

One thing leads to other
One experience teaches more than a million words

Dot. This has always been my philosophy. A very natural & carefree (mind you, not careless) person by heart, I have always believed that everything I imbibe as an experience has some meaning, some thought in this magnanimous world. Life goes on but every moment lived, believed and felt gives one a new dimension. I am one such dimension like the million others and my focus is the most supreme creation by mankind
- CLOTHING.

It beholds all dimensions of life. It talks emotions. It talks about past, present and the future.

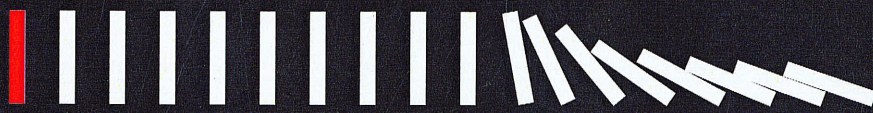

I stand as an epicenter, always curious, always receptive to this wondrous phenomenon christened FASHION.

Roam & wonder, ponder & plunge I delve into my sub-conscious creating myriad images, etching artworks into the grey matter of my conscious realities. Traveler at heart, was often nicknamed a gypsy ... it never bothered as the hunger to know & understand cultures, meeting people & grow was always a burning inferno within. The fire within & by the grace of the supreme my birth was bestowed in a well to do business class family who had earned & created their empire from creating clothing for the who's who of Ahmedabad (it's the place where I belong). Our enterprise managed under the creative & professional leadership of my father (my mentor, my inspirational source) has created a niche in menswear clothing – which proves my natural inclination towards it. The urge grew even more in menswear as the best mannequin to experiment in my early formation phase was 'me' in my mirror. I slowly & gradually fell in love with it. Today it stands as my foremost passion to learn & discover newer grounds for the same.

At first it all began with exploring my own rich motherland, its rich & varied heritage, its colorful & vibrant culture which left a lasting impression on my mind. The journey continued as my hunger grew... traveling all across Europe, the entire U.S., Australia, Africa, south east asia, Canada I interacted with amazing people and with my knack of picking up languages i got more closer to understand the real essence behind every smallest piece of fabric & its originality, the hidden stories which stay engraved into my very existence.

It made me more humble, at the same time it made me more & more confident as I realized that there is still lot to be done. Still lot to be explored. My this strong belief has brought me on the threshold of my dream. THE FASHION INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY. - F.I.T.

On my visit in its sprawling campus in march 2002 I remember I had walked on the pavements of manhattan right amidst the nucleus of fashion. Slowly as I carried myself towards my destination I saw the campus of F.I.T emerging in a fish-eye view covered with transparent glow of blue. My dream sparkled in the fresh dew of my eyes.
