1. OVERVIEW

OpenAsbestos is used to host site records and provides a means to retrieve asbestos information from systems that host the registers and/or reports for those sites.

To get started, you will require an API key which can be requested from devadmin@openasbestos.org. You will also need to supply your register's and/or report's API URL and connection details.

The base URL of the API is located at https://software.openasbestos.org.
