Deadline for Articles is the 20th of preceding month in order to have it printed in the following issue. Articles from the membership are welcomed and will be printed as space permits. Members may advertise at no charge, either for items for sale or requests to obtain.

Editorials and/or letters to the editor are the personal opinion of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the official policy of the club.

From The President Fred Trusty

When you receive this newsletter the swap meet will be just a few days away. Even though it's a lot of work it's still a lot of fun. Yes, some of our vendors can be difficult to deal with but as I tell myself, just smile and wave, all the way to the bank because the swap meet income is what subsidizes the entire year's activities.

I just returned from the AACA annual meeting in Philadelphia where the main topic of discussion is the new headquarters building. We hope to take possession of the property sometime this month and then the renovations will begin. Most members don't realize that the AACA Library is the premier source in the world for the history, evolution, and literature of motorized vehicles. We just acquired another huge collection of automotive literature so we need more space to house it all. I've seen the preliminary artwork for the design and I can't wait to see the finished product in a year or so. This is a ten-million-dollar project and we are almost three quarters of the way there. The fund raising experts told us to expect big donations in the first year or so and then things will taper off sharply. They were right. If every AACA member donated just $50 we would be there but as it's looking now, we will have to borrow some money.

A nonprofit borrowing money is not wise but at this point it's too late to turn back. At the business meeting on Saturday afternoon someone suggested we pass the hat around for donations to the building fund. I thought that we'd be lucky to get $400. Boy was I wrong. The total was $2100. If you can find it in your budget to make a donation, please contact AACA headquarters or myself for more information. Any amount will be appreciated and its tax deductible. If you're over the age of 70-1/2 you can make a direct donation from your 401K or IRA with no taxes on the donation. I was supposed to talk about Kyana membership this month but to keep my article from taking up too much space I'm going to have to put it off until next month. But I will say that each year it gets more and more difficult to fill all the time slots at the swap meet. Thanks to all the members that work multiple shifts. It's your efforts that help make the Kyana Swap Meet engine run smooth.

Spring is right around the corner and that means driving our cars. Members have expressed the desire for more car driving tours so get the old buggy ready roll because that's what we are focusing on again this year.

Remember, it's all about history, education, and having fun. By the way, I'm still looking for some worn out 3 x 28 tires so I can get my 1912 Maxwell rolling, so if you see any at the swap meet let me know.

Fred

KYANA Events By: Chester Robertson

Its that time of the year again for Kyana to put on the largest and greatest indoor swap meet in the country. Few of you may not realize that some members of Kyana work hours every week preparing for the three day event that is our money maker. Perry Probst spends a lot of time getting the vendors in place for the show each spring. Pat Palmer-Ball takes all the checks that come in all year long and makes deposits as necessary along with paying all the bills during the year. Several members spend time working during the year, but the whole club gets involved for the show held during the second week-end of March each year.

We have 20 chairpersons that have a special job to do each year. One of the largest jobs is the person that recruits and assigns members to work the ticket locations. This is now a three day job. Most windows have at least four or more workers at a door with two shifts a day. This job is performed by Joanna Miller each year. Another important job is that of security directed by Mark Kubancik who's job is to keep out persons trying to sneak in and not paying. This job is very important to make sure our walk-ins pay to make our club the money to have activities for the events all year. Each chairperson performs an essential part of the show. Every worker plays a very important part of our meet. You can still call me and I will assign you an important position to do at our meet.

Kyana activities are just around the corner with the Salvage Yard Tour on March the 30th. with a great restaurant to enjoy at the end. On April 14 we will be going back to Big Springs Country Club for the Appreciation Dinner you will remember until the next big outing. Don't forget to send your check in to reserve your place and pick up your check at the dinner. On the last week-end of April we have our first meet of the year at the Iroquois Park Show for the benefit of the Louisville Youth Orchestra.

*See you,
Chester*

MY 1941 DODGE... LIKE THE ONE DAD DROVE(BUT NICER)

My first remembrance of a car was my dad's 41 Dodge four door sedan. It was a very used car when he got it sometime in the early fifties. Being a very small person at the time I mostly remember the lower half of the car and sharing the seats inside the car with my brothers and sister. I do remember the heater hanging under the dash from the front seat. Once during the winter I put my foot near the little door that was opened that let the heat out. I didn't know the fan would cut a hole in the toe of my boot. (The screen was missing from the hole in the heater.)

Our favorite past time in the back seat was watching the road pass under the rust holes in the floor. Dad used old license plates, wood or anything else to cover those holes but they seemed to always grow larger. If we were going on a dirt road (which was often in those days) dust would blow up into the car. We were careful where we stood on that floor.

A few years later he traded the 41 for a 48 Dodge two door sedan. It was a very nice car, gray with a full unruined floor. The rear end had the nicest hum while we went down the road. It never changed or got louder so that's the way it was. I went to sleep many evenings in that back seat on the way home from a long day out some where. A few years later Dad got a newer 52 Dodge Meadowbrook four door. He kept the 48 to sell on his own so it sat next to the garage for a week or two. When I got home from school I would change clothes and go out and play in that car. I drove it many miles sitting there shifting the gears and clutch and brakes behind that big steering wheel.

Many decades later I went to a car show in the mountains of North Carolina. There I saw a 41 Dodge coupe. It brought back memories of those days gone by. The next summer I was in the same mountains and at another show and there was a 41 Dodge coupe for sale. The man even let me drive it around the field. As I never thought about having an old car I enjoyed the day and moved on. But the next summer we went to the same show and the 41 was there again and still for sale. The man remembered me and let me drive it again. As we talked my wife said " you should get this car" . I got the man's address and agreed to go look at it at his place.

The car was in good shape with new paint and a new interior from top to bottom. I crawled under it from front to back. It had no rust or bad things under all that dirt. It had no work done under it and still had a thick layer of grease and old oil everywhere. The man asked "what are you going to do with it?" I said drive it and enjoy it. After more talking he asked if I would put a V8 in it. I said why would I do that. Well we closed the deal. The following week a friend and I went down there and picked it up and brought it to it's new home in LaGrange. That was in the fall of 1996.

After driving two years, a seven year restoration, it's been on the road over twelve years. I still drive it as much as I can. We did a tour at the end of last summer of 119 miles with the original engine still in it. Yes! I did a lot of work for seven years, but it is in original condition right down to 6 volts and still running points. That's the way it was back then and that is the way it's going to be now.

Salvage Yard Tour

Mark your calendar for March 30 when the salvage yard tour returns to the KYANA activity list. This year we will make a return visit to a site north of West Fork, Indiana that we visited many years ago. The yard has expanded since our last visit, adding more vintage cars and trucks to their already large inventory. Rob Johnson and I made a scouting run in late January and confirmed that this yard should keep most KYANA members busy for at least a couple hours. The yard operator is very accommodating and is looking forward to our visit in late March.

Most salvage yards in early spring can be very muddy, messy places, and this yard is no exception. Please plan accordingly, dress in old clothes, and wear boots or other footwear you do not mind getting muddy and dirty. You may want to bring a change of shoes to wear on the return trip. If you plan to remove some needed parts, please bring your own tools. There is limited parking at the yard itself so it would help to keep the cars in the caravan to a minimum. Please carpool with your fellow Club members if possible and leave your car in one of the parking lots close to our morning meeting location.

After we have worked up an appetite at the salvage yard, we will venture southeast a short distance to dine at The Overlook Restaurant in Leavenworth, IN. KYANA has eaten as a group at The Overlook before, and like then, we will dine as a group in one of their private rooms. We will be served a buffet style meal of fried chicken, roast beef with gravy, green beans, mashed potatoes with white gravy, baby carrots, two flavors of cobbler for dessert, and coffee, iced tea, or water.

On Saturday morning, March 30, we will meet at 8:45 a.m. at the McDonalds restaurant located at Georgetown exit 118 of I-64 west in southern Indiana. McDonalds is located just north of I-64 at 1051 N Luther Rd, Georgetown, IN 47122. There is adequate parking in the McDonalds lot as well as additional parking at the grocery store across the street. Again, please consider carpooling with a fellow member or two and leave your vehicle in Georgetown.

We will depart McDonalds at 9:15 a.m. so plan to arrive a little early if you wish to eat breakfast at McDonalds. Breakfast will be on your own. We will provide detailed directions to the salvage yard before departing the McDonalds.

If you plan to dine with the KYANA group, cost per KYANA member is only $8.00. Cost for non-members is $18.75 including water, iced tea, or coffee. There is no cost to attend if you decide not to eat with the group, however, if you plan to attend this tour and will not be eating with the group and therefore not sending a check, please extend the courtesy of notifying me that you plan to attend. This will allow me to know how many members and guests to expect at the salvage yard.

Please note: KYANA's salvage yard tours take place rain or shine! There is no rain date, and since we must commit to The Overlook on March 28, NO REFUNDS will be granted if your plans change after March 27. Thanks for your cooperation and understanding.

Deadline to register for this event is March 27. Send your check payable to KYANA to:
