

Name: Ernest George Guy

Tack's Beach, Placentia Bay

Calypso Training Ship WWI

Born in 1887, son of Henry and Sarah Parsons Guy.

When he signed up to go overseas, George was married to Jessie Williams of Tack's Beach and had two young children. Soon after his return Jessie became pregnant with their third child. She and the child died during childbirth.

He later re-married to Sarah Guy. George was a fisherman and plied his trade until 1939. He, along with a young companion, Gordon Peach, disappeared while hauling their fishing nets. No trace of either of them was ever found. His closest living descendant in Arnold's Cove is Effie (Guy) Wareham
