

February started off slow. Liam asked Taya to “bee” his for Valentine’s Day (spoiler: she said yes). We celebrated Valentine’s Day by bringing our friends some flowers and cards. We became obsessed with The Last of Us, so much so that Taya made a Clicker mask and Liam brought her into a cold city run-off to film a short film with it.

Liam’s brothers came to visit:

We found a little more comfort in California through our best friends, Natasha and Alex. This was the beginning of a friendship that we would soon come to cherish greatly. Weekly watch parties of Twilight, Game of Thrones, and Lord of the Rings ensued.
