Summer Theater In Port

The following is a portion of the article which was originally printed in "Portfolio of Homes, June 1988". Now celebrating our 45th Summer Show, we are proud to still be bringing the excitement of musical theater to Port Washington teens!

There was once a girl in Port Washington (her name was Kathie O'Connor) who, not being from a nautical tennis-playing family, said "There is nothing creative to do in Port in the summer!"

Fortunately, she said it to the young woman who had been directing the winter children's show for Play Troupe, Port's regular theater group.

The woman was Pam Meadows and she relayed this cry of teenage ennui to her husband who was on the board of the Bandshell Committee which sponsored Port's summer band shows. Between them, they persuaded Play Troupe, and the Bandshell, to sponsor Port's first Teen Theater production.

So from that cry was born a tradition - summer theater in Port Washington.

The first show, in 1972, was "Anything Goes".

"We had no money so we improvised everything. We used cyclone fences with muslin drops for the scenery - for every scene change, we just flipped over the next sheet of muslin," said Ron Meadows who produced the shows and designed the sets.

"The Bandshell is right by the water and 'Anything Goes' is a nautical show, so the sea in the background supplied plenty of atmosphere," added Pam.

Ron created a tower from plumbers' piping and Brook Electric put in a power outlet. Ron had six lights to aim at the stage.

The next year was "Bye Bye Birdie" - and eight lights! One night there were 1,000 people crowded onto the green to see the show and the Meadows realized they needed better stage facilities.

By the fourth year, the Adult Education Department of the Port school system invited them to perform in the Schreiber High School Auditorium.

Then, in keeping with the ups and downs of show business, Austerity struck. The school board's budget failed to pass which meant all the "frills" were cut out and the show could only go on if it paid its own way.

"It's not that we lacked sponsors," said Ron Meadows, "it's just that we wanted sponsors who would let us do things our way."

Teen Theater policy was always that the kids do as much as possible themselves - make and paint the scenery, make their own costumes or find them in local thrift shops (though some parents, mothers mostly, have been known to wield a dab needle), and help with production, publicity, and ticket sales.

Although the summer theater has always been low budget, production fees have to be paid for, as well as script rentals, and in the throes of austerity, custodial fees had to be paid when the Schreiber auditorium was used.

Eventually, some parents found benefactors for the show - I.B.M. (who owns a golf club in Port) and the Robert L. Harding Real Estate firm. Since 1980 Robert Harding has been a regular benefactor.

In spite of the constant struggle for sufficient funds, the Teen Theater went from strength to strength.

Kids can take part the summer they finish sixth grade and if they catch the "theater bug" they can do it every summer until they finish High School.

Plenty of kids have been through seven Teen Theater productions, starting in the chorus and working their way into bigger and better parts as they got older.

For the fifteenth summer, the Meadows put on a full-fledged "Peter Pan" with an instructor from Foy Inventorprises sprinkling a little fairy dust, so to speak, to help Peter and the Darling children fly to Never-Never Land.

The show was the last in the galaxy of "smash hits" which included "Guys and Dolls", "Oliver", "Grease", and "Annie". It was the fifteenth show, and Pam and Ron both said "Enough".

The threat of no more Teen Theater caused a minor panic among that segment of Port's population for whom it had become a way of life.

Everyone possible was recruited - the Port Washington Youth Council, the School Board in the guise of Adult Education, Bob Harding, of course, and I.B.M. again. But who was going to direct, who to produce?

Directing talent was hired from outside Port which proved that even with the best intentions, it's tough to do this particular job if you commute from the city each day.

Since the Teen Theater had been the Meadows' "baby", it was decided to change the name slightly. The Port Summer Show went on, with "Barnum"...

We embrace our 2016 production of "Sweet Charity" with the same love, care and passion that started the Port Summer Show in 1972. To Kathie O'Connor, the teenager who sparked it all, we applaud you wherever you are and say, "Break A Leg"!

In Memory of The Original Oscar - John McMartin -

John McMartin, with Gwen Verdon "Sweet Charity" on Broadway in the late 1960's. Credit via Photofest

John McMartin, one of the most recognizable actors on Broadway and television, who played a meek tax accountant in the musical "Sweet Charity" on both stage and screen and had a starring role in the Stephen Sondheim musical "Follies," died on Wednesday in Manhattan. He was 86.

The cause was cancer, said Charlotte Moore, his companion and the artistic director of the Irish Repertory Theater.

Mr. McMartin, a versatile actor and singer, was a favorite of the director and choreographer Bob Fosse, the producer and director Harold Prince and Mr. Sondheim — who, asked by the critic Frank Rich in 2000 to name his favorite star performances in a musical, unhesitatingly singled out two: Alfred Drake in "Kismet" and Mr. McMartin in "Follies."

He made his first big splash on Broadway in 1966 opposite Gwen Verdon in Mr. Fosse's "Sweet Charity."

As the claustrophobic Oscar Lindquist, he quailed in a broken elevator while Ms. Verdon bucked up his spirits with "I'm the Bravest Individual," handling the tough assignment of playing Mr. Nice Guy to a bundle of emotional dynamite. At Mr. Fosse's invitation, he traveled to Hollywood to repeat the role opposite Shirley MacLaine in the movie version in 1969.

Mr. Fosse cast Mr. McMartin in two flops, "The Conquering Hero" and "Pleasures and Palaces," which died in out-of-town tryouts. When he asked him to play Oscar in "Sweet Charity," Mr. McMartin recalled in an interview with The Chicago Tribune in 1996, he told Mr. Fosse: "Well, that's a relief. I thought you might consider me bad luck." Mr. Fosse, he said, replied,

"That's funny; I suspected you thought the same thing about me."

About This Production

"Somebody loves me at last": Why We Relate to Charity

Some musicals are destined to become byproducts of the era in which they were written, inviting nostalgic sighs rather than "Ahas!" of recognition. But when a central character of a seemingly "dated" musical shouts at the top of her lungs "Somebody loves me!" our happiness for her and our own innate need to be needed catches in our throats; suddenly, the show isn't a nostalgia trip at all but rather just one woman's story of how we all find and lose (and find again) the love we so desperately want.

Now, don't mistake that sentiment as a statement rejecting the nostalgic quality of Sweet Charity. From a hippie-dippie "church" to a gyrating frug to the ubiquitous term "dance hall hostess," there is no doubt about it - we are immersed in the sixties. It got so psychedelic at one point that it prompted an actor to ask: "Did people really dance like this?" to which I replied: "Yes, Virginia, there really is a dance called the watusi." We've had a blast recreating an era, and we hope you enjoy the trip back in time.

But what's really important is the love that Charity, that in fact all of the characters seek throughout the show. When it comes right down to it, we've all made mistakes like Charity, had our hearts broken like Charity, danced in the park when we were happy like Charity (am I alone on that last one?) - and we all have a lot to learn from Charity. Listen to her as she sings "Where Am I Going?" in the second act. And see if you can answer those questions she sings for yourself. I have a feeling we'll all come up just as lost as Charity. And maybe, just maybe, we'll be able to find those answers just as soon as we too can shout "Somebody loves me at last!"

The young performers, stage managers, crew and musicians of the Port Summer Show never cease to amaze me, even after thirteen years. There is no greater joy for me than coming to rehearsals here. So to all of you part of the Port Summer Show, I say "Somebody loves YOU" and that somebody is me.

Congratulations
To the entire cast, crew and pit of
Sweet Charity

You are all so incredibly talented and I admire and appreciate what you have accomplished both on stage and off this summer, and with no air conditioning most nights!

To our wonderful creative team, Jason, Jesse, Tom and Neil, thank you for always making this fun and making me smile. You are not just great people to work with, or eat with, you are simply great people. Your dedication, talent, patience and creative genius beyond appreciated. From the bottom of my heart, I love you guys.

Shane, George and Maria, thank you for joining our PSS family, I hope you continue on, it's been a great pleasure working with each of you.

Brian – there isn't anything you can't do!
Thank you doesn't begin to cover it.

Thank you to our stage managers, Chris and Julia. Your hard work and attention to the details each night made everything run smoothly, no matter what stage we were on.

Sabrina, thank you for spreading the word about our classic yet updated show through social media, with your original comedy and never ending enthusiasm.

Special thanks to our PSS board, Wendy, Sandy, Sam, Bob, Linda and Lisa - your dedication, support, creativity and year round commitment to Port Summer Show is amazing and so appreciated! You are an incredible group, and I'm honored to call you friends.

To all the parent volunteers who have worked so hard on all of our committees, I truly appreciate the time and energy you have put into making this year's show a success, we couldn't do it without you!

I wish all of our graduating seniors much happiness, success and fun in all of your future endeavors and adventures on stage and off.
Always remember, you Gotta Get Up, Get Out and Live It!

My heartfelt thanks to all who have been part of my
Port Summer Show Family for the past 8 years,
Jeanne

Port Summer Show President 2016

Diana,

*You smile, dance, laugh, cheer, take what is thrown your way and rise above.
Your inner and outer beauty, strength,
poise, talent and determination
have always made you unique and amazing.*

*Looking back on your Port Summer Show history;
42nd Street, My Favorite Year,
Shrek, Urintown, Big Fish, and Sweet Charity.
There has to be something better than this –
and because of you,
we always have fun, laughs, good times!*

*Love you,
Mom, Dad and Sabrina*

Dear Wendy,

*Every year we say goodbye to our senior students,
but it's even harder to say goodbye to our senior parents,
especially those on the board.*

*We spend hours reading, meeting, talking,
laughing, stressing and bracing
for the changes that come with each show.
This year, we had more than our fair share of change,
but have come through it all and can still smile.*

It has been a great pleasure working with you and I'm proud to call you my friend.

Your infectious laugh and bright smile brighten any meeting or gathering.

Thank you for your insight, creative thinking and 3d visual explanations of your thoughts and ideas.

Thank you for being you and for being my friend ,

*With love,
Jeanne*

JEANNE

From your first starring role as Goddess of the Prop Room, to your final bow as President, you have inspired everyone involved with the Port Summer Show and have brought new meaning to the phrase "it's all in the details!" Starting with Pajama Game in 2009, and on to Thoroughly Modern Millie, 42nd Street, My Favorite Year, Shrek, Urinetown The Musical, Big Fish, and now Sweet Charity, we have benefited from your production expertise not only on the board of directors, but in props, costumes, and photo/video production. You do it all! It's been a family affair with you, Dan, Sabrina and Diana!

Your energy and devotion to the organization will be difficult to match, but in the tradition of theatre people everywhere...the show must go on!

It has been a privilege to share this experience with you.

With love and gratitude,

Past Productions

The Port Summer Show, a member of the not-for-profit Port Washington Youth Council, has presented a top quality musical every summer for over 40 years, while engaging, educating and bringing the excitement of musical theater production to our town's 7th through 12th graders, giving them a unique opportunity to be involved in all phases of a musical production.
