sent by Me and for Me. Do not surrender your free will over to kings that have no kingdom. The world only has power over you if you surrender your free will. Your voice was created with a purpose to love, to speak, to sing hymns of praise to your Father in heaven. If your voice is being silenced, it is because the enemy does not want to hear truth. There are many Herod's' roaming this earth that have silenced My little ones, but I tell you this—I am coming, I am coming and woe to those who have been authoring the death of My little ones. It is time to repent, My children, and come to the fountain of My mercy, for I am Jesus and My mercy and justice will prevail.

My child, tell My children I love them. Tell the world when they kneel before the crucifix and gaze upon My corpse that they are witnessing the complete artery of immeasurable love. My child, the world is starving, it is starving for order as great discord is reigning all over this world. When fear has conquered the hearts and minds then unbalance comes. If you pray and lack trust, then your prayers are fruitless. My children, in order to understand prayer, you must begin by meditating on My passion, death, and resurrection. My children, even though My suffering, I knew that I must surrender to the will of My Father in order to complete My mission. I call My children to abandon the lies of the world and surrender to the will of My Father. Seek to live the mission you were sent to do for you are each My chosen instruments. This world is passing, and the lies of the deceiver only seek to paralyze you and deplete you from the truth, for I am Jesus, the way the truth and the life. Now go forth and live the mission you were created to do for your reward will be great in heaven. My mercy and justice will prevail.

My child, the world has entered into a time of transition. The day, the hour of Revelation is upon mankind when the scales of deception will be removed, and My people will see all that they have been blinded by. I tell you this, that many will be wailing at the very sight of what they have allowed themselves to become complacent to. Many will question how their creator allowed this to be, but I say to you that I do not interfere with the free will of man, for I am Jesus. My child, My passion, death, and resurrection was the greatest act of love. Those who were putting Me to death believed they were bringing the world justice, but in turn, My death was bringing the world mercy. Do you see that man's ways are not always My ways? The world has failed to heed to My warnings, has failed to obey My commandments and live the Gospel message. I have sent My Mother to light the way and show the world that your only hope is in her son, for I am Jesus. The world has compensated morals for the pleasures of man. There is no modesty, discipline, and men are failing to reflect the guidance of Saint Joseph. It is time for the world to awaken and every corner of this earth is going to shake with the fury of My Father. Countryside by countryside, city by city, continent by continent, the trembling will come and it will last the duration of which My passion did. My church will appear to crumble but remember this, that where there is a good foundation not every piece of wood is without rotting. It is through My mother that every rotten piece will be removed and what remains will be into eternity. It is time to unite the world through the Rosary, and when the world becomes united through the Rosary it will lead you to the tabernacle of My love, the Eucharist, for I am Jesus and My mercy and justice will prevail.

My child, I come in love. I come in mercy to aid My children on the path to heaven. This world is lost, My child, because Satan and his companions have submerged humanity into a purgatory of fear. Those who author disease in the name of greed succumb to their own sinfulness. The days are growing shorter, and fields will lay barren from any harvest. Food will become scarce; neighbor will begin to rely on neighbor. At a time when the dry heat of summer comes to a close a sudden shift will bring great rain and a sudden freeze that will usher in the cold winds of winter. You must prepare now for the time of transition is here. Do not lose hope because that which has been stolen will be returned. Nations will begin to crumble because they have been guided by evil. My child, I say to My people if you pray and surrender your life to the will of My father then you have nothing to fear. The triumph of My Mother's Immaculate Heart is coming. Stay focused, stay focused on the cross and keep your eyes fixed upon the mission I have sent you to do. Do not give into the distractions of the deceiver and those who comply to his lies, for those who live by the sword will end with the sword. I am the author of life and those who live for heaven have nothing to fear, for I Am Jesus and My mercy and justice will prevail.

09/14/2021

My child, the danger to mankind is not the evil forces that seek to rule the world, it is those who seek to comply with evil.

11/15/2021

7:40 AM

My child, this world is greatly divided. There are those who trust out of fear and there are those who fear to trust. You are to love the Lord your God with all of your heart, mind, and soul, your whole being without reservation. When a soul lacks any of these things, it cannot truly trust. In order to trust, you must surrender everything. Take heed to Adam and Eve—they had everything yet failed to trust the plan of My Father. This world is soon to perish into great turmoil for its lack of trust and surrendering to fear. I am not the God of fear, I am the Prince of Peace. The days of great mourning are coming. Many will not be able to seek My Mercy because they do not truly know it. Mothers will yearn for their children and fathers will weep because they will see how they have blindly trusted the author of deception. This world is in great need of My Visitation. This world needs to take the pleas of My Mother and recognize that it is only by taking her hand that you will be guided to her son, for I Am Jesus. Where will you run, My children, when the great wall of water ushers in new coastlines and cities that once were are no longer? Where will you take refuge when the great shaking begins and will echo all around this world? What will you surrender to when you see the deception that you have allowed your soul to be guided into when the true labor pains begin? My children, your only refuge is in My Most Sacred Heart. It is time to surrender to the truth and turn away from a world that seeks to devour your heart, mind, and soul. The devil uses the mind to trick the body to trap the soul. If you allow Me to take refuge in your heart and the Holy Spirit to guide you, then you have nothing to fear. Now go forth, for I am Jesus, and be at peace for My Mercy and Justice will prevail.

1:45PM

My child, I ask My children that each day at the hour of mercy, beginning on the first Sunday of Advent and continuing until the Feast Day of My Divine Mercy, that my children would recite one chaplet for those who are not prepared to meet me at their hour of death.

I ask My children to also recite one Rosary, particularly at this hour, if possible, praying for protection of families while meditating on the mysteries.

I ask My children to recite the St. Michael prayer for strength and protection from the enemy's attacks.

Now go forth and tell the world of my requests, for I am Jesus, and my mercy and justice will prevail.

(For those unaware, the hour of mercy is at 3:00PM)

12/25/2021

12:30PM

My Child, I am Jesus, the light of the world. Just as I came into the world over two thousand years ago and laid in a manger, today I quietly rest in the tabernacles of the world. Each time my children come to Mass and genuflect before Me, you are paying homage to your King and Savior just as the three wise men. Open your hearts to receive and fulfill the will of your Heavenly Father just as My Mother did. She surrendered her life to the divine plan. The greatest way to honor your Heavenly mother is to come and adore her Son, for I am Jesus.

I tell my children to come receive me into your hearts and allow my light to emanate the rays of my love through you because it is the light that can never be extinguished.

Come, my children, come and seek me as the wise men did. Follow the light and never let the sources of darkness lead you in the wrong direction. Ask for the graces needed during this time and live the Gospel message. Now go forth, for I am Jesus and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail.
