Discussion Questions

1. Sarah and Scott are close childhood friends. What do you think each of them gets from their relationship?
2. What do you think of Julie and her friendship with Sarah?
3. How did Hugo's betrayal change your opinion of him?
4. Sarah suffers from workplace harassment. Have you ever had to deal with a boss like Kurt?
5. When their father leaves, Mabel blames their mother. Why do you think that is?
6. Sarah is shocked by her mother's sincerity and grace when it comes to dealing with Emilee. In the face of tragedy, do you think you'd be able to practice forgiveness like Alice did?
7. The story is told from Sarah's point of view. What moments do you wish you could have peeked inside other character's heads?
8. Pine Lake is Sarah's favorite place in the whole world. What's yours?

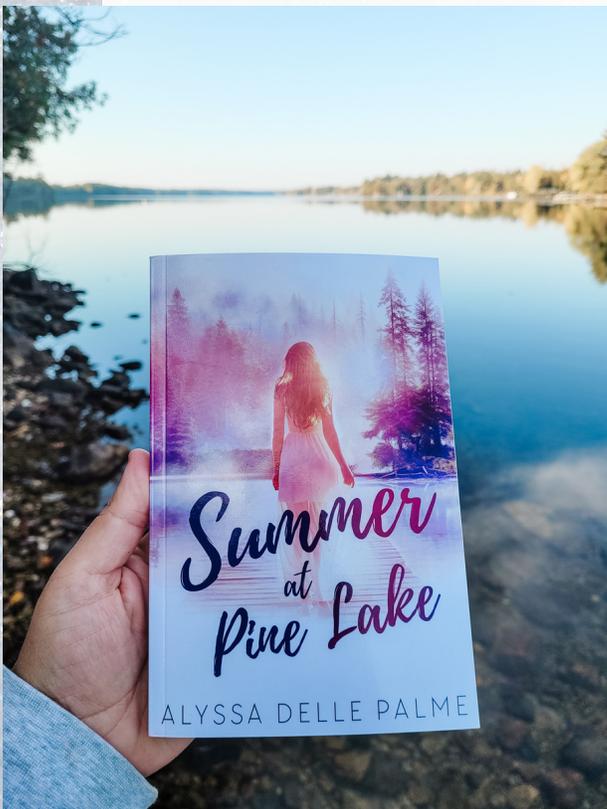

“Look. Sarah, the loons!” Scott said. But it was his face she looked at first. So charming was his wonder.

Menu Ideas

Books pair well with just about anything, but here are some appetizers, main dishes, desserts, and drinks inspired by SUMMER AT PINE LAKE:

- Alice's Dinner Party. Roast beef, mashed potatoes, asparagus and vanilla cake.
- Julie's Luncheon. Egg salad and cucumber and cream cheese tea sandwiches, and lemonade.
- Jeff's Bonfire Party Charcuterie. A variety of veggies, cheese, meat, and crackers. Spicy hummus, fancy mustard, olives and pickled carrots.
- Mabel's Cottage Breakfast. Scrambled eggs, bacon, pancakes and coffee.
- Scott's picnic. Ham and cheese croissant sandwiches, plain potato chips, and glass bottles of Coke. Best served on a red and white checkered picnic blanket.
- Canadian Carnival Appetizers. Poutine, corn dogs and Beavertails.
- Sarah's summer garden pasta. Spaghetti, olive oil, garlic, tomatoes, basil, and parmesan cheese.
- Cocktails or Mocktails made with Canada Dry Ginger Ale.
- Grandma's famous chocolate chip cookies.
- Support a local bakery and order custom cookies or cakes!
