

Old song, new words

By Andrea Neidle

(Inspired by: At A Sunny Window)

We'll eat out again
Don't know where
Don't know when
But we'll eat out again
Some sunny day

We'll go to theatres too
Just like we used to do
Once we're allowed
back on the motorway

Please say hello
To the hairdresser I know
Tell her my hair's quite long
And if you should see
Anyone that knows me
You can sing them this song

We'll hug again
Don't know where
Don't know when
But I know we'll hug again
Some sunny day

We'll shake hands too
And I'll stand right next to you
When the blue skies
Chase these dark clouds far away

And when our loved ones die
We'll be there to say goodbye
Just like we used to do

We'll meet again
Don't know where
Don't know when
But I know we'll meet again
Some sunny day

Maybe some day next year
We'll gather without fear
Although that day
may be very far away

Although it's hard for me and you
With loved ones dying too
But we know this thing will one day go away

When our grandchildren have grown
And have children of their own
You can sing them this song

So will you please hug hello
To the family we know
Tell them we miss them so
Tell them it won't be long

Till we meet again
Don't know where
Don't know when
Some sunny day
