A MESSAGE FROM YOUR ZOR POTENTATE

It's finally here . . . Summer! Once again it will prove to be a busy and active time in Zorland. As I look around and see the return of migrating birds, new leaves on the trees, and the late spring and early summer flowers, I can't help but to think of all of the activities planned for the summer. Clubs and units will be busy with outdoor fun and fellowship and traveling from parade to parade. What a great time to be a Shrine Mason and out promoting our fraternity and philanthropy! Be safe my brothers and sisters and be sure to have fun!

Lady and Judy and I want to thank the Nobles, ladies, and guests who attended the Spring Ceremonial in Eau Claire. Reports are that those attending the 'Mystery Event' on Friday evening had a good time and enjoyed the mode of transportation and harps playing in the background. Thank you to MWGM Arby Humphrey and Lady Cindy for joining us for this event. It was great to have them at our spring ceremonial. I would especially like to thank Noble Tom Monson from Eau Claire for all of his help in organizing the 'Mystery Event'. He and his lady Sue were there making sure everything was in order and ready to go!

I would also like to thank all who attended the Ceremonial on Saturday, where we welcomed nine new Nobles into our Shrine! There are several candidates who couldn't attend this Ceremonial and will be inducted through various 'Cold Sands' initiations and attend the fall ceremonial in La Crosse. Thanks to Noble and Divan member Brian Dunham and the Mehara Shrine Club for all of their help with the spring ceremonial. Your work is greatly appreciated.

Two semi trucks loaded with fresh Vidalia Onions were delivered in Zorland where our sales force of Nobles and ladies took over and sold them out in almost record time. Thank you to all the clubs and units and friends of Shriners who worked very hard unloading and in many cases reloading onions to be sold and delivered. I also want to thank all of the folks who purchased the onions and supported Zor Shriners. I especially want to thank Noble and Assistant Rabban, Barry Ausen, for all of his hard work coordinating and running our Vidalia Onion Fundraiser.

I attended the Madison Clown Steak Fry on May 8th, which was very well attended. Believe it or not, even 'Clowns' can really cook steaks to perfection! It was a fun event and great to spend some time with fellow Shriners and ladies. In some respects it was a little difficult for me, as several of the clowns I rarely see when they are not in clown character with their makeup and all the trimmings. It is noteworthy to mention that the Madison Clowns are the first clowns in all of Shrinedom. They originated 80 years ago in May of 1938. Congratulations on your 80th birthday and keep up the great work bringing joy and fun to children of all ages!

June will see the Mehara Shrine Club's Shrine Circus in Eau Claire and Menomonie. The circus will be in Eau Claire on June 12th and 13th, followed by performances held in Menomonie on June 14th. Check the Zephyr or the Zor website for show times. I hope to see many Nobles wearing their Fez at the circus performances.

The annual Zor Sportsman's Raffle tickets are now out and available for Nobles to obtain for sale. This is one of our key fundraisers for the year and I encourage each and every Noble to purchase and sell the tickets. There are a total of 2,500 tickets to sell. If every noble would purchase only one ticket and sell at least two more, we would sell out all of the tickets. Tickets are $20 each or a book of 6 tickets for $100. There are 40 guns and each ticket is in for each drawing. When a winning ticket is drawn, before the next drawing takes place, that ticket is placed back in the barrel and could possibly be drawn again. Sportsman's Raffle

Chairman, Noble Miles Bradley, informed me that the drawing will be held on Sunday, October 7th, at the Zor Temple in Madison. Following the drawing, we will be having the last steak fry of the year on the eve prior to departing for the Zor Temple trip to Branson, Missouri. Raffle tickets are available through your club and unit officers or your Divan representative. Tickets can also be obtained by contacting the Zor office at (608) 833-6343. I want to thank Miles for all of his hard work and efforts to make the Sportsman's Raffle a huge success. Please help your temple by supporting this fundraiser and having 'zero' tickets left unsold at the time of the drawing.

Don't forget Zorfest on July 21st, at Eagle Field in Sparta, WI. The Zorfest committee has been working hard to bring quality entertainment for our enjoyment. The music festival will be a lot of fun and is another significant fundraiser for Zor Shriners. Please make plans to attend and bring your family and friends. Like I mentioned earlier, this summer is busy with outside fun and fellowship.

Be sure to take pictures of your events and submit them to the Zephyr staff with a short explanation as to who is there and what the event was all about. Simply attach photos to an email and send it to: zorsubmit@gmail.com. Our 'Imagineers' are really making a difference in our communications and are making the Zephyr better and better each month.

One reminder to all of our Nobles that you are on the Membership Committee! Keep in mind to talk with and encourage your brothers in your Blue Lodges to consider becoming 'Shrine Masons'. Let them know that we have a new spirit of enthusiasm in Zor Shriners and our mission of helping kids is more important than ever! Again, in the words of our Imperial Potentate Gary Bergenski, "I am committed now R U".

Time is running out to sign up for the Zor Temple Trip to Branson, Missouri, leaving from Madison on Monday, October 8th and returning on October 13th. Look in this issue of the Zephyr for more information.

Our next Divan meeting will be held in Janesville at the Masonic Center on June 18th followed by a steak fry hosted by the Rock County Shrine Club. Everyone is welcome to join us at the steak fry!

We continue to stress that we want to have 'fun' while we are Shriners 'Delivering Hope'.

HOSPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

Brachial plexus palsy is a condition that affects roughly one in every 1,000 newborns. It occurs most commonly, though not exclusively, when the brachial plexus, a group of nerves around the shoulder, is affected during birth. Most children with brachial plexus palsy, which can cause difficulty with shoulder movement, do not need surgical intervention and can improve with the help of physical and occupational therapy.

Shriners Hospitals
for Children®

Early rehabilitation therapy can potentially prevent additional problems that can accompany brachial plexus palsy, such as trunk weakness and torticollis, a condition in which the neck muscles are twisted beyond their normal position. If the brachial plexus nerves are stretched, scarred or disconnected and surgical intervention is required, the specialists at Shriners Hospitals for Children® — Chicago perform surgery when the child is 6 to 10 months of age. The procedure includes removing scarred nerves and potentially performing a nerve transfer.

"The goal is for the patient's arm to be as functional as possible," said Sue Mukherjee, M.D., FRCPC, the medical director of the hospital's specialty rehabilitation program. She hosts a clinic for children with brachial plexus palsy once a month.

The rehab team at the Chicago Shriners Hospital works closely with the surgeons and Dr. Mukherjee to ensure that every facet of the child's course of care is covered. After receiving treatment, children are followed until they are 3 or 4 years old to ensure that no further care for brachial plexus palsy is needed.

ZOR'S SPRING CEREMONIAL

Fun Combined With An Important Lesson

By Mark Hazelbaker, Zor Marshal

Nine Masons joined the Zor Shrine Caravan Saturday, May 19th in a weekend that featured fun, fellowship and, a significant life lesson.

For months, Potentate Gary Cuskey had been touting the Friday night event of the Ceremonial – a “Mystery Dinner.” But, it would not involve solving a murder. Nor would it involve a school lunch-like serving of some indeterminable kind of meat.

Instead, the Potentate stated, the unknown would be where and what the guests would have for dinner. All the participants, therefore, had to book dinner on faith. More than 50 Shriners and ladies did so. The only thing anyone knew was the time – that we would meet at 5:30 pm at the hotel.

When that time arrived, the group realized that a Potentate with a bus company has certain capabilities. Potentate Cuskey had the newest Navistar yellow school bus in his fleet ready and waiting to transport the group. Another bus carried overflow. Those aboard were truly committed – they not only accepted a “blind date” kind of dinner, they surrendered the ability to leave by placing themselves at mercy of the bus company owner.

Fortunately, it was a safe decision. The Temple has given Potentate Cuskey no reason for him to exact revenge, at least not yet. But, the bus left the hotel and headed north on Highway 53, which leads to Spooner, the Potentate's hometown. Was he taking the group to dinner at Nick's Family Restaurant in that august community? The bus driver answered that question in the negative by turning easterly on to Highway 29, which goes all the way to Green Bay. Some immediately started speculating the destination was Lambeau Field. That choice was plausible – Potentate Gary is a loyal Packer fan amidst many supporters of a team from Minneapolis still 13 NFL championships behind the Packers. But the destination was impractical. A few wondered if they were heading for the Thorpedo in Thorp, but the bus turned off soon after we passed Chippewa Falls.

A few turns down country roads and 10 minutes off the highway and the group was dropped off in a meadow by a barn, at Cabin Ridge rides, whose nominal address is Cadott.

Then, the group boarded a large wagon drawn by a two-horse team and were ferried about a mile into the woods to a remote and primitive Lodge. It was primitive in the strict sense of that word – no electricity, running water or indoor plumbing. That turned out to be a good thing. There's nothing more relaxing than a quiet place free of the distractions of radios and glaring lights.

2018 Spring Ceremonial

The group had a gracious evening to mix, chat and eat a hearty dinner of chicken kiev and baked potato, all of which was delicious and notably hot. There was entertainment – a pair of harp players with full size instruments. They rendered a surprising range of popular music. It’s amazing how two harps can perform a moving version of “Stairway to Heaven,” for example.

As darkness set in and mosquitoes began dive bombing, the group were returned from whence they came, riding slowly in the wagons through the woods, enjoying the quiet passage. After a return bus ride, the diners dispersed, some to the Zor hospitality room and more to the kind of peaceful sleep you have after being in the country for a while.

Saturday dawned sunny with perfect temperatures. Twenty or so Zor members rose early to unload the props, costumes and set up for the day. The Divan members then retreated to get dressed. Proving that they clean up well, the Divan showed up nattily attired in white jackets, evoking the feel of Spring. Potentate Cuskey opened the Temple for business and ceremony. He thanked Mehara Shrine Club for acting as host of the weekend events and finding nine quality candidates to join Zor.

Discussing the previous night’s dinner, the Potentate asked if everyone had enjoyed it. The crowd responded strongly in the affirmative. He told the group that he and his wife, First Lady Judy, originally had dinner at the Cabin Ridge Lodge in the winter. They rode a horse-drawn sleigh to the Lodge and loved it. That experience led him to want to host the Zor guests at a dinner. He then made a major point – the most important point of the entire ceremonial: He asked the group how many would have gone to the dinner if he had told them in advance there was no electricity or indoor plumbing. The reaction was clear; most of the guests probably would not have.

The point should not be lost. Too often in our lives, we decide against trying something new or different based on incomplete information. We don’t trust the judgment and insight of others enough to take a chance that we might enjoy something new. In the instance of the mystery dinner, that could have meant that many would not have enjoyed some relaxing, friendly fellowship and the fun of riding into the woods on a horse-drawn wagon. Potentate Cuskey’s decision to keep the details of the dinner a mystery gave dozens the chance to have a genuinely good time – because he appealed to their faith.

Shriners hold annual Hospital Day in the Twin Cities

By Milt Helmer

Scores of Shriners from all over the upper Midwest gathered at the Shrine Hospital for Children® in the Twin Cities on Saturday, May 19 to celebrate the hospital's 95 years of service.

The event not only featured Shrine units and vendors but also tours of the Hospital facilities.

In addition, Hospital Administrator, Charles Lobeck chaired an informative briefing on the plans for the hospital going forward. He shared the financial operations and delved into the operating issues being faced by all Shriners Hospitals for Children® throughout the country.

There will be a coming shift in operations owing to the need to save costs and expand patient care. Today, patients needing care must travel from as far away as Nebraska and the Dakotas for orthopedic care. Future plans include offering care in satellite clinics closer to the patient's homes, thereby saving not only time but family expenses.

Shriners Hospitals for Children® — Twin Cities is renowned for its orthopedic care and cutting-edge technology. And, with the introduction of outlying clinics patients and their families will still receive that same care but in a more efficient form.

According to Lobeck, this concept is part of an overall shift in health care allowing Shriners Hospitals to offer care to more kids in more locations.

He put to rest the rumor that Shriners Hospital in the Twin Cities is closing. It is not. Just reconfiguring to keep pace with more modern trends.

In 2017 Shriners Hospitals for Children® — Twin Cities had 3,050 unique patients, 467 surgeries. The hospital made 2,520 orthoses and prostheses and had 37 outreach and screening clinics. In addition the hospital held 22 specialty camps and events.

It is hoped the Twin Cities Hospital will increase the numbers of kids served more efficiently.

The nine men who joined Zor on Saturday May 19th demonstrated faith as well. No matter how thoroughly anyone researches the Shrine prior to joining, no one can truly know what it is like. It comes down to believing in men who have gone before you when they tell a prospect that the Shrine offers an unequalled chance to combine fun and philanthropy. We all need to learn from the experience of the mystery dinner. Life is always, in part, a mystery. We must struggle to have faith and trust that we have much to gain by trying something new.

That faith led the nine candidates through the zany and lovable initiation ritual. As usual, the ritual Divan demonstrated that performing without rehearsals serves only to enhance the comedic value of the ceremony. Building on familiar themes of Masonry, the candidates reaffirmed vows to be steadfast, charitable and to show compassion to others. They were reminded to follow the teachings of Holy Writings. Finally, accepted into the Shrine as new Nobles, they were invited to join the unending Caravan of the Shrine. Later, the nine received their Fez and significant information about involvement in the Shrine.

At the business meeting during the Ceremonial, Nobles had the opportunity to express thanks to Arby Humphrey, then nearing the end of his tenure as Grand Master of Masons of the Grand Lodge of Wisconsin. The assembled group recognized two Zor members for 60 years of membership. And at the Ceremonial banquet, the group welcomed Queen Beth Schaefer of the Daughters of the Nile Antioch Temple 113.

Every Ceremonial differs somewhat. We hope to build on what worked to make the next event better. There were many positives from this weekend with which to move forward.

TECHNOLOGY MADE SIMPLE, JUST LIKE IT USED TO BE

Steve Livernash
PUBLIC RELATIONS DIRECTOR
prosticker@solarus.net

Understanding technology is like a card game. Everyone knows the deck and 500 games can be played. With a little effort enjoyable games can be learned. Just like a smartphone, once you learn a command or two it opens new opportunities that can be enjoyable as well.

Technology can greatly enhance modern day living and make life simpler. Looking back at my own timeline of the past, I can see the changes. I remember the old milk cans and how my Dad threw them up into the box truck one in each hand. My job was to turn each can, so the numbers faced the door. For a little guy that was a lot of effort. Bulk tanks then replaced the cans and now the farmers job is made easier with automated machines.

I had the pleasure of growing up with an uncle who had no power or running water. My most enjoyable times were spent learning the ways of manual labor in the fields. Using the outhouse which grew large spiders. Getting the water from the hand pump to wash up for a wood stove meal. Even had the old player piano which was our entertainment. As, the old wind up mantle clock clicked and clocked the rooms dimmed to the glow of a kerosene wall lantern. The day was done, and the wood stove was filled for the night. Awakening to the birds chirping and the rays of the sun began the day without an alarm clock. The cows a mooing and a rooster welcoming in the new day. The smell of the wood stove and filling the wood room was first task as I watched the big black ants trying to find a new home.

I thought my uncle was poor, but he really was not, just didn't need all the new advanced stuff. Cutting wood was made easy with the old tractor and PTO belt driven saw. The belt was used for grinding the corn stalks as well. My hand was leather strapped with a corn cob hook. Ripper down the middle and peel off the husk and throw the cob on the wagon. Then came the sweat of making wood and staying clear of the falling dead timber. "Hard work gets you where you want to be", I heard in the background. Memories of what hard work really was inspires the mind to invent new things to make life easier.

Along with these memories that I share, lost are the technologies that once were in place as normal everyday living. Flushing toilets, running water, set the thermostat has made life easy. How about the wall switch and ceiling fan? Air conditioning, microwaves and smartphones. Casino goers are the biggest video gamers of today as the slot machines are incredible. Along with the GPS system built into your car. Times have changed, sending men to the moon has led to orbital satellites. Space has paved the path of new technologies we use today.

Just as new technology today has changed now how we live. We are in store for some amazing things to come just as the comics projected space walks on Mars. In my own business technology has changed how I do things. I used to hand brush letter and pinstripe truck doors, airbrush murals and bike tanks. Now as I write there is a 3D printer making weird noises, developing a product from ABS fed plastic. Laser engraver etching and cutting parts. Large format printer printing off pictures.... Wow how far technology has come and replaced manual labor. Remember space advancements...Koral and I live in a big section of woods in central Wisconsin and with a single internet signal, sell our vinyl art to 88 countries around the world.

Looking back as a little boy stacking wood by day and looking to the stars at night, with dreams of mystery. Never hearing the words internet or computer and someday learn the meaning. Most all those memories shared are of past technologies replaced with simpler advancements. Embracing these advancements have made life a lot easier if you allow it. That is why the "Imagineers" understand the issues Nobles may have with technology and are here to help resolve and teach. One touch can make life simple! Back to the way it used to be! "Imagine that"

Glacier Ridge Hillbilly Clan 183 met for some vitals and fun. The location was up in Plover at Shooters. Had about 3 or so couples join the clan family. Can't hardly wait till the next go around and see all the cousins.

BEWARE! Shriner Scam

A long-time Shriner from Moslem Shriners in Detroit recently received a telephone call from someone claiming to be a Shriner from Chicago affiliated with York Rite in Chicago. They told him that they were selling jerseys/jackets and the proceeds would help less fortunate Shrine Members who needed financial support. They told him that it was 2 payments that would equal $169.00. They then asked for his credit card number.

The Moslem Shriner provided his credit card number and told them to just take the $169 all in one payment. He was very happy to be helping Shriners in Need.

When he received his bill, they had charged him $369.89. The statement said that the charge was for "Direct Publications in Texas."

The Shriner call his credit card company and they informed him that it was a scam.

In addition, they sew clothing and make quilts, and provide toys, books, games and other educational and recreational items for the children's use, with an annual value of donated items in excess of $1,000,000.

Wednesday June 6th – Shriners everywhere will observe our annual Shriners International Awareness Day

This is a celebratory day when Shriners across the world make an extra effort to raise awareness for our beloved fraternity, its Masonic values and the impact it continues to have on so many of its members and the many children who have been served by our healthcare system, Shriners Hospitals for Children®.

As you go about your day keep in mind to promote our fraternity and always display a positive attitude. Also be reminded that we are all on the 'Membership Committee' and be sure to talk with your Blue Lodge brothers to encourage them to broaden their Masonic activities by becoming a Shrine Mason! As MWGM Arby Humphrey has said many times, 'there are many good men the State of Wisconsin who should be Masons'. We need to identify them and invite them to join with us to have "fun with a purpose". I am committed, now R U.
