

Boho Chic

The joys of festivals in the UK
With four different seasons all in one day
Varieties of bands on various stages
Walking around takes ages and ages
The sun now scorching in the sky
And rainbow flags are flying high

Boho chic - the clothes you must wear
Don't forget the flowers in your hair
You float along in maxi dress
Hoping that the look will impress
Then rain pours down and you fill with fear
Maybe flip-flops were not such a good idea

A few wines on, it's time for a penny
You start to queue with a crowd of many
Towards the loo you slip and slide
Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide
The floor awash with God knows what
A positive salmonella hot spot

With one hand you secure the loo door
Whilst maxi skirt trails on the floor
Now to hover over the toilet bowl
Then try and grab some toilet roll
Hand washing is the next task
Is running water too much to ask?

But it's time for you to face the fact
You've actually missed the headline act
Next weekend will be Glastonbury
Best advice? Watch it on the telly!