FREEDOM -

2. THE STATE

3. THE STATE

Freedom, which is better known as liberation, is defined as the state of not being imprisoned or enslaved. In this magazine we will be taking a look at the definitions of freedom and two different house owners, that give the perspective on how we view our lives: that's the White House vs YAHUAH's House. The White House says they have the land of the free, while YAHUAH's House says the Truth shall set us free, but only one could be true. Which one can give true freedom and which is giving a false freedom?

IF A HOUSE HAS A BACKYARD WITH A FENCE OR CERTAIN BOUNDARIES, ALL THINGS WITHIN THAT FENCE OR BOUNDARY IS SUBJECT TO THAT HOUSE AND THE OWNER OF THE HOUSE.

FINANCIAL FREEDOM

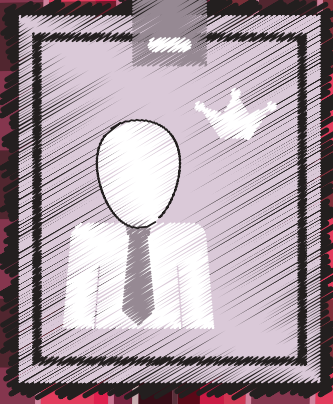

A topic of conversation in the backyard of the White House is that those in the boundaries of that house, one can become financially free.

Interesting how the land of the free has to promote being financially free, shouldn't that be apart of its overall freedom? But it's not, as YAHUAH has warned us previously that we will work much but gather in little for our works when we don't work for Him. It's as earning money to put it in a bag with holes in it. This is why one would seek to be financially free in the backyard of the White House. The question is, should we be seeking financial freedom when YAHUAH said there would be a time where the money would be worth nothing, and thrown in the streets? This is exactly why YAHUSHA told us that the truth shall set us free, not money. So we should choose this day who we will serve.

PERMISSION TO MOVE

Also in the backyard of the White House, no one can leave the premises without permission from the proper authority. This is what would be known as an identification license. Without the proper documentation one cannot travel in his community, out of his state, or out of the country. Through this, it is impossible for one to not be restrained or be able to move freely.

THE PATROL FAMILY

Being that freedom is the state of not being imprisoned or enslaved, this is already a red flag to the so called land of the free. In the backyard of the White House, the police department's are designated throughout local communities to serve all citizens. But the brutality and harassment that is seen by officers affect these communities terribly; this did not just come out of thin air. The foundation of these actions come from what inspired your local police department, slave patrol.

Slave Patrol began in South Carolina which was started by groups of armed men, who monitored and even discipline the local slaves in the area. Also, in certain courts and communities it wasn't viewed as a crime to kill a slave. These same tactics have now evolved into what we see in today's police force. They still ride around as groups of armed men who monitor and even discipline the local slaves, showing force to bring them back to their owner. Neither do they find themselves guilty when they kill a slave.

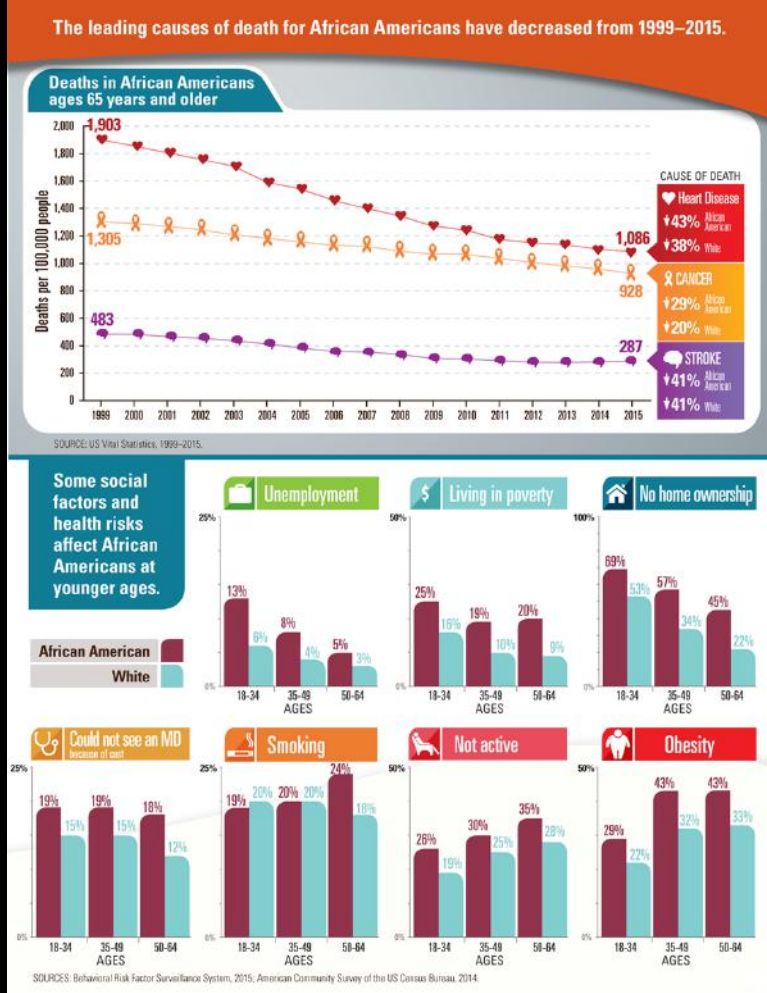

The backyard of the White House says it is the land of the free, but the police force that are enforced is based off of slave patrol. That doesn't sound like freedom if one is being monitored to remain enslaved.

AFFECTS OF YAHUAH'S LAW

In the last part of the definition in the word freedom, we are going over, "the state of not being subject or affected by." We will be viewing this from YAHUAH's perspective and how His Laws deal with and affect His people.

Being that His chosen people happen to be in the backyard of the White House right now and living according to the White House's definition of freedom, we see why we have fallen so low. Because we have been in the backyard of the White House, we have been told that we have freedom from The Law and that those laws no longer matter to us.

Let's look at the physical proof of this claim. When we look into our communities and we see high crime rate, murders, high STD rates, disrespectful children, parents not caring about their seed, and more, it all stems from saying The Law is done away with. This is physical proof that we are subjected to and are affected by The Law of YAHUAH. Which is why He stated from the beginning that there will be signs on the Israelites, which they would be known by their obedience or disobedience.

KICKIN JUICE WITH ASIS

Releasing your mind is one of the first steps to truly becoming free. That starts with accepting that you are indeed trapped by something or someone. Knowing is only the beginning, next you must narrow in on the things that were made to distract your mind and turn your focus away from efficiently giving YAHUAH the time he deserves. Whether it may be Being on Social media, playing video games or watching Television for extended periods of time [etc]. Whatever the case may be we must be honest with ourselves and be willing to cut back on the things we enjoy doing throughout our day and give YAHUAH the time he deserves. It's nothing wrong with doing things to pass the time, however we allow those things to take all of our attention that is where the problem resides.

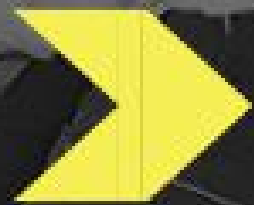

Cutting back on something isn't the easiest process to follow, but for those who desire to have a better relationship with our Heavenly Father it's a leap of faith we must take. Even if you only start with just spending 30 minutes of your day to devote it to YAHUAH it's a starting point. As things are revealed to you and your confidence grows more that same 30 mins will turn into a hour, a hour into 2 hours then eventually it will just be second nature to give YAHUAH the allotted time he truly deserves.

Let's get started!
