ELVIS PRESLEY BIO

Elvis Aaron Presley, in the humblest of circumstances, was born to Vernon and Gladys Presley in a two-room house in Tupelo, Mississippi on January 8, 1935. His twin brother, Jessie Garon, was stillborn, leaving Elvis to grow up as an only child. He and his parents moved to Memphis, Tennessee in 1948, and Elvis graduated from Humes High School there in 1953.

Elvis' musical influences were the pop and country music of the time, the gospel music he heard in church and at the all-night gospel sings he frequently attended, and the black R&B he absorbed on historic Beale Street as a Memphis teenager. In 1954, he began his singing career with the legendary Sun Records label in Memphis. In late 1955, his recording contract was sold to RCA Victor. By 1956, he was an international sensation. With a sound and style that uniquely combined his diverse musical influences and blurred and challenged the social and racial barriers of the time, he ushered in a whole new era of American music and popular culture.

He starred in 33 successful films, made history with his television appearances and specials, and knew great acclaim through his many, often record-breaking, live concert performances on tour and in Las Vegas. Globally, he has sold over one billion records, more than any other artist. His American sales have earned him gold, platinum or multi-platinum awards for 150 different albums and singles, far more than any other artist. Among his many awards and accolades were 14 Grammy nominations (3 wins) from the National Academy of Recording Arts & Sciences, the Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award, which he received at age 36, and his being named One of the Ten Outstanding Young Men of the Nation for 1970 by the United States Jaycees. Without any of the special privileges his celebrity status might have afforded him, he honorably served his country in the U.S. Army.

His talent, good looks, sensuality, charisma, and good humor endeared him to millions, as did the humility and human kindness he demonstrated throughout his life. Known the world over by his first name, he is regarded as one of the most important figures of twentieth century popular culture. Elvis died at his Memphis home, Graceland, on August 16, 1977.

Summer Theater In Port

The following is a portion of the article which was originally printed in "Portfolio of Homes, June 1988". Now celebrating our 45th Anniversary, we are proud to still be bringing the excitement of musical theater to Port Washington teens!

There was once a girl in Port Washington (her name was Kathe O'Connor) who, not being from a nautical tennis-playing family, said "There is nothing creative to do in Port in the summer!"

Fortunately, she said it to the young woman who had been directing the winter children's show for Play Troupe, Port's regular theater group.

The woman was Pam Meadows and she relayed this cry of teen-age ennui to her husband who was on the board of the Bandshell Committee which sponsored Port's summer band shows. Between them, they persuaded Play Troupe, and the Bandshell, to sponsor Port's first Teen Theater production.

So from that cry was born a tradition - summer theater in Port Washington.

The first show, in 1972, was "Anything Goes".

"We had no money so we improvised everything. We used cyclone fences with muslin drops for the scenery - for every scene change, we just flipped over the next sheet of muslin," said Ron Meadows who produced the shows and designed the sets.

"The Bandshell is right by the water and 'Anything Goes' is a nautical show, so the sea in the background supplied plenty of atmosphere," added Pam.

Ron created a tower from plumbers' piping and Brook Electric put in a power outlet. Ron had six lights to aim at the stage.

The next year was "Bye Bye

Birdie" - and eight lights! One night there were 1,000 people crowded onto the green to see the show and the Meadows realized they needed better stage facilities.

By the fourth year, the Adult Education Department of the Port school system invited them to perform in the Schreiber High School Auditorium.

Then, in keeping with the ups and downs of show business, Austerity struck. The school board's budget failed to pass which meant all the "frills" were cut out and the show could only go on if it paid its own way.

"It's not that we lacked sponsors," said Ron Meadows, "it's just that we wanted sponsors who would let us do things our way."

Teen Theater policy was always that the kids do as much as possible themselves - make and paint the scenery, make their own costumes or find them in local thrift shops (though some parents, mothers mostly, have been known to wield a dab needle), and help with production, publicity, and ticket sales.

Although the summer theater has always been low budget, production fees have to be paid for, as well as script rentals, and in the throes of austerity, custodial fees had to be paid when the Schreiber auditorium was used.

Eventually, some parents found benefactors for the show - I.B.M. (who owns a golf club in Port) and the Robert L. Harding Real Estate firm. Since 1980 Robert Harding has been a regular benefactor.

In spite of the constant struggle for sufficient funds, the Teen Theater went from strength to strength.

Kids can take part the summer they finish sixth grade and if they catch the "theater bug" they can do it every summer until they finish High School.

Plenty of kids have been through seven Teen Theater productions, starting in the chorus and working their way into bigger and better parts as they got older.

For the fifteenth summer, the Meadows put on a full-fledged "Peter Pan" with an instructor from Foy Inventorprises sprinkling a little fairy dust, so to speak, to help Peter and the Darling children fly to Never-Never Land.

The show was the last in the galaxy of "smash hits" which included "Guys and Dolls", "Oliver", "Grease", and "Annie". It was the fifteenth show, and Pam and Ron both said "Enough".

The threat of no more Teen Theater caused a minor panic among that segment of Port's population for whom it had become a way of life.

Everyone possible was recruited - the Port Washington Youth Council, the School Board in the guise of Adult Education, Bob Harding, of course, and I.B.M. again. But who was going to direct, who to produce?

Directing talent was hired from outside Port which proved that even with the best intentions, it's tough to do this particular job if you commute from the city each day.

Since the Teen Theater had been the Meadows' "baby", it was decided to change the name slightly. The Port Summer Show went on, with "Bar-num"...

We embrace our 2017 production of "All Shook Up" with the same love, care and passion that started the Port Summer Show in 1972. To Kathe O'Connor, the teenager who sparked it all, we applaud you wherever you are and say, "Break A Leg"!

ABOUT THIS PRODUCTION

“Follow that dream wherever that dream may lead:” The Message in the Music

You hear the name Elvis Presley and you immediately think what? Rock and roll? The Ed Sullivan Show and the hips that couldn't be shown on television? Best selling solo artist of all time? Viva Las Vegas? Sure, of course. Those are obvious. But what about this...

Shakespeare!

I know, I know. Your suspicious minds don't believe me. But I beg of you, treat me nice and hear me out. All Shook Up is a show that takes the greatest songs from the Elvis catalog and combines them with a plot inspired by Shakespeare's great comedy Twelfth Night. Don't ask me why or how the authors came up with this idea, but I have to tell you, it feels so right! The playful, rhythm and blues melodies of Elvis' greatest hits combined with the hilarious antics of would-be lovers running about making fools of themselves is truly inspired - it's really like a bit of magic, like a bit of theatrical witchcraft! I warn you not to doubt me on this. Don't. Surrender to the idea that Shakespeare and Elvis are about to make beautiful music together.

And you want to know how good this cast is, don't you? Go ahead - ask me. Such an easy question to answer. They are brilliant! And so joyous and fun to be around. Rehearsals could not have been more delightful. The gift of their talent, their charms, their humor - it was as if every day was like Christmas!

But you don't have to believe a fool such as I, see for yourself. Get whisked away by the music and the laughter - let yourself go! And don't forget that I was the one who told you what a great time you were going to have.

To the glorious cast and crew - on such a night like this, I feel so bad because our time together is almost over. But I will carry with me the wonder of you throughout the year until next summer. It hurts me to say goodbye, but for now we must go our separate ways. I'm leavin' but you'll be forever and always on my mind. Thank you for a beautiful, rock-and-roll filled summer. The memories will live on of how great thou art!

(Don'cha think it's time to stop reading this now and watch the show?! And if the show hasn't started yet, then you can spend the next few minutes trying to find the 26 Elvis song titles I've hidden in this note. After all, as the title of my note says, the message is in the music!)

- Jason Summers
Director

Thank you to the founders of teen summer theater, Pamela and Ronald Meadows, for their belief that theater is about the community and that community begins with its youth.

What they started in 1972 remains a seminal time in the lives of so many and continues to influence and inspire the youth of Port Washington.

Do Communication Problems Waste Your Time and Money? Are Your Leaders Ready for Today's Challenges? Do Your Customers Trust That They're in Good Hands? Since 2001, Improving Communications has provided trainings to organizations such as The Consolidated Edison Company of New York, The Estée Lauder Companies, Madison Square Garden, Cablevision, Dealer Track Technologies, anecdlect, Modell's Sporting Goods, and TransRE. Combining instructional experience and expertise in educating individuals with a focus on language enables Improving Communications to help you maximize your most important resource: your people. Improving Communications training increases efficiency and protects company profits. New York based Improving Communications offers Business Writing, Public Speaking, Customer Service, Leadership, Staff Development, and Human Resources training programs, as well as providing a dynamic and engaging speaker for your events. Improving Communications provides training for companies that want to increase profits and create a more pleasant workplace environment. Written or spoken communication problems cost companies tremendous amounts of money and resources. By addressing these problems, clients develop a more positive workplace culture, improve productivity, increase retention, and reduce conflict. You will have success working with Improving Communications if... You are committed to creating a learning culture within your organization. The "quick fix" and shortcuts don't work. If you want your organization to learn and develop, invest in the best. We will help you succeed. You are willing to implement new ideas,

IMPROVING COMMUNICATIONS

reduction and take action to change how they communicate in practice segments of trainings. It is his hope people can advance their communication skills. The Process Improving Communications provides "live" trainings for you/your staff. Living, breathing instructors will ensure that attendees learn and master new skills. This is the best that has time phased learning segments. By dividing the amount of information over more than one session, participants are better able to absorb and use it. Expected Results When clients work with Improving Communications, their internal and external communications become better than they were before. They increase credibility as a result. The Values of Improving Communications Your work is important, so training is conducted on site, keeping as much continuity as possible in your employees' workday. You have different wants and needs for your staff, so Improving Communications customizes sessions and workshops. Your staff members learn differently from each other, and these trainings are designed for a variety of learning styles. You want the best and so does Improving Communications; nothing less than excellence will do. You want to see positive results, and you will. The Improving Communications Approach When you work with Improving Communications, you get what you need. First, we work with you to determine the problems you're encountering, and the results you want to see. Then, a training program is designed, discussed, amended, and approved. Improving Communications delivers and measures the results. Then, we follow up with new opportunities for growth. You will enjoy the process because you will see problems addressed and solved. Providing communication skill training for individuals and businesses means that your organization will achieve: Increased perception of credibility Higher employee productivity More consistent accuracy Saved time Greater potential for profits Correctness Better morale Greater respect among staff and leaders
