Back to Basic

Honor, Yearning for Integrity, Purpose-Potential Pride and Education are the components of this seminar/workshop. The sole purpose is to provide foundational principles for our youth and young adults who are facing various stages of transition within their lives during the pivotal times between the ages of 11-25. It's designed to create instructional values, which are keys for having a balanced life. The beginning stages for the building and defining of personality and character starts at the end of elementary school transitioning into middle school. It is during these years of development both mentally and physically a child faces an overwhelming urge to test their boundaries. So in providing a cause and effect look at the issues during these times, we provide solutions to offset peer pressure, childhood pregnancy, alcoholism, drug abuse, envy and low self esteem. Through effective positive communications, structure direction and reinforcement of values within these age groups at pivotal stages allows us to fortify them for life. Removing some or all stumbling blocks more effectively.

Teaching

It's more than just a profession it's a calling, This is a workshop design to rejuvenate, motivate and inspire today's educators who maybe feeling a little overwhelmed and slightly burned out within their quest to educate the youth of America. It focuses on bringing back to mind the rewards of such a great profession and identifies the key factors within these unique individual who provide the passion, integrity and visionary who has the ability to identify potential in others and develop it to the highest levels possible.

This is not always rewarded in compensation but rather in the accomplishment of others success, through all the daily struggles that today's educators face. This workshop praises and the tireless efforts demonstrated on a daily basis, providing techniques that will help fuel those efforts forward to maintain the momentum. It is true what the mind can conceive and believe it can achieve!

Relationships

The Objective

We are presenting these series of topics to help provide a greater understanding of mankind's inherited habits based on gender, family history and beliefs, social and economic settings, and cultural awareness and also to bring greater awareness of stereotypical bias from centuries that have never been corrected.

Creating greater awareness of oneself first before we look outside towards another. Helping to create a more cohesive society in which we all can thrive. Breaking the most common areas of bondage spiritual, emotional, and mental. Benefiting throughout life in the way God intended.

Our Relationship series is divided into five sessions that go in-depth within each topic. Uncovering the common mistakes, misconceptions, accountability, and repairable solutions that realign us with the principles that fortify the foundation of any relationship. These candid discussions go a step further in broadening our understanding and expanding our knowledge.

Topics Include

- Self
- Courtship
- Engagement
- Marriage
- Post Wedding

The most important factor to any/all successful relationship is based on the foundation that we build upon within ourselves

The main component of that foundation must be our personal relationship with God.
