

We both got calls that we were heading to Hong Kong!!! - Taya to do influencer coverage on the opening of World of Frozen, and Liam to do company coverage on it and Hong Kong Disneyland as a whole.

His boss told us "church and state" while we were in Hong Kong — we had to sneak in one picture, though :)

Taya's Hong Kong adventures --

Arendelle food + character dim sum + Taya's Anna-inspired dress influencer friends!

Liam's Hong Kong adventures --

Long nights & early mornings

Him and his team educated the new Disney Ambassadors on social media

After the World of Frozen opening ceremony, Liam and his team went out with some Disney executives.

Liam was asked to extend his trip by a couple of days to film Josh D'Amaro, the chairman of the parks, and Michael Moriarty, the president of Hong Kong Disneyland.

Prepping the cast members + filming Josh and Micheal + quick turnaround!

We went straight from Hong Kong to Oregon for “Thanksmas” with Liam’s family.

Liam and Tara putting up the Christmas tree!

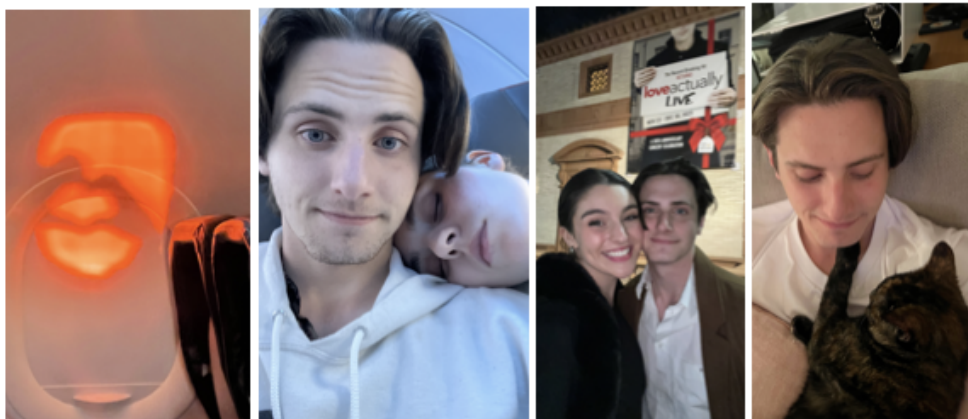

Taya teaching Meghan the ways of MTG

Cathy (Liam's mom) got us all matching "Merry Thanksmas" shirts. And yes, we wore them out in public. Proudly, we might add.

Back to California...

So much time away from each other called for a date night to go see Love Actually Live and eat sushi... and cuddle Monkey.

We slept for 2 days after that.