When the twilight shadows gather
Out upon the campus green,
When the gold and purple dusk
Comes stealing on the scene,
Loyal sons of dear Saint Mary's
Sing a hymn of praise
To our dear old Alma Mater
And our high school days.

When the last big game is over
And the last roll call is heard,
As the end of life draws near us
All with joyous word,
We shall come to Alma Mater
In our dreams again,
With a prayer for dear Saint Mary's
And a sweet Amen.

PRESENTED BY THE SENIOR CLASS

Saint
Mary's
Academy

HOOSICK FALLS, NEW YORK

Following weeks of much deliberation and thought we, the Class of 1961, have selected a theme for the Echo. We have decided to devote our yearbook to a tour of the new Saint Mary's Academy High School division.

Before we begin our tour, it is only fitting and proper that we should review briefly the history of our Alma Mater. Our school was established in 1891 by the Augustinian Fathers of the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Saint Mary's, represented by Reverend Patrick J. O'Connell, O.S.A., welcomed eleven Sisters of Saint Joseph who had been requested as teachers for the school. Six hundred pupils were enrolled on September 8, 1891. The first commencement exercises were held on June 28, 1894.

Financial problems forced Father Daniel Regan, O.S.A. to make a house to house canvass for funds to keep the school in operation in 1895. Due to the loss of prosperity for the Walter A. Wood Company, there had been a population decrease which affected Saint Mary's. The people of Hoosick Falls proved their generosity and the school remained in operation. In 1899 the name of the school was changed from Saint Mary's Academic School to Saint Mary's Academy.

The Rev. George C. Egan, O.S.A. purchased the property on which the present school has been built. On May 30, 1959, Father Lamond broke ground for the new high school. On September 12 Bishop Scully laid the cornerstone of the new building.

It is this newly dedicated building which we are about to tour.

PATRONS

Mary Immaculate,
Patroness of our country, our parish and our school,
As special Mother of our class,
Hear our fond remembrances
Of our high school years under your care.
Be mindful

of our first day's fright as Freshmen;
of our days of struggle as Sophomores;
of our joys and jestings as Juniors;
of our pleasures and plans as Seniors.

You have aided us during the past four years.
All our studies, activities and endeavors
Have known your guiding love.

Help us now, Mary,
As we set forth on life's journey.

We have need of you for you, like Your Son, know how often we stumble and fall.

Holy Mary, Queen and center of our hearts,
To you

We, the Class of 1961,
Consecrate our lives,
our loves,
our longings.

Lead us, sweet Mother,
to your Son.

CONSECRATION

Because of your constant assistance and practical aid,
Because of your unselfish and unfailing encouragement in our work,
Because of your inexhaustible patience and your stalwart sense of justice,
Because of the endless hours you have devoted to our advancement in education and Catholic living,
Because of your motherly guidance and perpetual sincerity in all respects,
Because of your understanding and generosity of heart,
Because you are humility itself,
That is why we, the Seniors, dedicate the 1961 edition of the Saint Mary's Academy Echo to you

Sister Andrew Joseph

DEDICATION

Dedication Ceremonies

In September 1960, the new Saint Mary's Academy was ready for occupancy and on September 7th the students moved into the new high school division.

On Sunday, November 6, Bishop Scully performed the solemn ceremony of dedication.

Senior president, James Shaw, expresses greetings to His Excellency Bishop Scully on behalf of the Student Body of Saint Mary's Academy.

Participation of the clergy of the area added dignity to the ceremony of dedication. These priests assisted Bishop Scully at the blessing.

Bishop Scully, attended by Fathers Thomas and Andrew Lenahan, blesses the corridor and classrooms of the new building.

The Bishop reads the solemn prayer of dedication at the entrance of the school.

Bishop Scully's words inspire those in attendance at the dedication ceremony to take pride in the role played by Catholic education in the training of the leaders of tomorrow's America as Christ was trained in charity and justice.

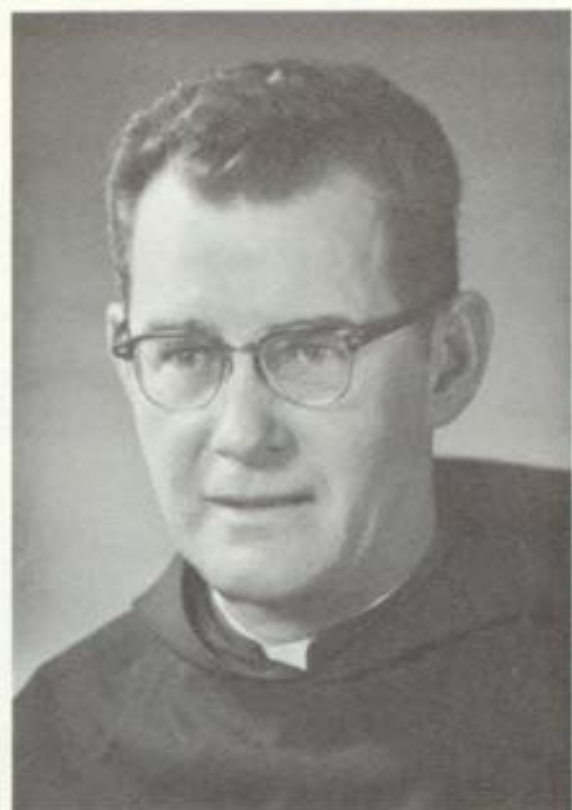

The Reverend John J. Lamond, O.S.A.
Pastor of Saint Mary's Church
Principal of Saint Mary's Academy

We, here at Saint Mary's, are especially indebted to our priests as sources of inspiration. Their interest in our welfare, both spiritual and academic, never ceases. To them we express our heartfelt gratitude for their Christlike devotion. It is our sincere hope that God will shower His graces upon His faithful servants.

Father Lamond praises the people of St. Mary's in his speech on the occasion of the dedication.

ADMINISTRATION

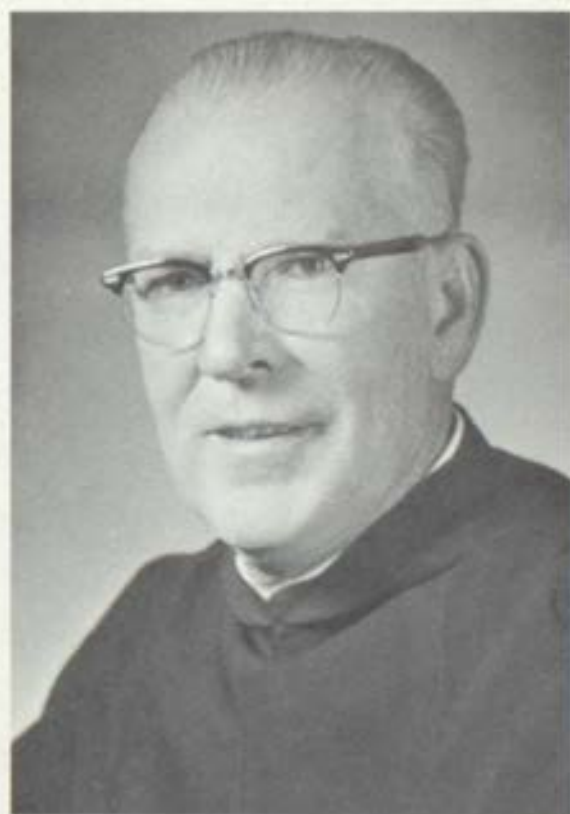

The Reverend Richard P. Daley, O.S.A.
Assistant Pastor

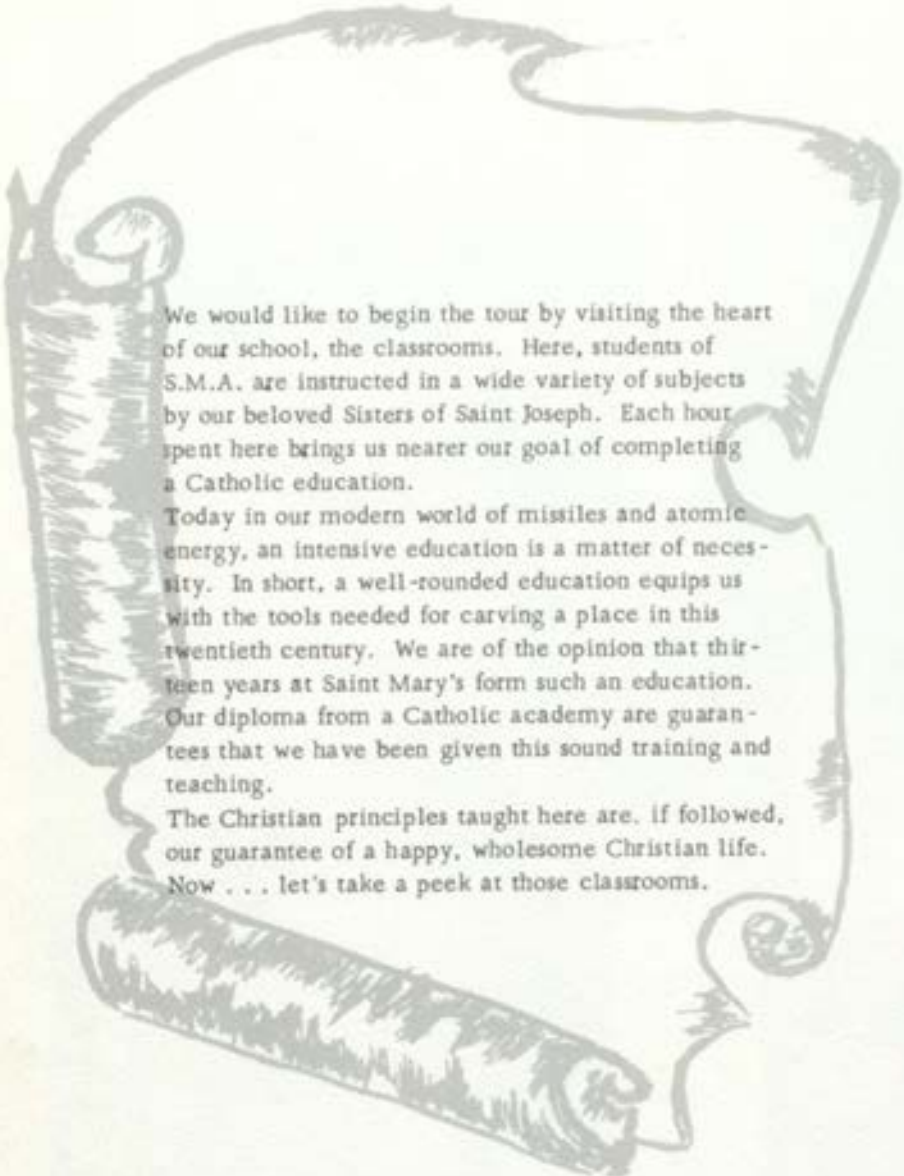

Mrs. Raymond Sauville
Sec. to the Principal

Mr. Edison Dorr
Building Superintendent

The Rev. Lawrence J. Gerrity, O.S.A.
Assistant Pastor

We would like to begin the tour by visiting the heart of our school, the classrooms. Here, students of S.M.A. are instructed in a wide variety of subjects by our beloved Sisters of Saint Joseph. Each hour spent here brings us nearer our goal of completing a Catholic education.

Today in our modern world of missiles and atomic energy, an intensive education is a matter of necessity. In short, a well-rounded education equips us with the tools needed for carving a place in this twentieth century. We are of the opinion that thirteen years at Saint Mary's form such an education. Our diploma from a Catholic academy are guarantees that we have been given this sound training and teaching.

The Christian principles taught here are, if followed, our guarantee of a happy, wholesome Christian life. Now . . . let's take a peek at those classrooms.

Sister Mary Céline, C.S.J.
Religion IV Social Studies

Neil Cooney sneaks a look at Lorraine Lassar's and Donna Murphy's history homework before reporting to World Backgrounds class.

Stidious Seniors give strict attention to the encyclical of Pope Plus XI on marriage during their Religion IV class.

Mapwork makes history come to life for these Juniors as John Ferranini points out the route to be taken by the American History class.

Interested Sophomores follow Bill McAuliffe as he starts the next interesting chapter in World History.

John Hickey approves of the bulletin arranged by Kay Burns and Neil Cooney.

Sister Mary Céline waits while her Social Studies IX group gathers information for the question posed.

"I got only one wrong!" exclaims Jane Mulvihill as a group of students compare test papers from a World Background class.

Sister Matilda Anne conducts a discussion class in Religion III.

Fellow Sophomores listen attentively while Eve Burns explains a geometric theorem.

Jim DeSacia shows that problems will always be problems as he works out a quadratic for the Math XI class.

Members of Sister Matilda Anne's Elementary Algebra Class; David McEvoy, John Dwyer, Margaret Hoag, Kathleen Crowley and Richard Humphrey demonstrate their newly acquired skill at solving intricate problems in mathematics.

FRONT ROW: J. Fleming, E. Burns, S. Harrington, M. E. Hewson, P. Bradley, B. McAuliffe, P. Kempf, R. Stuka, K. Carelli, M. Benkoski. SECOND ROW: Sister Robertine, P. Rivard, B. Begin, N. Hyland, J. Bromirski, M. A. Barber, K. Powers, P. Morin. THIRD ROW: J. Hoag, A. Salluzzo, J. LaPorte, J. Rancourt, A. Butkas, J. McGrath, W. Brundige, R. Charbonneau.

In Room 10, stop three on our tour, conversation, knowledge and appreciation of the culture and civilization of the Latin and English speaking worlds prepare the students for various careers.

Witches, Anne Morin, Judy Marcoux and Maureen McGrath, dance around the cauldron as Mike Galvin chants out, "Double, double, toil and trouble."

Bob Dwyer demonstrates his ability to out-Cicero Cicero for Pat LeBlanc, Judy Bulson and Barb Wrubleski.

Bob Harrington, Bud Barber, Susan Wolfrum and Edward Powers evidently enjoyed Mary Jane Casey's oral English report during English III class.

Following Sister Robertine's lead, Latin I students agree that music makes Latin come to life.

Dick Lassar, Janice Skorupski and Turner Percy watch attentively as Jackie Fleming and Eddie O'Brien try to conquer those compound sentences.

Ken Begin, David Straub, Allan Petell and Jane Al-lard show us that Religion I can be made more interesting through the use of Catholic periodicals.

Sister Mary Vianney and LES FEMMES of the French III class enjoy the reading of MONSIEUR Mike Galvin.

Diligent Sophomores make the matter of translating French I a serious business.

The splendor of France comes to life in Room 9. In their daily curriculum French scholars acquaint themselves with French cuisine, culture and conversation. From stop four of our S.M.A. tour, we go on to the library.

Business Room

We now find our tour stopping at Sister Andrew Joseph's Business Room. Within these walls we have become adept at typing, mastered the principles of Business Law and Bookkeeping and become proficient in Business Arithmetic.

College-bound Mary Laroche, Ann Marie Nowak, Dennis Sausville, Carl Kempf and Jim Shaw discuss entrance requirements with Sister Andrew Joseph.

The typing class limbers up stiff fingers in preparation for a speed test.

Walt Sausville, Neil Cooney and Tony Salluzzo were working so diligently at Business Arithmetic that they didn't even take time to smile at our photographer.

The Freshmen will find themselves off to a good start in the business field if they apply the principles taught in their Introduction to Business class.

Bookkeeping ledgers present no problem for Sharon Albowicz, Rosemary Flynn, John Ferrannini and Mike Allard.

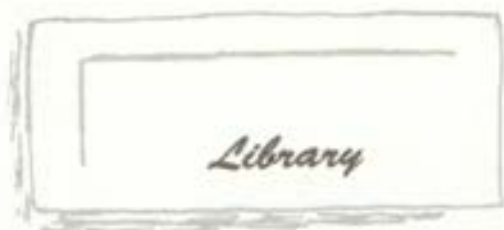

Not a mile a minute but at least fifty words! The Senior typing class enjoys it, too.

We enter now our library, the quietest but busiest place in the building. Here via the printed page we can sail the seven seas, climb every mountain or travel the highways of adventure to the farthest corners of the globe.

New books always intrigue library visitors.

"It's all part of a day's work," Maureen McGrath says as she checks out books for Joann Hanselman, Ann Marie Flynn and Rosemary Hoag.

All eyes are on the book as Sister Robertine instructs the Sophomores in the use of the Readers' Guide.

Librarians Margaret Hoag and Mary Eileen Hewson find it fun to shelf returned books.

"There's nothing like looking before selecting," claim Eugene Murphy, John Ferrannini and Jim DeSacia.

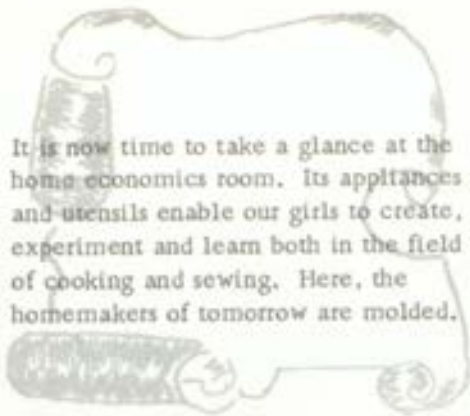

John Hickey jots it down and Dennis Keegan continues to search; while Linda Smith takes time out to browse.

"Are you related to Grandma Moses?" ask Mary Laroche and Maureen Burke of Jackie Fleming, whose drawings are on display in the library.

Using the card catalogue to help find books saves time for Kay Burns and Julie Martin.

It is now time to take a glance at the home economics room. Its appliances and utensils enable our girls to create, experiment and learn both in the field of cooking and sewing. Here, the homemakers of tomorrow are molded.

It was a gala day when kitchen shower packages were unwrapped as Sister Mary Celine looks on. Donna Murphy, Kay Burns, Maureen Burke, Rosemary Flynn, and Anne Morin, assist with the unwrapping.

Home Ec

At a model luncheon, hostess Lorraine Lassar pours for her "guests," Cheryl Kreshy, Mary Jane Casey, Ann Marie Flynn and Sharon Albowicz.

These girls realize that they must read before attempting to apply the principles taught in homemaking.

Our photographer found these girls busy sewing on various projects for their Homemaking class.

Peggy Benkoski and Maureen McGrath prove the old proverb, "Many hands make light work."

Rose Marie Stuka and Linda Smith try out a new recipe as Sister Mary Celine supervises.

Judging from Judy Marcoux's expression, that cake tastes as good as it looks.

Sister Matilda Anne looks on as S.M.A.'s chemist, Donald Hayden, does an experiment.

Science

Senior scientists, Carl Kempf and Jim Shaw, get a king-sized view of pint-sized amebas.

These four biology students make dissecting starfish look easy.

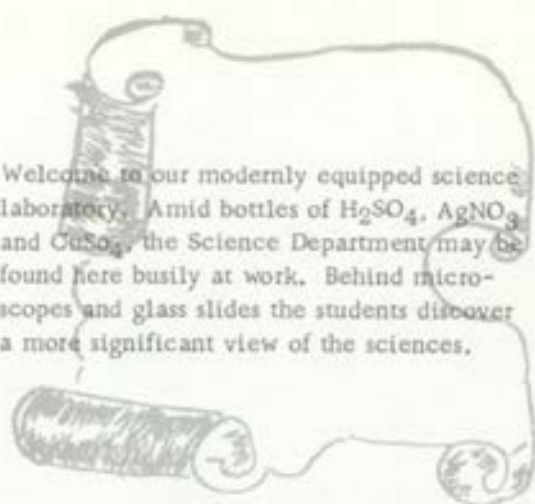

"This is sure a different one," exclaims Jim Shaw to fellow Earth Science students.

Budding biologist, Lorraine Lessor studies a preserved specimen.

Welcome to our modernly equipped science laboratory. Amid bottles of H_2SO_4 , $AgNO_3$ and $CuSO_4$, the Science Department may be found here busily at work. Behind microscopes and glass slides the students discover a more significant view of the sciences.

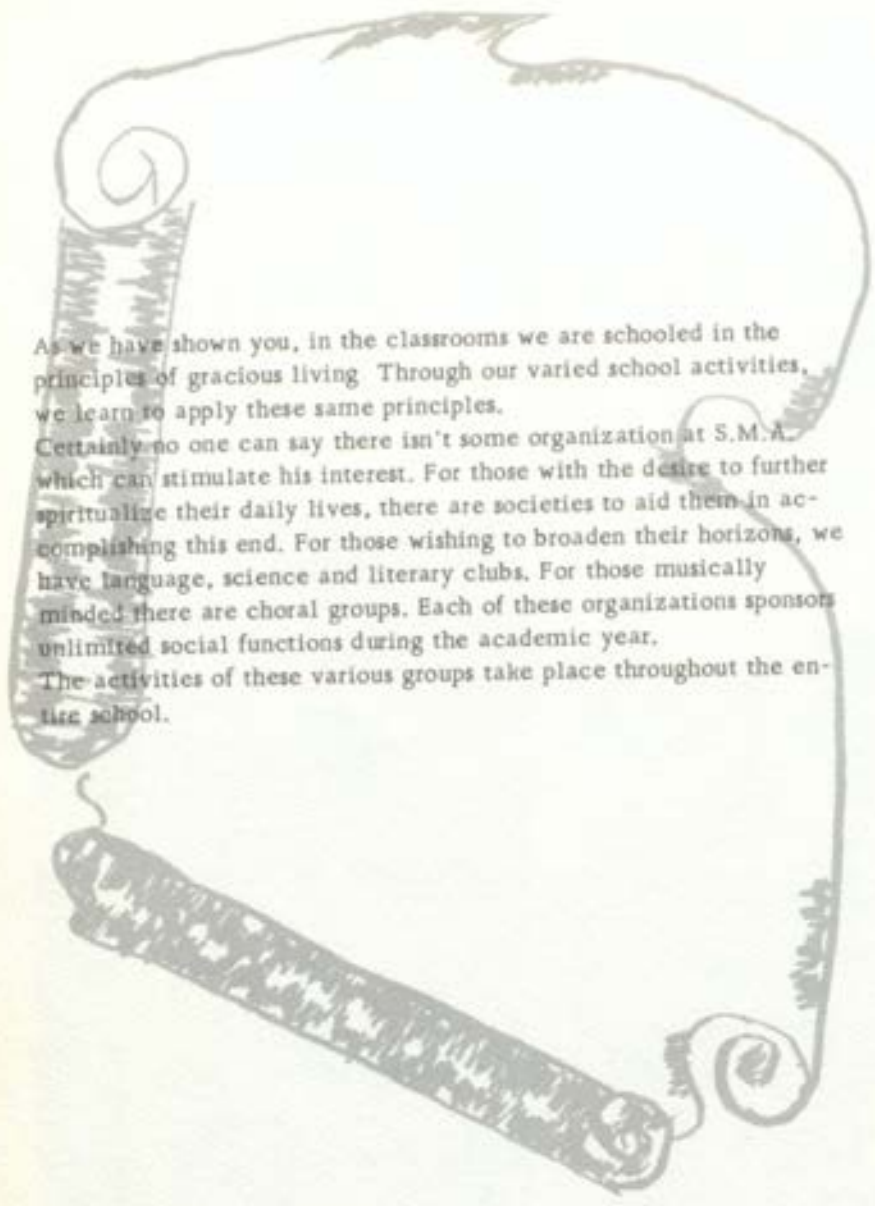

Mike Galvin uses the map to illustrate a point for Dennis Keegan in an Earth Science class.

Both Judy Bulson and Eddie Gorman appear very interested in their chemistry assignment.

As we have shown you, in the classrooms we are schooled in the principles of gracious living. Through our varied school activities, we learn to apply these same principles. Certainly no one can say there isn't some organization at S.M.A. which can stimulate his interest. For those with the desire to further spiritualize their daily lives, there are societies to aid them in accomplishing this end. For those wishing to broaden their horizons, we have language, science and literary clubs. For those musically minded there are choral groups. Each of these organizations sponsors unlimited social functions during the academic year. The activities of these various groups take place throughout the entire school.

ACTIVITIES

Corridor Capers

Patty Kempf and Noreen Hyland await a handout from Bill Brundige who claims that a good five-cent candy bar makes any class more fun.

Linda Hanselman, Richard Bisson and Danny Gleichowski agree that S.M.A. hasn't done too poorly at sports in the past as they admire the trophies on exhibit in the front trophy case.

Sister Robertine checks with Rosemary Hoag, Mary Laroche and Carl Kempf to see that Mr. Andrick is kept busy.

Seniors, Anne Morin, Lorraine Lassar and Judy Marcoux enjoy some chit-chat with Father Lamond.

"Bricks and Mortar," a play commemorating United Nations Day, was the first of many assemblies held in the new auditorium. It was only fitting that the Class of '61 be chosen to present the initial assembly.

*Hither

"Make no mistakes," instructs Mike Galvin, chairman of the 1960 Magazine Drive.

Father Lamond accepts new flag from the American Legion for S.M.A.

*Isle of

Skilled fingers made every nook and corner of the hall truly an "Isle of Golden Dreams."

Hours of labor plus fun equal a successful prom.

Snowflake Soirée

This happy foursome decided to sit this one out.

Denny Sausville and his date seem to be enjoying their evening at the "Snowflake Soirée."

Language Clubs

Club president, Donna Murphy, consults Sister Mary Vianney concerning forthcoming French Club activities with Mike Galvin nodding his approval.

Latin Club officers hold an important pow-wow to plan a club program.

John Dwyer explains his project to Sister Robertine and club members.

There's nothing like a Bingo game to make a meeting of Le Cercle Francais come alive is the candid opinion of club members, Cheryl Kresky and Susan McEvoy.

More Club Activities

Sister Andrew Joseph congratulates Jane Mulvihill as she awards her the 1961 Betty Crocker Home-making Pin.

Bookworms Paulette Rivard and Pat Morin guide Sandy Harrington's deft hands arranging the Library bulletin board.

Senior members of the Science Club prepare to leave in Neil Cooney's car for an interesting science excursion.

Newspaper staff members Judy Bulson and Julie Martin wait their turns as Rose Marie Stuka chooses her assignment for the week.

Christmas Pageant

The three kings and shepherds make their all-important final preparations before going on stage.

The spirit of Christmas is instilled in the hearts of all as Ann Marie Nowak commences our pageant with the "Song that the Angels Sang."

The lilting voices of the S.M.A. Glee Club add to the beauty of the Christmas Pageant.

"O Come let us adore Him" is the joyous invitation extended by our Academy Students as they reenact the Christmas Story.

These angelic choristers raise their voices in praise of the newborn King.

Sister Robertine enjoys preparing Linda Smith for her role in the pageant.

Ring Ceremony

It was a gala day for us when we received our class rings.

Fashion Show and Lunch Room

Lorraine Lassar appears almost ready to make her debut in S.M.A.'s Fashion Show.

Judy Bromirski, one of our faithful chefs, and Mrs. Sausville prepare for a busy noon-hour.

Echo Staff at Work

Ann Marie Nowak and Julie Martin take time out from a busy schedule to autograph the ECHO mascot, Jiminy Cricket.

Editor-in-chief, Jim Shaw, thanks Mr. Andrick for his co-operation, while Carl Kempf, Sports Editor, nods his appreciation also.

Photography editor, Denny Sausville, checks his camera so he'll be ready at a moment's notice.

ECHO moderator, Sister Robertine and Business Manager, Mary Laroche check on the sale of ads.

It is now our pleasure to guide you through our immense gymnasium of which we are all very proud. Within its four walls, the basketball teams have captured thrilling victories and sometimes suffered crushing defeats. Regardless of the results, our boys have played to the best of their ability and accepted the final score with a true spirit of sportsmanship.

Enthusiastically lending encouragement have been the loyal cheerleaders. Their energetic efforts have strengthened the morale of teams and spectators alike. Together the players and cheerleaders have striven to attain their goal of bringing honor and glory to Saint Mary's Academy.

Looks good from here, Walt!

FIGHT! SCORE! WIN! were the cries that re-echoed through the streets of Hoosick Falls on the night of the opening Pep Rally.

The Purple Eagles looked like a toumey bound team as they rode through the town.

Now our tour is complete and we have guided you through the new high school division. Although you came in alone, we are leaving with you. Though we have only been in the modern building one short year, we have many memories to take with us.

In October, our Senior class presented an assembly to open the school year. Soon afterwards in December, the Class of '61 sponsored the "Snowflake Soiree," S.M.A.'s first winter ball. May found us very excited and busy preparing for the Prom and the Junior-Senior Banquet. During the entire year, we, the Seniors, worked together to complete the publication of our yearbook.

We would like to take this opportunity to say a fond goodbye to our Sisters and friends left at S.M.A. to carry on all of her wonderful traditions. May God bless all of you!

When the twilight shadows gather
Out upon the campus green,
When the gold and purple dusk
Comes stealing on the scene,
Loyal sons of dear Saint Mary's
Sing a hymn of praise
To our dear old Alma Mater
And our high school days.

When the last big game is over
And the last roll call is heard,
As the end of life draws near us
All with joyous word,
We shall come to Alma Mater
In our dreams again,
With a prayer for dear Saint Mary's
And a sweet Amen.
