

Road Safety

Little Tommy was always told
Be careful when you cross the road
But alas to tell that one sad day
A vehicle got in his way.

Twelve year old Tommy was on his way home
Busily chatting on his phone
He didn't look up or left and right
He must have had an awful fright.

If only he had looked to the left
His family wouldn't have been bereft
Tommy was swept right off his feet
When trying to cross a one way street.

The moral of this homily
Is do look up occasionally
Your phone might be your new best friend
But it can lead to a sticky end!
