NORTH is a leading-edge firm with an award-winning portfolio.

Working with our core team in Whistler, we bring an energized and playful approach to design. Our style is critical, our methods artful. We offer solutions both practical and precedent-setting, bridging the sustainable with the aesthetically exceptional.

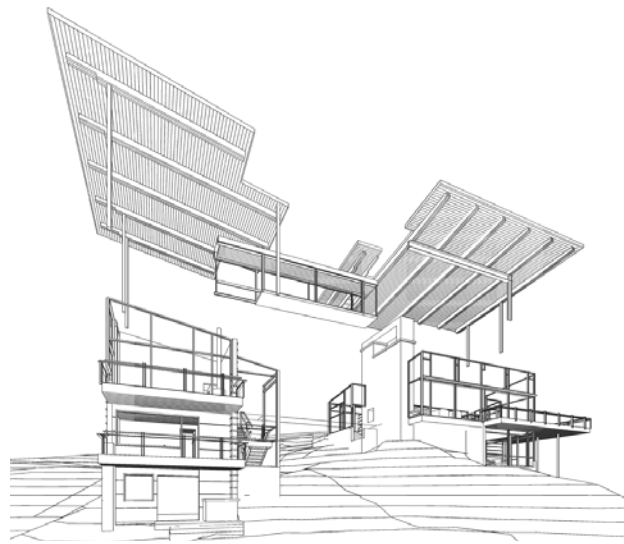

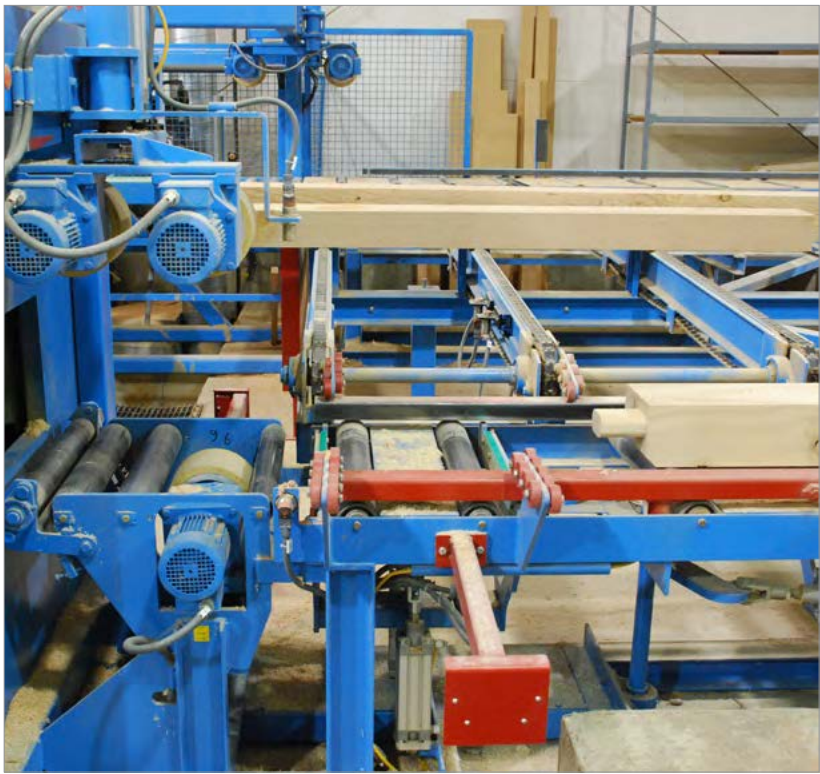

Our desire at NORTH is to meet the immediate and future needs of our clients, while respecting budget and scheduling constraints. Our philosophy promotes transparency. We eschew a corporate mentality in favour of holistic commonality. Provided the tools and experience necessary to realize their goals, our clients stay involved through every step of the design process. Consultation fosters innovation. We are committed to a shared development.

Macro to micro, residential to commercial, we welcome every challenge. In partnership with our ever-growing client base, we deliver outside-of-box ingenuity for atypical problem sets. Crucial to building planning comes the consideration of urban pride and sense of community. We construct monuments to our client's inspiration, of a nature both usable and iconic.

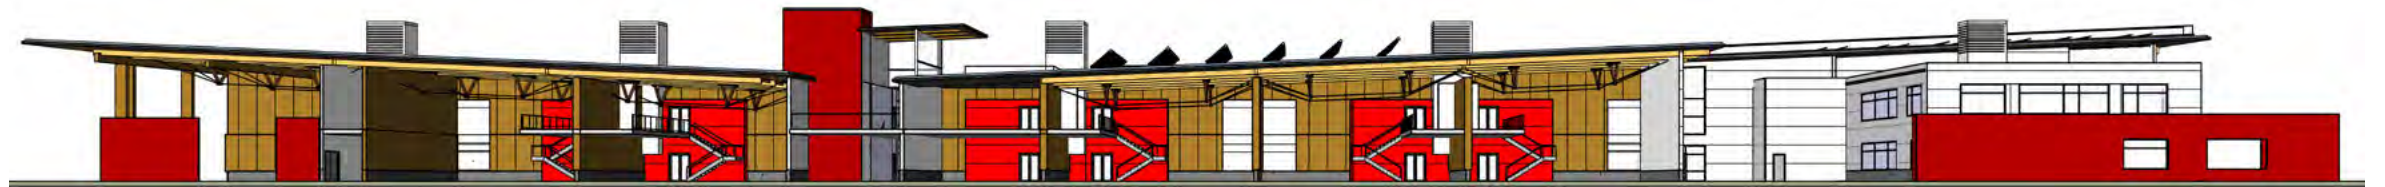

Led by partner Peter Buchanan, with key associates Greg Baluta and Anne Buchanan our creative team includes a talented group of design professionals drawn to us from across North America. Working with NORTH is collaborative, inspiring and rewarding.

At North, we are collaborators. We believe in a team approach to initiating and developing a project design. We harness the rich database power of Building Information Model (BIM) technology for sharing project information to deliver projects. With BIM, we can integrate design, fabrication information and project management into one comprehensive parametric database. To us, the downstream advantages of our process are engaging, extremely communicative and awe-inspiring.
