FisherOfMen here.

Today is 10/8/17. A prison riot broke out this morning during breakfast between the blacks and the mexicans most likely over debt owed to the mexicans. I "run" with the white "car" which means the early morning battle didn't involve me or my people. The chow hall holds about 200 inmates, and there are only two prison guards assigned to baby sit 200 people. One of the two guards hides inside a metal cage with a shotgun. The first shot is a blank, but the guard ignored ~~by~~ policy by not firing the warning shot. He pumped the shotgun twice to eject the blank and put a live round in the chamber. The guard took aim at a mans face and shot him from only a few feet away. He's now blind in both eyes. During the fight one guy was somehow scalped, and his skin was hanging from his head. Two or more people were stabbed, and there was blood all over the place. Some people were ducking for cover, and some were ducking for cover, and some were casually eating breakfast like popcorn during a movie. As for me, well, I was sleeping peacefully in my bed because I usually don't go to breakfast. I always miss out on all the action. My celly was there to see it. He took cover under the prison guard cage window. I woke up around 2pm and asked him why we were on lockdown. I'm bummed out because tomorrow is ~~a~~ store day, and I'm almost out of coffee. Lockdown means no store, but at least I still have my eyes unlike that guy who took shotgun pellets to the face!

On the bright side, I'll be getting some much needed R&R during the next 3-7 days of 24 hour lock down. My routine includes a workout regiment 6 days a week for 2 hours a day, and not a day goes by that my whole body isn't sore. I call prison "Workout University" ~~and~~ ^{but} most people call this place "Gladiator School." In prison, your strength, and size is your ~~self~~ defense, and protection. Extortioners, and bullies don't pick on people they can't overpower and intimidate. They prey only on the weak. The only people here who are bullied are the weak, skinny people. I started working out to look good for myself, but now I'm respected more because ^{people} are intimidated by my size. A while back I was extorted for $17, and I gave the guy $17 only to keep the peace. Now, if I wanted to, I could beat him up and snap him like a twig, but I won't, because the Bible says to overcome evil with good. I did exactly that. A few weeks later I gave him a free bag of coffee, and some junk food. My random act of generosity, and kindness caught him off guard, and he had a giant smile on his face. In prison nothing is free and everyone is ~~out~~ out for themselves, and so he had a change of heart towards me. Not too long after that he took me aside and asked me to show him how to pray to God, and he started crying!! Sometime later he became the "shot caller" for our unit and so making him a friend instead of an enemy was beneficial in more than one way. No matter what, I know I have God's protection, and so I saw it as a test when God allowed me to be extorted for $17. →

The Bible says if your enemy asks for your shirt, give him your cloak also. If your enemy says to go with him one mile, go with him two miles. If your enemy is hungry or thirsty, give him food, and drink. I gave him $17 not because I feared him, but because I fear God, and want to obey His word. And I know God will bless me for obeying Him.

I'll end this letter with some good news. Word is spreading that ^{all} class B felonies will be getting 40% taken off the front end of sentences. What this means is I'll be eligible for parole immediately and if I get parole, I'll be out of prison in a few months. This is due to a bill that was passed to reduce over population in prison. Please pray for me, and ask God to grant me parole. I'll keep everyone updated.

Sincerely,

Fisher O'Men
