

Opposing Views

(A reverse poem)

A world at peace is impossible
So don't try to convince me that
Harmony is an attainable dream
Because at the end of the day
Tyranny and greed will always triumph
You'd be lying to me if you said
We all share a dream of goodwill
Shall I remind you that
War and injustice will always prevail
Nothing you say will make me believe that
Peace begins with a smile
Because no matter what you say
Mankind was born to fear and hate
I'm not convinced that
Love conquers all
Whenever I watch the news I think
Will I see a world at peace in my lifetime?

(Now read from bottom to top.)