Historic Route 66

An important attraction running directly through the heart of Miami is Historic Route 66. With a deep history as America's most beloved highway, Route 66 has played a large part in the history of Oklahoma and Ottawa County. Often referred to as the "Birthplace of Route 66," Oklahoma was part of the road's beginning and is blessed to have more miles of this historic 2,400 mile roadway than any other state. Miami is home to the longest Main Street on all of Route 66 and is proud to have the Gateway Sign on South Main Street welcoming all those traveling the Mother Road.

Just outside of Miami is the last section of the original nine foot wide "Ribbon Road." Visit the original 9' section south of Miami at the junction of E. 140th Road and S. 550 Road. It is listed as an Oklahoma National Historic Landmark.

The Coleman Theatre Beautiful

Located on Route 66, the Coleman Theatre Beautiful is a beacon for tourists from around the world. Programming ranges from ballets and operas to country and western acts to jazz and dance bands.

Visitors from around the world flock to the historic vaudeville theatre to experience the Spanish Colonial Mission-style exterior and the Louis XV interior. They marvel at the use of gargoyles, dolphins, cherubs and faces throughout the facility. The theatre still holds its original pipe organ, the “Mighty Wurlitzer,” which provides music and sound effects for the silent movies. The Coleman Theatre Beautiful guest book reads like a geography text book with the number of different countries represented. And, all of those visitors have done their homework. How do we know that? Because they all want to hear the organ. The organ was built in 1928 and delivered for installation on Feb. 21, 1929. It sold for $35,000 in 1929 and is one of only a handful of Wurlitzer organs still in its original home.

The theatre, built by George L. Coleman Sr., was built in less than a year at a cost of $600,000. The Coleman Theatre opened on April 18, 1929, to a full house of 1,600, each paying $1.00 per ticket. Although the theatre has transformed from a vaudeville theatre to a movie house over the years, it has never been “dark.” Among the many stars who have performed on the Coleman Theatre stage are Will Rogers, Tom Mix, Sally Rand, Jim Thorpe, the magician Harry Blackstone and Moscelyne Larkin.

Arts & Culture

Miami is a community full of arts, culture and class. Route 66 Cultural District has added new murals in the community through the works of many artists. These amazing scenes join the historic “Visual Reflections” mural that was the work of Dr. Nick Calcagno and currently can be viewed on the east wall of Osborn Drugs. For more information about the Cultural District, visit their website at www.miamiokartsandhumanities.com. Paddlefish

(Spoonbill) Fishing

The Spoonbill season in Miami is March through April. During their early spring spawning run, Spoonbill can be caught by snagging with a stout surf rod, heavy test line and a large barbless treble hook.

Regulations:

- Oklahoma fishing license + paddlefish permit are required
- Annual limit - two fish; Daily limit - one fish
- Harvest is only permitted on Sun, Tue, Wed, Thu and Sat. Catch and release only on Mon and Fri.
- Snagging - one rod/pole per angler
- One barbless single hook or one barbless treble hook.
- Paddlefish not immediately released are considered kept and must be tagged immediately with the angler's paddlefish permit number with the date and time of harvest recorded on the permit.
- Harvest reporting is mandatory within 24 hours.

LIFE JACKETS SAVE LIVES

Many boaters say they don't wear a life jacket because it is too hot, or it will mess up their tan line, or they are simply not comfortable. But, an accident happens without warning and usually after the accident, the life jackets are not within reach—stored in cabinets, trapped under the boat or floating far away in the water.

We would like to remind boaters that it's important to wear a life jacket at all times on our lakes. And remember...Boat Safe, Boat Smart and Boat Sober!
