Summary / Synopsis

PREVIOUS SUBMISSION

Jefferson County SO; Wednesday, 02/01/2012

On February 1, 2012, Jeffrey Weinhaus (the Bulletin man) published threats against local law enforcement and courts in his newsletter. Although the threats were non-specific to any one agency or person, the threats did include sheriffs, local law enforcement agencies, and courts, and included one reference to a possible explosive device.

Weinhaus has a history of threats of violence against county governments and office holders, although he has not acted on any of them. Weinhaus prints a monthly newsletter and maintains a website (bulletinman.com), where he expresses these views, as well.

Any officer having contact with Weinhaus should use caution, and assume the interaction is being recorded.
