

TIME WAS

I look in the mirror
And what do I see
Where is the girl
That used to be me?

I see hair that's grey
Where once it was brown
There are lines on my face
And my lips are turned down

The waist that once was
Is no longer slim
It has thickened and coarsened
Without days at the gym

The friends that I had
Where have they gone
They've all moved away
And left me alone

The love of my youth
The passionate lover
We could pass on the street
And not know one another

But the one that I married
We're still together
Through good times and bad
Fair and foul weather

We've had ups and downs
Since I was a bride
I've faced it all gladly
With him by my side

So what if my hair
Is no longer brown?
Who cares if my mouth
Sometimes turns down?

The love in his eyes
Tells me everything's fine
Some things never change
With the passing of time
