- Broad-spectrum antioxidant protection*

What is it?

Microhydrin Plus is a powerful broad-spectrum antioxidant. It combines Microhydrin[®] with eight other potent antioxidants to give you the ultimate protection from free radical damage.*

Antioxidants are compounds that stop free radicals from damaging your cells. This protection is key to keeping your cells healthy so you can enjoy an active, vibrant life. Microhydrin Plus is formulated to help you slow the aging process and support your immunity with research-backed, antioxidant protection.*

A New Defense Against Free Radicals

We have demonstrated through laboratory research that Microhydrin provides more electrons than any other product on the market. Millions of people have experienced the profound effect this has had on their health, energy and endurance.*

Research in the field of antioxidants has grown at an incredible rate. Studies show that we need a number of them for optimum protection against the different types of free radicals that threaten our health. That is why our Founder, Clinton Howard, set out to create a powerful broad-spectrum antioxidant with the development of Microhydrin Plus.

Why This Defense Is Critical To Your Health

Free radicals are unstable compounds that have lost electrons. They damage our health as they steal electrons from vital cells, interfering with the cells' ability to function normally.

Our only defense are antioxidants. Consuming a variety of antioxidants may help stave off many of the degenerative conditions thought to be caused by free radicals.

Microhydrin has been shown to neutralize the most dangerous free radicals and help establish pH balance. Microhydrin Plus contains 8 additional nutrients that have been well-researched for their numerous health benefits.
