

Desert Sand

Alternate Candle in the Wind – Elton John

Verse 1.

The stars still burn into my sight
I recall the, coldness of the night
When you warmed me, with your finger tips
Crumpled sheets caressed, your moonlit hips
The sheen has crept away now, into another place
Now all I long for, is the memory of your face
And life was so good, in the warmth of your embrace
And I can still remember, every feature of your face

Chorus

And the day is long, and the world is hard,
And I need you by my side
There's no one else to turn to, now your love has died
And I want to hear the whisper, in your voice
But I know I never will
Your love for me, slid into the night
Your shadow dims my sight

Verse 2

I walk a road of purgatory
In your dreams I hope you see me
And the road I walk along
And the dessert, where I now belong
Where you left me, when you went away
Please don't say, there's nothing left to say

Repeat Chorus

Verse 3

Without your love, the world's a bleaker place
And my beating heart, is just an empty space
And the gulf between us, is more than I can take
The dream of you still clings, when I awake
And I never stopped from loving you
The person that you are
You trod softly through my soul
Then went away so far
Perhaps one day you'll remember
The lover you once knew
As I will always, remember you
