April, 2024

As April begins, I'd like to reflect on the journey that has brought me to this point and share some highlights with you. There are moments in life when everything aligns seamlessly, and it's important to acknowledge and celebrate them.

Firstly, I want to recognize my roles as the Director of Operations for VisionAfric Development and as the Leader and CEO of ENOLIA, LLC. These positions hold significant meaning for me, as they enable me to introduce empowerment programs to the women of Angola and contribute to meaningful projects within the Blue Economy. I've been actively engaged in various activities here in Angola, and I'm pleased to share the progress with you.

I'm excited to announce that my Personal Development Course, Empower Achieve Succeed (EAS) Through Self-Mastery, has been accepted at the Global School for Quantum Evolution online. I will announce through this newsletter when it is available for the public to engage as we go through the iterations of getting everything set up. Additionally, I am working towards national acceptance of the program in Angola.

This month's podcasts have been particularly impactful, especially the one featuring Dr. Linda Tello. Dr. Tello's resilience in the face of serious health challenges is truly inspiring, and I am grateful for the opportunity to share her story with our listeners. Thank you, Dr. Tello, for sharing your story at such a vulnerable time in your life.

I hope you find this month's newsletter enjoyable and informative.

As we welcome April, let's embrace the opportunity for transformation in our lives, especially as we approach the solar eclipse on April 8th, ushering in new energy and possibilities.

Much Love to you all!

Collaboration and Partnership to uplift and implement Humanitarian Projects!

Who is WIMAFRICA?

The Organization of African Seafaring Women – WIMAFRICA, is a Pan-African organization of women seafarers and related activities, non-profit, regardless of race or religion.

It brings together within it all the Associations and Federations of African Maritime Women, professionals, leaders, and entrepreneurs of the African maritime sector.

It was my honor to stand in for our president, Honorable Dr. Sebastian Kopulande at our MOU signing ceremony to assist WIMAFRICA on their Artisanal Fishing project.

The ceremony was watched and acknowledged across Africa and Europe online!

VisionAfric Development and WIMAFRICA are proud to collaborate in celebrating and advocating for maritime women across Angola. Our joint efforts encompass a range of activities aimed at championing the role of women in the maritime sector. As we advance our shared initiative, particularly through the Artisanal Fishing Project, our focus lies in empowering women from diverse backgrounds, including seafaring women, those with disabilities, and elder women, by providing training opportunities and creating sustainable employment avenues. Despite encountering various challenges along our journey, we remain steadfast in our commitment to achieving our objectives. Engaging in this meaningful endeavor fills me with a profound sense of purpose, and I am honored to stand alongside fellow leaders who share our vision and dedication.

The Annual Reunion and Gathering of Africa

Dr.Enolia Foti - the meeting of Africa Tribal Leaders and Tribal Royalty

Encountering Africa's tribal royalty and leaders is truly remarkable. Immersed in the intricacies of protocol, tradition, and mutual respect, I was particularly heartened to observe the presence of women among the esteemed leadership. In Angola, a tribal leader holds the revered title of "Soba," symbolizing their traditional leadership within the tribe and wider community. Onstage were the leaders referred to as the "Sobas of the Sobas," who command the utmost respect and reverence. It was a privilege to be invited and actively participate in such a significant gathering. This encounter left an indelible mark on me, shaping an unforgettable experience that I will forever cherish. Thank you WIMAFRICA for the invitation.

International Women's Day was a vibrant celebration marked by camaraderie and the gathering of women from across Angola. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to WIMAFRICA for graciously extending an invitation to this auspicious occasion. Throughout the day, it was a joy to connect with a diverse array of inspiring individuals. To all the women who chose to celebrate International Women's Day across the world, I encourage you to embrace and nurture your innate empowerment, for you are indeed remarkable beings.

Celebrating WIMAFRICA!

It's a tremendous honor to participate in the commemoration of WIMAFRICA's 9th Anniversary. While our festivities are centered in Angola, it's noteworthy that WIMAFRICA's influence extends across 22 out of the 54 nations on the African continent. The invaluable contributions of this organization towards advancing women's roles in the Blue Economy cannot be overstated. In particular, the visionary leadership exemplified by individuals like Lady Francisca Delgado, who has diligently trained and empowered countless women, underscores the transformative impact of WIMAFRICA's initiatives. Collaborating with such an esteemed organization is a privilege, and I am hopeful that our collective efforts will continue to catalyze positive change for women throughout Africa.
