DEDICATION

THANK YOU
Mrs.
Tommasino!

The "Class of 1994" would like to dedicate this year's yearbook to Mrs. Karen Tommasino. Mrs. Tommasino has contributed countless hours to helping all of her students and has been active in many school projects. Last May, she devoted much of her time to helping this year's senior class prepare for their junior prom. With her help, the prom was a great success. This year, she was a part of the seniors "TQ" training. On behalf of the senior class, we would like to thank Mrs. Tommasino for all of her help and wish her the best in all that she aspires to do.

As the 1993 campaign came to a close, Panther linksters again continued their winning ways. The veterans did what was expected, as the newcomers were successfully baptized a part of the program have taken much pride in their individual games, resulting in a total team success.

This year the team eclipsed the previous years' accomplishments in an awesome fashion! Four golfers were undefeated, one was once tied, and one suffered only one loss. A GREAT JOB!!!

The team successfully defended its WASAREN league, INVITATIONAL titles, while recapturing the SECT. 2 C/D crown. The challenge to successfully continue the stewardship of the Panther golf program has again been passed to the 1994 team. BE PREPARED TO DO YOUR PART!!!

Thanks again for letting me share in your success!

Coach Baratto

IN MEMORY OF JEFF STRATTON: TO THE TEAM

Tho I have had to leave you whom I love,
To ho along the silent way;
Grieve not, nor speak to me with tears,
But laugh and talk of me, as if I were beside you
For who knows but I shall be, oft times!
I'd come, I'd come, could I find the way.
And would not tears and griefs be barriers?
So, when you hear a word I used to say,
Or touch a thing I loved,
Let not your thoughts of me be sad, for
I am loving you just as I always have.

To The Yearbook Staff

This has been a long and difficult year, but we made it. Thanks goes to all who helped make this book. Melissa and Christina, you both helped dramatically with your page layouts. Katie and Kerry, thanks go to both of you for helping me keep things on track. Tom and Mike, I really appreciate that you did take charge of things when I was in trouble. Angel, thank you for all of the pictures that you dedicated much of your time to taking. Abby, you helped more than you'll ever realize. You took the work seriously and I hope that you'll consider being next year's editor. Miss Crannell, your advice and criticism really made a firm foundation for our staff. Finally, Mrs. Thomas, without your ability to "motivate" all of us and without your editing skills, I don't feel that we would have had a book. Again, thanks goes to all who participated and I wish you all the best of luck in what you wish to pursue.

THE FABULOUS
FACULTY!

IN MEMORY OF JEFFERY STRATTON

On December 4, 1993, a tragic fate befell one of our schoolmates; Jeffrey Stratton. A car in which Jeff was riding collided with a tree and he died as a result of the injuries sustained. A period of intense anxiety and depression settled over the school, affecting those who had never even known him. Many students came to an early realization of their own mortality. Many people prayed for the safe return of the driver, Joshua Bull, and the other two passengers, Aaron Blinstrub and Brian Pine.

Jeff was a very popular student at school and all who knew him, loved him. He was an extremely intelligent individual. He had made plans to attend MIT or Boston University. He was involved in many school programs, such as Drama Club, the senior-high band, and the National Honor Society. He also played baseball and golf for the school. Even the Community Band was a responsibility that Jeff undertook.

On behalf of the Yearbook Staff and all who knew and loved Jeff, I would like to express our sincerest sympathies to the Stratton and Pine families, and, even considering the current circumstances, we wish you all of the love and happiness that the future has to offer you. Jeff, we all love you and you will always hold a special place in all of our hearts. God Bless You!

To the Class of 1994,

It seems strange to think of a farewell message in early March; yet in order for it to be in your yearbook in June, March is when I must write it. And doing so forces me to look ahead as well as back.

Looking back really takes me to yesteryear with the class of '94. I have known so many of you since you started school. Immediately comes to mind the image of two small boys smiling with anticipation as they waited that first day for the school bus which would take them to the other side of town and beyond. From that first day the years blur by with other images flashing quickly like those in a light show. T-ball brought some of you together in your first athletic competition from which many fine athletes emerged in all sports — girls and boys.

I am also mindful of a few serious conversations at 100 Rogers Avenue from a group of "sophisticated" sixth graders reflecting on their elementary careers — recalling some grades with joy and humor and others with a wry knowing that a sixth grader comes to only after much experience. Looking back at elementary days brings images of the trip to Boston — the first time I got to see you as a whole class in action. Your curiosity and enthusiasm abounded — around and around the great sea tank at the aquarium, in and out of corners at the museum, and up and down the plank of the U.S.S. Constitution.

Junior high brought its own special experiences — some painful as you began to learn about different ways of interacting. No longer the children of elementary school, not yet the young men and women of high school. Friendships realigned — old friends sometimes replaced (at least temporarily) with new friends. Dances were added to your list of activities. Some of you thought they were great. Others were not quite ready to acknowledge the importance of that "other" gender. One image that just leaped forward recalls a day of June basketball and video watching — celebrating the junior high joy of extra days off because of regents exams you didn't have to take.

Then high school — was it four years ago you left junior high? Or was it only last week? Little League and Misses Softball are relegated to a distant past, and images in focus now are sharper. Tuxedos and silk gowns, stretch limos and corsages. Our shared experience as seniors and advisor brought us together in a new venture — learning about the concept of Total Quality in Leadership. While our plans did not materialize quite as we envisioned, they grew in other productive and creative ways. We all ended up with a bit more than we had before. Using the concept of teamwork emphasized in TQL, you had the most successful magazine drive in years — even though you also have the smallest class in years. And, if you remember little else of the experience, I hope you will not forget:

ACT ON FACT Don't try to mindread or assume you know what you don't.

TEAMWORK Is generally more productive, less tedious, and more fun.

Hallways no longer echo with squeals of delight. Softer, deeper voices have taken over. Joyful still, but also more reflective. Decisions to be made — what to do, where to go, when you close the door on H.F.C.S.

And now I am forced to look ahead. March snows will long be melted when the June night air hears that last good bye. I will miss you all, for with you goes a lifetime of sharing, not just a year's worth. You are special people, and I am grateful for the images you have left with me.

I wish you peace and joy,
Mrs. Clintsman
Class Advisor
