Grandpa: You did everything you could, for me, and I know it didn't always seem like I appreciated it, but I did, more than you could've ever known. One thing you always said to me was, "Get good grades and go to college, without that, you're just another Joe. I know you wondered sometimes if I'd make it, I have and I am going to college. I hope you are looking down with a smile and leaving room for more smiles ahead. Without you and Grandma, I don't know if I would be where I am today. I will always love you.

Grandma: well, were graduating and soon we'll be in the real world, you've taught me so much. I know I would not have had as much fun here with out you. I'm not going to act like this is good bye because it's not, so don't forget about that letter we wrote, 2 - 3 years.

Yaslie: I'm going to miss you! No matter how down I was you could make everything seem trivial. We've had some fun times Portland, N.Y.C., and not to mention here at happy Hysoc land, what ever you do don't lose that temper, stay strong. You ever my number.

Crystal: You're like my little sister. Remember that you can do anything. I will never forget the day we entered the campus together. Stay in touch!

Matt, Trina, & Yager: You three are the '90's version of the three musketeers. I think I have laughed more this year, than I have in three years you together. Thanks!

Matt: Good luck at Hofstra next year, wish you all the success in the world. I won't be far to give me a call.

Trina: I'm going to miss those En Vogue & TLC someone wants, not to mention I still owe you some get backs. You made this year fun. Don't forget that impossible is not in you vocab.

Yager: Good luck next year, thanks for being someone I could talk to, being here seemed easier with you around. Remember that En Vogue will always prevail.

Michelle: You were always able to make me laugh hysterically at any moment. Most of the time you didn't even have to try. Portland - L.A., WESTSIDE!

Leighton, Mariano, & Miller: My little brothers! We've had some good times here. Don't get in so much trouble next year. Good luck with all you guys do.

LaChance: You always understood everything I said, that amazed me, see you at Yale Log.

Megan: Always remember to think for yourself, and if you choose something stand up for it. You're a good kid, keep Tibbits in line.

Freshman: I have to admit, that all those late nights during up in my veins wouldn't of been as much fun without you. Stay in line.

Christina A.: We've had some ups and downs, but in all we've had some fun. You gave me my first real taste of the city. Thanks!

Mr. L: You are the original Cool Guy. Your class was always something unexpected, that ended up making it better. Thanks for all your help, and keep Hank in line.

Tibbits Girls: Grandma, Yaslie, Mr. Miyagi, Marissa, Michelle, Grandie, Trina, Jane, Crystal, Clara, Jim, remember that Tibbits is the Best. Without all of you Tibbits wouldn't have been Tibbits. Remember don't turn off the bathroom light, that's the first clue.

Mi Familia OK are you happy now. You couldn't just let me be a slacker, or a class clown or just another kid in their crowd. No I had to become the big fish in the little pond, I had to get on the honor role, cut my hair and become the Senior Prefect. Now I have to go to a division I college and take Pre Med, and change the world. Thank you. Thank you for pushing me to become the man that stands before you today and always. You brought me to a place that practically doesn't exist on a map, and left me with your love and trust that I would find the road to my future. Now I tell you the tale of how such a small school community and the potential of an open mind made all the difference. There are many people who I am very grateful to who helped me to learn, even though they may not have known they were teaching. My roommate Jorge was like the older brother I never had. He taught me so much about making your life into something great and to never take your possibilities for granted. His character was an inspiration to me for the enormous amount of respect he had for everyone, including himself. The Diaz brothers. Both such complete opposites, yet both with such influential qualities. Noelle The acquaintance you can't live without. There was once a time when she took a fall for me that pulled me out of the wreck, but left her there. That day and still today I feel horrible for having put her through that, but I never felt such appreciation or trust in anyone. Through our relation she showed me that she really could see who I was and kept my high standards in tact. Hiroe She has been such a great friend for so long now, and saved me many times when I thought I would lose it. She demonstrated that when you meet a great person in our relatively short lives you have to hold on to them through the good times and the bad. We've always been there for each other and I wouldn't have it any other way. Chika In a strange way she taught me to appreciate the little things in life. Today those little things have become so important to me. Matthew There were times where he drove me crazy but at the same time kept me sane. I feel like we came to this school together so now I'm glad we left together. We were the last of Hoosac as we knew it now it's become something else. At least it went out with a bang. Mitchell Boy if there was ever another kid like this anywhere, the world would not be as we know it. He brought the idea of getting good grades and STILL having fun into my head, which got me into college. Hashani If there was anyone I could get intellectual with it was him. He ended up teaching me a lot about his culture but more about mine. Kelly You showed me you have to dig a little deeper to find what your really looking for. Park The roommate I didn't want but eventually couldn't live without. I tried to teach him all that I have learned over the years, but soon discovered he he was already on the right track. He proved that he was very different indeed from most of his sophomore peers. Miss Campos Even when I was in the darkest hours of my senior year she brought a smile to my face. forgotten. Hoosac was a strange place and without you it just would've been normal, my gratitude to all who showed me something new.

Mr. Lytton- Thanks for believing in me and understanding me. I appreciate it a lot and I'll talk to you sometime.

To anyone I forgot don't feel left out I will miss everyone here.

Appreciate what you have now because you'll never have it again.

"Nina do it!"

Ken,

Time has passed so fast since you left Japan. It's hard to believe that you are going to graduate from high school. We're sure it was very difficult for you to adjust to a new life there, but you did such a great job getting used to it and enjoyed it. We hope you'll continue doing your best. We are very proud of you.

Mom & Dad

Oh Hoosac!

*Deus Regit- Semper Fi
I believe or else I'll die
I wasn't trying to find a rhyme
but to my regret I'll do it this time.*

*Boars head, Yule Log
It's finally coming out of the fog
Why do I dress in tights?
Dressing stupid- What a funny sight!
I can't believe I sang those songs*

*Oh gee the year has almost passed
Oh Hoosac! I've cried my last.*

Carlos Quinones

*Congratulations

Good luck in your future endeavors.

When he's a man will stand so tall
The little boy whose smile is bright
As a man will know wrong from right
The little boy who stays up all night
Never wanting to turn out the light
Becomes a man with a heart so true
Smart, Fun, Proud, Full of Virtue
Now Standing there the man I see
Was once a little boy to me!*
