Guided Historic House Tour—Saturday, April 13, 11am

Have you ever wondered about the Gutiérrez-Hubbell House, its cultural, architectural and historical significance? Here is your chance to learn more and discover why this Territorial-style 1850s adobe home and surrounding property is considered so significant and has both state and national historic recognition. Learn about some of the fascinating history of this very prominent bilingual, bicultural family and the connection they had to the El Camino Real. Tour given by Site Manager.

Rosalia Canta Nuevo Mexico, presented by Rosalia Pacheco—Saturday, April 20, 11am

Hispanic history and traditions are brought to life with this popular musical performance by Rosalia de Aragon Pacheco. This program explores the music and dance of New Mexico. New Mexico's rich musical history comes to life through audience participation. Audience members are provided with printed materials to preserve the important musical treasures for generations to come. This program is accompanied by guitarist Estevan Pacheco. Event made possible by the New Mexico Humanities Council.

Speaker Event: Francisco Uviña Discussing & House Tour on the Gutiérrez-Hubbell House Rehabilitation of the early 2000—Saturday, May 4, 11am

Francisco Uviña, Assistant Professor at UNM's School of Architecture and Planning will discuss some of the extensive rehabilitation work which took place at the Gutiérrez-Hubbell House shortly after Bernalillo County acquired the property in 2000. In 2006, Cornerstones Community Partnerships, a non-for-profit organization dedicated to preserving the architectural heritage of New Mexico was brought in to start the rehabilitation of the house and Francisco was the Technical Manager for Cornerstones on the project. Francisco has extensive knowledge of the rehabilitation effort and some of the fascinating history uncovered in the process.

*Speaker Event: John M. Taylor The Civil War in New Mexico: Valverde and Glorieta Pass & the Impact the War had on the West—Saturday, May 11, 11am*
