Sparta is 80 miles from Nashville and Chattanooga; 90 miles from Knoxville; 115 miles from Huntsville, Alabama; 208 miles from Atlanta, Georgia; and 300 miles from Memphis.

The Upper Cumberland Regional Airport is situated in the northern portion of the county, at 750 Airport Rd., just off Highway 111, and just outside of the new Airport Industrial Park. A full time FBO provides a full line of services to the airport. The 6,700 by 100 foot runway and expansive ramp area allow plenty of space for a variety of aircraft.

Sparta and White County are served by Saint Thomas Highlands Hospital, which houses a 24-hour emergency room, family practice, general surgery, geriatric psychiatry, gynecology, intensive care unit, orthopedics, otolaryngology, physical therapy, podiatry, pulmonology, radiology, respiratory therapy and urology.

JUST SIT BACK,

Relax,

AND KICK YOUR SHOES OFF

Welcome to Sparta

A day wasted here is not really wasted. The slow pace of life is on purpose, so that the true beauty and deep heritage found in the rolling hills of White County can be both enjoyed and appreciated. Today you will find yourself faced with beauty around every corner, from quaint shops to beautiful tree-lined streets to historical landmarks to gorgeous waterfalls you will find yourself intrigued and inspired.

Start your day at one of the local favorites like The Coffee Collective. While sipping a steaming cup of specialty coffee and eating one of their freshly made breakfast bowls, platters or pastries enjoy the quiet buzz that fills the shop with its usual morning patrons. Let your eyes and mind wander as you step out onto Liberty Square and see the beauty of the landscape while the sun rises over the mountain to the east

Head across the street to the Chamber of Commerce and pick up a list of homes along the walking tour of Sparta's Historic District and maps to the sites on the Civil War Heritage Trail.

The self-guided Walking Tour will take you along the streets of Sparta's historic district, which was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1991. While you walk, you will see an eclectic blend of architectural styles with homes built as early as 1870.

Next head to South Carter Street Park and a quiet stroll along the paved river walk keeping an eye out for turtles, ducks, chipmunks and the occasional geese that play on the banks of the Calfkiller river there. Cross the pedestrian bridge and follow the trail to the Old City Cemetery where you can begin the Civil War Heritage Trail.

The Civil War Heritage Trail, also self-guided, will take you to several sites including the Old City Cemetery and France cemetery. White County has a rich history with the Civil War. In 1862, Confederate soldiers marched through the town square on their way to invade Kentucky. Later Confederate guerrillas operated in the area and at times Sparta served as a federal base. The notorious Champ Ferguson is buried in France Cemetery, just north of Sparta.

If you are interested in the rich military history of the area, be sure to stop by the Veterans Museum in the American Legion located on the edge of Liberty Square near the base of the cemetery. The museum is home to memorabilia from White County soldiers spanning many wars. Exhibits include artifacts from Pearl Harbor, Nazi-controlled Germany and Vietnam along with a few memories from as far back as the Civil War and as recent as Desert Storm.

Head down the road and pay a quick visit to the White County Heritage Museum where you can learn to appreciate the deep history and love for the Highlands that the people in this community share.

Stop for lunch in the small, but gorgeous eateries on the square like Miss Marena's Tea Room. Enjoy freshly made sandwiches, soups or salads and some of their famous fruit tea before heading back out for an afternoon of exploring.

After lunch, head east on Highway 70 and begin the drive up Bon Air Mountain. Make a stop at the Rock House, an old Stage Coach Station. The house has been restored and is operated by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The free admission includes listening to tales of Presidents Andrew Jackson and James K. Polk spending the night at the house on their trips to Washington D.C. as well as explanations about the simpler times that were shared by the many people who journeyed through there.

Continue up the mountain and stop at Wildcat Falls on the right-hand side of the highway. The breath-taking waterfall drops 35 feet and is set back off the road among rocks and trees. No need to walk in, you can see the falls from your car or get out and take a picture worthy of framing when you return home.

Continue a little farther and you will reach Sunset Rock. From the observation area you can look across the valley below and see where farm life meets city, although the city too is small and quiet. Come back another time and view the gorgeous sunsets that paint the sky in front of you.

Head back to Liberty Square and grab a home-made gelato at the local coffee shop to refresh you as you walk the sidewalks of the town and check out the local specialty stores that include locally made items and art as well as antiques and boutiques.

While wandering, be sure to visit the monument that pays tribute to one of the county's famous residents, Lester Flatt, the "Granddaddy of Bluegrass." As you walk around the square, be sure to stop and take a picture in front of the historic Oldham Theater (or come back at night when the marquee is lit up).

As the day winds down, make your way to the local brewery for some social time, music or other entertainment. While there you can try a craft beer, or not – they are just happy to have you visit. You can grab some food from the food truck that is usually parked beside the brewery, or order from the menu of the local sandwich shop which will deliver your home-made meal right to you while you sit reminiscing about your day with your new-found friends at the brewery.

When you can't keep your eyes open any longer, make your way to a local "B&B", like the beautifully restored HeartRock Hideaway just steps off of Liberty Square.

As you make your preparations to leave us and head back to the hustle and bustle of your life in the "outside world", we hope that you will tuck the memories of today away in your mind and look back on them when you need a moment of quiet inspiration. We hope that you found new, forever friends here and that you won't stay gone long. As you leave, you are sure to hear us calling to you see us waving to you in your mirror,

"Ya'll come back now!"

Let's stay awhile

So, you came for the day and you just couldn't leave. The rich beauty and deep heritage of the hills lured you in, and you just can't leave until you explore more of their wonders. Don't be embarrassed, it happens to the best people: the people who love nature, the people who love history, the people who love adventure, the people who love quiet moments, the people who love musical evenings and nights full of laughter, the people who need their souls soothed and their minds refreshed.

Where did you decide to stay? Big Puckett's Campground with its rolling lawns, back porch pickers and storytellers, old-fashioned general store and home-style restaurant with their famous catfish? Or did you go to Firefly Acres with their quaint cabins, 45 acres of beautiful farm, ponds, horseback riding and attractive pavilion for nights by the brick fireplace or celebrating with friends? Or did you choose to stay at the campgrounds at Rock Island State Park or even the nearby Fall Creek Falls? Of course, no one is going to blame you if instead of a cabin or campground you choose a room at one of the cozy Bed and Breakfast houses in the area.

Since you spent a day wandering around town and seeing the history, you will probably want to experience the adventure that awaits you right outside of town.

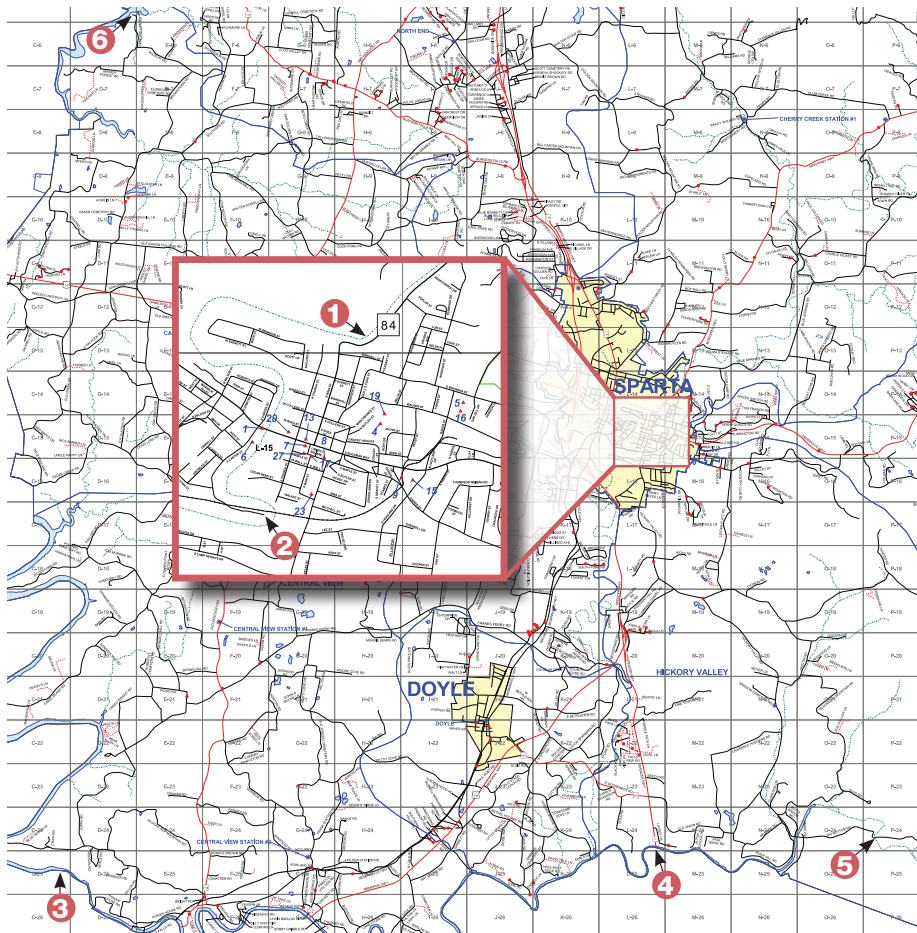

Several state parks are a must while you are here. From the white waters, hiking trails, swimming hole and multiple falls at Rock Island to the high falls at Fall Creek Falls, you will not be disappointed with the beauty of the land. From the moderate 1 and a half mile hike at to view all three waterfalls at Burgess Falls State Park to the strenuous 9 mile hike to Virgin Falls and back you will not be disappointed with the hiking adventures that you can brag about when you get back home.

Caves are waiting for you to explore them this week at Lost Creek and Blue Springs Cave where you can enjoy waterfalls and caves alike. At Blue Springs, you will find history awaits as you search for the footprints of the Ice Age jaguars that roamed the area.

Undoubtedly, you will want to spend a day on the water while you are here too. There is an abundance of paddling opportunities here and with the Calfkiller, Caney Fork, Collins and Falling Water Rivers as well as Cane and Post Oak Creeks right here, you won't be disappointed! Whether you need to rent a kayak (and all the gear you will need for a safe and fun experience) or have a guided tour of the waters, the friendly and experienced folks at 4 Rivers Kayak or Smooth Rapids just over the county line, will get you on your way to your water adventure. If you have your own kayak and gear, you can head right to one of the county's public drop in points.

After a day full of outdoor adventuring, you should head back to Liberty Square and see where the live music is coming from each night. Between the Coffee Collective, Happy Trails Brewery and the Sparta Amphitheater, entertainment can be found most nights.

Whether it's live music, karaoke, trivia nights, or community bon-fires, you are sure to find somewhere to relax after a day in the wild.

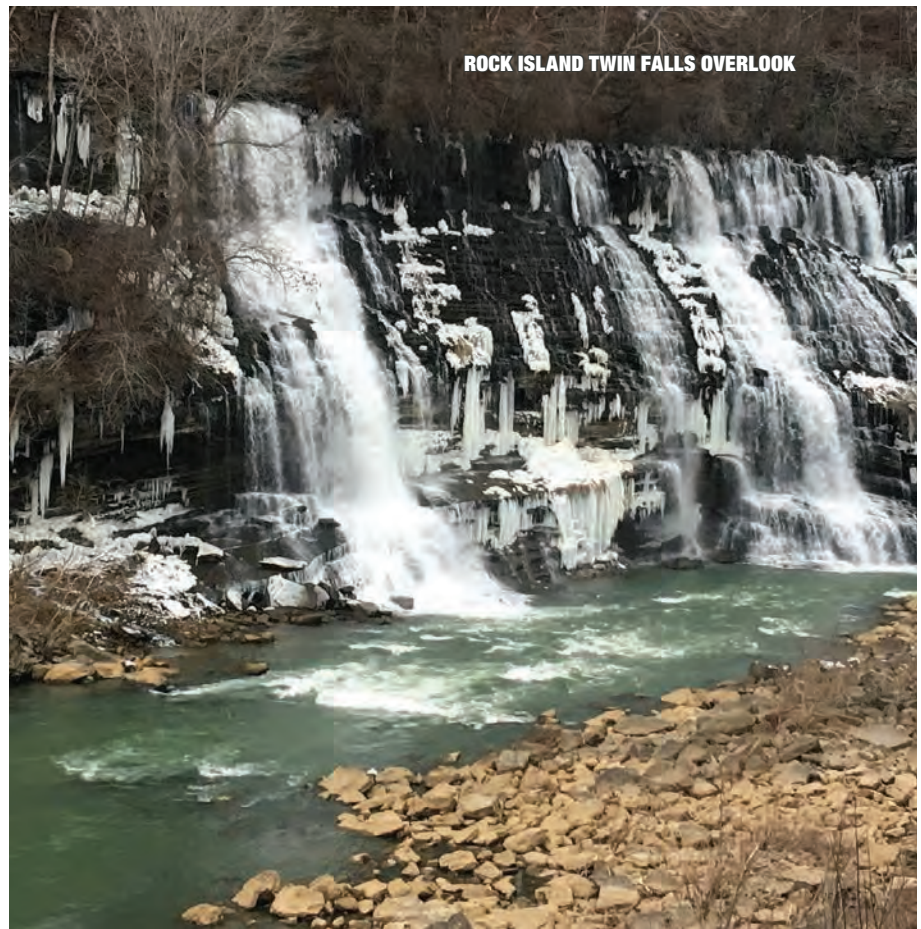

On the weekends there are old fashioned Cruise-Ins, car shows and bluegrass concerts to experience. Or head over to the Sparta Drive-In and take in a double feature, watching new movies from your car with the "old fashioned experience" of a classic drive-in theater complete with concession stand for your snacking needs.

Of course, you will need to spend a night or two sitting on the back porch of Puckett's watching the fire burn in the outdoor fireplace while you share stories of your adventure with other campers or under the pavilion at Firefly acres "barbecuing" with your newly made friends, or sitting on the porch of your cabin listening to the night settle in around you, or tucked in to your cozy room at your B&B while you blog about your adventures and make your friends back home insanely jealous.

Whichever adventures you choose to pursue this week, wherever you choose to stay, however you choose to unwind, the one thing that is guaranteed is that you will leave here with a new perspective on the world and with this land, and the people who live here, in your heart.

And when you leave this time, our calls will echo in your mind and be music to your soul.

"See ya next time!"

LARGE PARKS & NATURAL AREAS

BURGESS FALLS STATE PARK

Burgess Falls State Park, located on the Falling Water River, is a day use park, noted for its natural beauty and four waterfalls that cascade down from over 250 feet in elevation. The last of these falls is the most spectacular, plunging more than 130 feet into the gorge. The park offers several activities for family and friends to enjoy year-round. Fishing is popular below the dam and at the fishing pier. Additional picnic areas most with grills, are conveniently located near a playground and restrooms. A 1.5-mile round-trip River Trail is a moderately strenuous hike, taking visitors past the waterfalls and into the gorge.

ROCK ISLAND STATE PARK

Rock Island State Park is an 883-acre park located on the headwaters of Center Hill Lake at the confluence of the Caney Fork, Collins and Rocky rivers. The rugged beauty of the park includes the Caney Fork Gorge below the Great Falls Dam. The Great Falls is a 30-foot horseshoe cascading waterfall. The Caney Fork River Gorge contains scenic overlooks, waterfalls, deep pools and limestone paths perfect for hiking, swimming, fishing, kayaking and exploring. The park's whitewater sections attract professional kayakers from around the world. The park also features a natural sand beach, pavilions, grills, a playground, tennis courts and camping spaces.

LIBERTY SQUARE - A LESTER FLATT CELEBRATION

Welcome Home

You just couldn't stay away, could ya?

That's ok, not many people can resist the quiet enticement of the hills and rivers here. Add to that the way the community embraces their small-town heritage and the thought that you could work from the comfort of your home tucked away in the quietness of the land while you watch the beauty of the day unfold outside your window, or the thought that your children could grow up running through these rolling fields and hiking to the rushing water falls and with the rich traditions and celebrations that feel so common here, or that you could retire in this quiet community where you can enjoy long days and quiet evenings with friends that you will feel young with and grow old with at the same time.

We knew you would be back. And we knew you would want to stay.

Now that you are officially here, officially a part of us, we hope that you will jump in with both feet and embrace everything that drew you here, everything that makes this place so unique, so intriguing and so Sparta.

Join a community group. Or two. We have a Rotary Club that works on service projects to help the community and educate the children while creating a bond among friends. We have a Women's Club and a Lyon's Club and a Chamber of Commerce (which isn't just for businesses – individuals can join too!) and a Senior Center and Sewing Clubs and Book Clubs and Sports Groups and so much more.

Find a place to worship (if that is where your heart is led). We have over 60 churches of all denominations, and non-denominations, with various programs and services across different days and times. If worship, whether quietly, privately, or boisterously, is good for your soul, we have a place for you.

Join a gym. We have a few from the YMCA to CrossFit to 24-hour facilities. Or join a class. We have dance and karate and gymnastics and cycling (both outdoor clubs and indoor fitness classes) and cardio-fitness programs available at various facilities within our town.

Play a sport. We have baseball and softball and basketball leagues for kids and adults. We have soccer and football and volleyball. We have a golf-course with weekly events as well as open play and scheduled tournaments.

Get creative. We have art classes and photography groups and bookstores and libraries.

Get social. We have locally owned restaurants and coffee shops and breweries where you can meet up with friends or come alone and meet new ones. We have dances and karaoke nights and story-telling evenings.

Get adventurous. There is so much more to still be explored. We have trails and museums and waterfalls and caves and rivers and lakes. And a short trip up the road will take you to surrounding counties with heritage linked to ours. A little longer of a drive and you will be able to explore some of the state's larger cities and the culture they have to offer.

Celebrate. Join our celebrations and our annual traditions. From our Liberty Square Day to our Agricultural Fair. From our Christmas Celebration to our Freedom Celebration. From our parades to our concerts. Attend them all. Embrace them. Become a part of them. Let them become a part of you.

We are glad you chose Sparta to be your home. We hope that you will find all you are looking for here. A community to belong to. Scenery to soothe you. Atmosphere to inspire you.

So, we greet you with our little town's traditional greeting for friends and family:

"YERT!"

(Don't worry, you'll understand soon enough.)

Once a contender to become the state capital, Sparta has a unique position in the state of Tennessee. Losing that bid to become state capital meant that the small town stayed a small town nestled between small mountains, the town has been able to embrace its small-town heritage and showcase its beautiful landscape filled with waterfalls, rivers, caves and natural rock formations. At the same time, Sparta is conveniently located less than 90 miles from three of the biggest cities in the state meaning that residents can enjoy all the buzz and cultural activities that innately belong to city-life with less than a two hour drive, and still return that night to the beautiful, quiet of this little town. It is like living in the best of two worlds right here in Tennessee.

Road Tripping

KNOXVILLE

Knoxville, which sits on the Tennessee River, is a quick 85-mile trip to the east of Sparta.

In this one city so many opportunities await: mountains, music, art, adventure, culture and cuisine. The downtown, which is conveniently walkable, allows people to explore and discover vibrant murals, local music, historic sites, art museums, parks, greenways and more. With its sophisticated mix of culture and cuisine, served up with genuine hospitality, Knoxville will surprise you.

Home of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville has a vibrant athletic scene and Volunteer fans take their sports seriously.

CHATTANOOGA

Chattanooga is a short 60 miles to the southeast of Sparta and is set along the Tennessee River in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains.

Visitors will be enthralled with its trolleylike Incline Railway which scales steep Lookout Mountain before reaching Ruby Falls waterfall and Rock City, featuring sweeping views, sandstone formations and gardens. Point Park, also atop Lookout, marks the site of a Civil War battle now honored at the Battles for Chattanooga Museum.

With a grand art district, an aquarium, several museums and festivals all situated along the river, plus local eateries to entice people looking for unique cuisine, the New York Times named Chattanooga one of the “Top 45 Places to Go” in the world.

NASHVILLE

The state’s capital sits just 77 miles to the west of Sparta and can be reached quickly via Interstate 40.

Nashville is famous for its position in the music world. With a mix of country, bluegrass, rock, pop, Americana, gospel, classical, jazz and blues being created and streaming from venues across the city, Nashville is a unique soundtrack. Nashville is home legendary country music venues like the Grand Ole Opry House, home of the famous “Grand Ole Opry” stage and radio show, the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum and historic Ryman Auditorium. The music district features honky-tonks with live music and the Johnny Cash Museum which celebrates the singer's life.

Nashville is also home to Vanderbilt University, the Titans, an NFL team, and the Sounds, an NHL team and zoos, museums and festivals are abundant in the city and provide fun for the whole family.

And, just a little farther down the road

MEMPHIS

A little longer of a drive down Interstate 40 Memphis sits 264 miles to the west of Sparta.

Memphis sits on the Mississippi River in southwest Tennessee and is home to Elvis Presley's Graceland Mansion which has become a popular museum for visitors. Memphis is famous for the influential strains of blues, soul and rock 'n' roll that originated there. Elvis Presley, B.B. King and Johnny Cash recorded albums at the legendary Sun Studio. Other music landmarks include the Rock 'n' Soul Museum, Blues Hall of Fame and Stax Museum of American Soul Music.

A trip down the famous Beale Street will allow visitors to experience the true music culture of the city along with trying some of city's best Memphis BBQ.

River cruises are another popular attraction in this city and allow for all levels of entertainment.

Retire

LOST CREEK FALLS

Sparta-White County is listed among Tennessee's top retirement destinations.

With beautiful scenery, a central location with easy access to bigger cities, such as Cookeville, Chattanooga, Nashville and Knoxville, low property taxes, low housing costs, and a friendly, small town community, retirees can find much to love about Sparta and White County.

Healthcare is an important consideration for retirees looking to relocate. White County is home to Saint Thomas Highlands Hospital, a 60-bed facility that is accredited by The Joint Commission and certified by the American Heart Association as a "Get with the Guidelines" hospital. The facility offers a full range of medical services, including 24-hour emergency care, intensive care, medical/surgical care, general surgery, orthopedics, gastroenterology, pulmonology, GYN, and a geriatric psych unit. Diagnostic Imaging services include X-ray, CT, ultrasound and nuclear medicine. Rehabilitation services include physical and occupational therapy, and cardiac and pulmonary rehab.

SmartAsset, a financial data website, found that Sparta's low taxes, recreation center and higher number of senior citizens make Sparta the second-best place to retire in Tennessee.

"We've been working hard to diversify the economy, and retirees are important part of that," White County Executive Denny Wayne Robinson states.

"Seniors are an important part of our economy as they bring income and experience."

"Jobs, tourism and retirees, those are our three goals and I'm glad to see our hard work is paying off."

Schools

The mission of the White County school district is to help all students become responsible self-directed learners capable of functioning in our society. White County schools are committed to helping all adults develop the skills necessary to meet the challenges of all working people. This will take place in a safe and secure environment free of violence, drugs, and fear.” We hope that you will find this content to be informative and that you will contact the White County Board of Education with any questions concerning our award-winning schools.”
