Death of the firstborn (Passover)

To the Teacher:

This program is designed to help your students remember lists of things by using association. To teach the program, first go through numbers 1 thru 10 until they can remember what each number represents and call them out quickly.

Then, take them to the next step; apply it to a list of items or events such as the 10 plagues of Egypt as illustrated. Have them imagine each plague as you slowly go through 1 thru 10 and visualize them in their own minds. The pictures in this booklet are only suggestions, your students may be more creative and come up with their own vivid imaginations. Whatever it takes to associate it with its number. Sometimes the sillier the picture is, the easier it is to remember. They are certainly not made to look silly to demean the Scriptures in any way. Just a note, however, be sure to emphasize to small children that, for example, the 6th plague was not boils on all the monkey's tails or the 10th was not that the first little Indian died, etc.

After rehearsing a list several times, they will be able to tell you (in any order) the items or events.

Have fun, but mostly, use this to bless the lives of others to help them hide the Word of God in their hearts.
