HOOVER
Cleaning
Keeps
Rugs
in Good Condition

WHEN the Hoover Electric Cleaner is at work, three cleaning actions go on at the same time—sweeping, beating and suction cleaning. This fast cleaning saves your time. This easy cleaning saves your strength and this thorough cleaning saves your rugs.

Once you have used a Hoover on your rugs you won't be content with other cleaning methods. You will be delighted with the appearance of your rugs. The colors will be brighter and the nap will be straightened and stand upright.

The larger Hoover model is priced at $79.50 cash and the smaller size at $53.50. Prices are a little higher if purchase is made on terms of

$5 down and $5 a month

Hygienic, to replace the usual bag, can be disposed of easily. They do away with the bother of bag cleaning. Ten of these with an adapter and support for attaching them to the Hoover cleaner are sold for $3.50.

MANY IMPROVED WEAPONS AWAIT TRIALS BY ARMY

Increase in Mobility and Fire Power Is Expected of Latest Devices.

Washington. — A dozen new or vastly improved army weapons, designed to play a part in modernizing the army and increasing its mobility and fire power will be tested out on War department proving grounds this fall and winter.

The new weapons range in size from fifteen-ton tanks down to semi-automatic shoulder rifles weighing slightly more than eight pounds. They include a new Christie tank, an army developed medium fifteen-ton tank, two models of 75 millimeter artillery with a universal field of fire, three semi-automatic shoulder rifles, a new airplane machine gun, and a tank machine gun. In addition, a .50-caliber Hotchkiss machine gun has been ordered from France for test and study by the ordnance department.

The Christie tank is to be an improvement over the nine-ton vehicle turned out by the Christie firm last year. It will weigh from ten and one-half to thirteen tons. Specifications call for a machine that will make forty miles an hour on hard roads and at least thirty across country. It will have armor plate thick enough to stop the service caliber bullet, and mount one rapid fire one-pounder, and one .30 caliber machine gun. It will be built with tracks for cross country and wheels for hard roads.

The army tank weighs close to fifteen tons and is designed to travel close to thirty miles an hour. Its armament will be superior to the Christie vehicle. It will have a three pounder rapid fire gun as well as two or three machine guns. Both tanks will be equipped with Liberty airplane engines.

Within the next few weeks the army semi-automatic shoulder rifle team will receive one shipment of twenty Grand 276-caliber rifles to be tested by the infantry, one improved Pedersen semi-automatic 276 rifle and a new .30 caliber semi-automatic rifle manufactured by J. C. Garand.

The board is still undecided as to the comparative merits of the Pedersen and Garand rifles, although inclined to believe the Garand is the better gun.

Lamplight
Adds New Charm
to Any Room

PORTABLE lamps contribute much to a room. Convenience—they can be adjusted easily to give the light you need. Comfort—they shed illumination so easily that the eyes are not taxed. Beauty—rooms are brightened and made more cheerful.

Why not come in and we will show you the latest styles in portable lamps? The new shapes and colors are most attractive. The rosy shades are up to the minute in design and color, and each one is selected to harmonize with the lamp it accompanies.

Add another light to each room and you will find your home has increased comfort, new charm and the convenience that comes from good illumination.

Mazda lamps have been reduced in price by 10 per cent if purchased by the carton. Cartons come in two sizes, one at $1.08 and one at $1.33.

NOVEMBER 4th IS THE DAY

when you may select the candidates for the various public offices to be filled this year.

The UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION has resulted in thousands of families being forced to live under conditions of POVERTY and DISTRESS. This will continue, unless MEN INTERESTED in alleviating these conditions are elected.

Leading business men of the nation say, "THE TROUBLE is 'FINANCIAL' — NOT 'LACK OF FINANCES'".

Legislation to prevent a repetition of the Wall Street orgy of October, 1929, will DIVERT THE USEFUL CHANNELS the hundreds of millions of dollars now used exclusively in speculation.

Our candidates can be depended upon to carry on the fight against Wall Street, and the interests responsible for the present BUSINESS DEPRESSION!

The PROHIBITION QUESTION will seriously occupy the attention of our next CONGRESS and STATE LEGISLATURE. Men whose public record indicates a SYMPATHY for the present PROHIBITION LAWS, and who have always supported the forces that were responsible for the establishment of Prohibition, CANNOT BE DEPENDED UPON to lead an aggressive movement for its repeal. Some of the candidates on the OPPOSITION TICKET, HAVE NOT YET DECLARED THEIR ATTITUDE on this great question of the day.

Those who believe that the matter of Prohibition is one that should be left to the INDIVIDUAL STATE, and is not a NATIONAL question, should support the DEMOCRATIC candidates. They are pledged to LEAD THE FIGHT for the REPEAL of this law.

The AFFAIRS OF MIDDLESEX COUNTY have been in charge, since January 1, 1930, of men who have evidenced an INTEREST IN THE PUBLIC'S WELFARE. These men have kept their EXPENDITURES WITHIN THE BUDGET APPROPRIATIONS. They have refrained from issuing so-called EMERGENCY NOTES. They have established the POLICY of NOT EXPENDING for improvements more money than an amount equal to the BONDS MATURING in any year—and this has KEPT DOWN the DEBT of the County, and is CONTRARY to the methods pursued by the FORMER ADMINISTRATION when the BONDED DEBT mounted from $4,085,500.00 in 1926 to $5,472,500.00 on January 1, 1930.

The County TAX RATE INCREASED in the same time from .88 to 1.05. NEXT YEAR IT WILL BE REDUCED TO .95 OR LESS. Keep this kind of government, as you would an employee who performed his duty satisfactorily. VOTE ON ELECTION DAY, and MARK YOUR BALLOT AS SHOWN HERE, if you desire the things that these men stand for.

Tots Fall 4 Stories and Escape Unharmed

Albany, N. Y.—Peter and Harry Debie, four and seven years old, respectively, escaped unhurt in a four-story fall from the rear porch of their home. While playing the rolling game way and they pitched to the ground. It was believed their fall was broken by the roof of an adjoining house next the second floor.

FIDDLE WOOPER IS THUMPED IN NOSE

Husband Irritated by Long Musical Flirtation.

Evansville, Ind.—A "public flirtation" and episode in a line of the same for the musical organ was the subject of a lawsuit filed by Thomas Connelly, forty, who was out as the title husband.

Connelly was charged with assault and battery upon James Conley, seven days, but after Connelly told his side of the story, the charges were dismissed by Special Judge Otto Hoover.

Conley, who lives across the street from the Connelly, would sit on his front porch and watch Mrs. Connelly, thirty-six, mother of three children, moving about in her front yard. It was charged.

"Then he would go in the house and get out his fiddle," Connelly said. "After that the 'wonderful'—small the whole neighborhood could hear."

"Mrs. Connelly would walk down the street," whenever Van Co. Van Following Van, were the strains Conley would play.

"But only there on with something like 'I'm in Love, So in Love, Love Me.' That's what made me the maddest."

"After about three weeks of this I got good and mad, so I went over and asked him if he was flirting with my wife."

Conley denied that he was, according to witnesses, but Mrs. Connelly said that he was.

"So I just naturally smacked him a couple," Connelly said. Conley had Connelly arrested on assault and battery charges.

Special Judge Hoover lectured all parties concerned when he dismissed charges against Connelly and returned Conley to his cell in the collection of viola pieces in the future.

Death Strikes Surgeon Operating on Patient

Birmingham, Ala.—A surgeon performing a Caesarean operation, was fatally stricken with a heart attack before his task was completed. Colleague brought the child safely into the world, and also saved the life of the mother.

The dead surgeon was Dr. T. H. Williams of the South Highlands hospital staff. Dr. E. M. Owen and Dr. J. D. Deane finished the operation Williams had begun. Mrs. H. H. Day, twenty-five, the mother, and her eight and three-month-old baby girl, were reported in satisfactory condition.

As the collapsed Doctor Williams' first thought was for the safety of his patient and the success of the operation.

"Watch it, doctor," were the last words the stricken surgeon uttered.

A juror's jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes. Fellow surgeons said undoubtedly Doctor Williams had suffered a heart attack.

Two-Year-Old Child Is Carried Away by Bear

Pittsburgh, N. Y.—A large female black bear made off with the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wink of Lake Placid.

The child was carried about a mile from a hotel where his parents were berries before daylight. Daily litten about the face, neck and arms and suffering from loss of blood, the boy was taken to a hospital where he is expected to recover.

When told he left his son lying in the woods when he was suddenly attracted by the cry. The bear had his teeth in the child's clothing and he died off at a good pace, with Mr. and Mrs. Wink in pursuit.

Coming to an open field near a railroad crossing the bear dropped the child and disappeared. It is thought if it was a better hour in search of food for her young.

Saranac Lake, N. Y.—Joseph Hart, fifty, hunter, trapper and guide, became so embarrassed at an ingrown nail that he severed the toe with a chisel and hammer. After dislodging the nail he was taken to a hospital where for a time his condition was treated seriously.

NEW MACHINE WILL FORETELL WEATHER

Forecasting Months Ahead Predicted by Expert.

Washington—Accurate weather forecasts soon will be made months in advance through the use of machine. Henry G. Clayton, Smithsonian Institution meteorologist, predicts.

The weather is not a haphazard occurrence, but is subject to calculation and this will lead to a revolution in the present methods of forecasting, he said, adding:

"The forecasting of pressure and temperature will be made in much the same way that ocean tides are predicted, except that the periods used will be solar periods rather than lunar periods and will need to be treated in a special way, owing to changes in phase and amplitude."

Sun Pulses Vary. "Processes will be simplified and machinery like tidal machines will be introduced to handle the immense amount of data which will be needed for worldwide forecasts, or even for forecasts over a large area like the United States."

It has been proved that complicated pulses of the sun's radiation occur both as long period changes in the form of years and also as shorter variations of only a few days' duration.

These pulses in the sun's radiation, according to Clayton, are affected by variations in atmospheric pressure, which increase the contrasts in pressure and speed up the distillation of the atmosphere.

When solar activity increases, the pressure falls in the equatorial region, rises in middle latitudes and falls in the polar regions.

The regularity of these changes is interfered with by the distribution of land and water and by the seasonal changes, so that the rate of progression of the atmosphere waves is greatly complicated, he pointed out.

Periods Calculated. Clayton's method of forecasting is by means of these period vibrations in the sun and atmosphere. Analysis of such period terms in the weather at any point on the earth would make it possible to project the period terms ahead to any length of time desired.

Since there are variations in the amplitude and phase of the periods, it is necessary to re-determine the periodic terms at short intervals and to limit the time in advance which they are made to cover, he explained.

Thus when these in the periodic term become calculated, this method of forecasting will replace all others, in Clayton's opinion.

London Star Has Mobile Press for Latest News

London.—Something new to Londoners in the way of fast delivery of late news to readers has been accomplished by the London evening newspaper, the Star, which is regularly operating a "Stop Press" printing establishment in its largest delivery van.

The equipment comprises a complete composing frame and type cases, and a sectioned flash printing machine capable of printing anything up to three thirty line news items at a speed up to 10,000 copies an hour.

News items are received by radio from the office of the Star and are set up and run off in the so-called blank "force column" as fast as they are received. The printing can be done as the van is rushing deliveries to the more distant suburbs, but it is more customary to install the van outside big horse race, football or other sports meetings, enabling the operators at the meeting venue to buy London copies with the very latest news by them.

The van is also equipped with a special microphone amplifier and two public address loud speakers through which broadcast radio-gram announcements can be made.

VOTE FOR CARTERET

A vote for Elmer E. Brown for a member of the General Assembly on the Democratic ticket is really a vote for Carteret. Up until the last year we have had no local representation in the State Legislature, with Mr. Brown's election last year we have attained a place in the State Government and in no small way have we been rewarded.

Carteret industry and the citizens of the Borough are in a measure defended against any legislation that would have an adverse effect on the well-being of our plants and citizens. Without any representation in the legislative body bills are passed in many instances that have a direct or indirect bearing on our own community.

EDUCATION TO SAVE DEMOCRACY

By WILE DUBANT, New York Publisher.

The final breakdown of democracy has appeared to the increasing insecurity of life in our cities, where political machines are in league with the world of crime, and in the inability of congress to face the complex economic problems confronting it every day. I should like to see in all our great universities schools of public administration in which students would be prepared specifically and technically for the tasks of government as they now are prepared for medicine, for engineering and law; and no one should be eligible to municipal office unless he has received such training.

There is no way, short of dictatorship, to escape from the clutches of the political machine, except education. Democracy has given neither government by the people nor government by the boss, and the path of office lies now not in honest service to the people, but in dishonest service to the machine.

"HAPPY MEDIUM" FOR SCHOOLS

By MARIA COLEMAN, Adams (Green) Educator.

The whole American system of education is the latest experiment to find better methods of teaching. The American and European systems of education in the elementary grades should be combined. The American school children have too much recreation, while in Europe the children are overworked with school work. There should be more of a "happy medium" in both places.

The opportunities of getting a higher education are much greater in America. Here you can go to school part of the time and work part of the time if you do not have the necessary funds to pay you through school, but in Europe the schedule is so heavy that a person has to spend all of his time studying.

LIGHTS OF NEW YORK

It was a jolly party of three; a man and his wife and a mutual friend. They indulged in refreshments and, late in the evening, one of those little arguments arose which might be called a family disagreement. It originated by the man turning a brass paper-weight with great speed, but so content. The flying article sook the innocent bystander on the head and knocked him for a loop. Instantly the husband was all contrition and concern.

"Oh, my dear friend," he said to agonized tones, "I have hurt you, and I only meant to kill my wife."

A man, whose first name for purposes of this story was Dick, telephoned a girl that he was with some friends at a hotel, asked her to come to dinner, and gave her the number of the room. The girl arrived, went to the room named and found a party going on, but no Dick. Asking for him, she was told that he undoubtedly would be along in a moment. The party went down to dinner, and after Dick. Finally the girl sensed that something was strange and insisted upon going home. There she found that Dick had telephoned several times, but she could not reach him by telephone. The next day he called up and the two of them indulged in mutual reproaches. It finally developed that the girl had gone to the right room, but the wrong hotel. The long arm of coincidence had swept her into a room of the same number, where there also was a party. She doesn't know yet whether there was another Dick and the person she met thought she really belonged to their crowd.

A man entered a small barber shop the other day and asked the head barber if he might wash his hands. The barber did not reply, but the man went ahead, using water, soap and towel. As he started for the door, the barber spoke.

"Two cents," he said, "for washing your hands."

The man washed indignantly and demanded to know whether the barber also wanted a tip. He said he did not, but he did want the ten cents.

Supposing that the man had been one of the patrons of the shop, a customer in the crowd asked the barber how he liked this new party. "I don't like it," the barber replied. "I don't like it," the barber explained. He said that the man had never been a patron of the shop, but that this was the first time he had been in to use soap and towels. He

Odd Beliefs Long Held

Concerning the Sneeze
The Greeks, when they ask for a blessing upon some article by sneezing, "blaming" to follow (in example of Prometheus, who made celestial fire to animate the beautiful figure he had made of clay); as the fire permeated its frame, the newly formed creature sneezed, and the delighted Prometheus invoked blessings on it." According to Aristotle, the first man who conceived the idea that the sneeze was the principal seat of the soul, regarded the sneeze with great respect because it was the most manifest operation of the soul. Hence the compliments of the Greeks and Romans, "Long may you live; may you enjoy health."

Some rabbis explain the custom by declaring that not long after the creation, God made a general decree that every man should sneeze but once, whereupon his soul should depart from his body without previous warning or indignation. Jacob got the decree withdrawn so that men can sneeze as often as he chooses without danger. Therefore, whenever a man sneezes himself will live after a good gusty sneeze, people should express their gratitude with a blessing.

Birth Rate of Leaders

Found Below Average
Except under very favorable conditions, such as that in royal families, the successful sections of society have always tended to die out. Just now our college graduates are vastly diminishing in number as a human breed. From them have sprung nearly three-fourths of our leaders, and in the future nearly all our leaders will secure some form of higher education.

In addition, Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins has shown that all occupational classes, which he divides into five categories, are disappearing as groups, owing to heredity and health. Only three classes, he finds, are reproducing themselves, namely, the farmers, factory workers and miners. The other six, namely, the professions, all clerical, trade, domestic service, public service, and transportation groups, are not maintaining their status.—Albert Edward Wiggan.

Test for Posture

An excellent test for correct posture, says Magazine in America in the Parents' Magazine, is to stand facing the wall, placing the hands against the wall in front of the thighs at the pelvic point upward. Now notice which part of the body touches the wall first. If it is the chest, well and good; if it is the head, it is not so bad, but if the stomach touches first, something is wrong. To attain correct posture stretch the arms along the wall until the back is straight and the chest high. Then with elbows pulled all the way down, draw the hands down to the shoulders, head back. Now retaining the general position of the body, return the hands to the sides and you will find yourself standing perfectly. Exercises for correcting bad posture include making up with the arms from a reclining position and raising the trunk from the same position without lifting the feet.

Feared Census Taking

One of the deterring factors in conducting a count of the early Colonial was superstition, says an article in the United States Daily.

In 1712 Governor Hunter of New York attempted an enumeration, but it was so inaccurate that he apologized to the home government and said that the inaccuracy was due to the superstition among the people that sickness had followed the last enumeration. Being so close to the New England colonies, these early settlers feared the enumeration in the belief that David committed in numbering the people and they feared it might bring on the same judgments.

"New Netherland" Correct

The name of the Dutch colony in America is America, not New Netherland. Even reputable historians frequently fall into the error of referring to it as New Netherland. The country in Europe is officially and correctly called the Netherlands because it consists of an aggregation of small states, but the Dutch colony in the New World was a single province and was properly called New Netherland. The name was always so spoken and written by the Dutch.—Painkiller Magazine.

New Theatrical Idea

Out-of-work theatrical artists in Paris have hit upon a new method of bringing in the few limited ones that they require to sustain life. They have decided to revive a few of the old "Mystères" of medieval age and give them an augmented stage version, the public squares. The audience will give what it thinks the show is worth—by the throup method.

A Relief

Little Roger, spending a holiday on his grandfather's farm, was permitted to beguile the hours of a wet day by turning over the leaves of the family Bible.

Stoodyly he looked up from the faded pages and quaint pictures and called out:

"See what I've found, grannie!"

In his hand he held a leaf, old and dry, and after a few moments' reflection he added:

"Do you think it belonged to Adam and Eve, grannie?"

15 Chrome Avenue,
Carteret, N. J.

Editor Carteret News:
Cooke Avenue,
Dear Sir:

We are in the midst of a political campaign which is most unique in its character in that it does not refer to the personalities of the candidates but rather to the records of the opposing political parties in our beloved Borough.

Last Spring soon after the primary elections our committee decided that on account of the high calibre and out-standing characteristics of the various candidates of both parties that at the Fall elections it would be records and issues and not men that the contest would be over, so we acted accordingly and have done a tremendous amount of investigating during the past summer.

We have visited forty-two communities with the idea of comparing Carteret with them and have found that Carteret in proportion to its population is one of the best governed Boroughs or Cities in the state bar none and within ten short years one is amazed at the wonderful change that has come about then it contained one of the pest holes of the country (see federal governments report of the flu epidemic) no wonder that the pest hole became known all over the state as the JUNGLE tho it still retains that name those conditions have all been changed and we have a most efficient health department with two visiting nurses who freely visit any home where needed rich and poor alike.

We have one of the most beautiful memorial buildings in the state (see general orders department of New Jersey United Spanish War Veterans dated September 1st, 1930.) The disposal of garbage and sewage is of vital importance to every citizen and requires a large amount of constructive thinking and during the Republican control of the Borough they have constructed a large sewer system covering the whole community and are working on the disposal of garbage.

Our police department under the supervision of Chief Harrington is equal to any in the state and the Chief and men under him with one or two exceptions are well worth the raise they received at the beginning of the year and deserve credit for the splendid work they accomplished in the past few years. Our splendid two Volunteer fire companies are a credit to the county and state (report of New Jersey fire under-writers). We found that Carteret had more miles of improved roads than any other community in the state according to population. Very few communities had a public library that could compare with ours in fact the record of achievements of the Republican administration is a proud one and they can well afford to stand upon their record.

So here's to Windy Walter, Yuronka and Tom

if you will lend us your ears we will sing you a song:
Of devotion to duty Friendship faithful and true.

Let's all get together and see them come through on November the fourth, 1930.

Signed,

Come-Apart Auto Invented

Designed so that it can be taken apart within 20 minutes and stored in hallways or basements a "midget automobile" has been invented by Zasehka, the well-known German inventor. "Are you sure your mother knows we're eating this candy?" the guest asked.

"Sure!" said Edwin. "Didn't you see her frown and shake her head when I came through the hall with it?"

—AND with TONE CONTROL

Philco Tone Control turns to these four positions of tone quality with a knob on the front of the set. It brings in all stations with matchless Philco tone. You can change speech or music to suit your taste. You have a personal control over the tone sent by the broadcasting station. It is "radio's newest miracle."

Philco's new Radio-Phonograph transmits all recorded music through the Philco Radio set itself by means of a new and greatly improved electric tone-arm pickup which permits the needle to follow the sound record accurately and give true, undistorted reproduction. Now, for the first time, the wonderful records of today can be heard with that marvelous, true, clear, undistorted Philco tone, obtained by means of Philco Balanced Units.

And at a touch of your finger, this remarkable new instrument becomes a Philco Screen Grid Plus radio, with its great power, distance range, fine selectivity, glorious tone, Automatic Volume Control, Built-in Aerial and Station Recording Dial, on which you can permanently log your favorite stations. Finally, both your records and your radio reception come under the magic spell of Philco Tone Control, subject to your will, your interpretation as to tonal quality, your personalized touch to all home entertainment.

The new Philco Radio-Phonograph is a furniture piece of great beauty. American walnut, butt walnut and Oriental wood give exquisite charm to this design. It is truly the radio phonograph masterpiece of the year.

MACKS, LEGION TIED FOR LEAGUE LEAD

Both Combines Have Won Three and Lost None. Skeff's Pastry Boys Roll 1036 Tilt.

The Macks and the Legion are tied for first place in the Borough Bowling league, having won three games and lost none for a perfect percentage of 1,000. Both of these teams are to roll tonight at the Slovak alleys and the tie is bound to be broken. Skeff's Pastry Boys are sitting in second place along with the Fast Steppers. The Pastry Boys have won four and lost two, while the Fast Steppers only won two and have dropped one. The Slovaks, O'Donnells and Firemen are stationed with percentages of 333. The Sacred Hearts hold undisputable possession of the cellar. The Hearts won only one tilt out of six tried and that was the last game they rolled.

Last Friday night the Legion took over the Firemen in three straight. The only close game in this match was the opening tilt and the Legion won this one by 32 pins. The Legion handed in an excellent 932 in the second game. McLeod was the outstanding bowler for the Legion, averaging 205.

The Fast Steppers took two tilts from the O'Donnells. The winners won the first game, 876-803, but lost the second struggle by 37 pins, the score being 836-849. The Fast Steppers took the finale with ease, hitting over the 900, while their opponents could not reach the 800 mark.

In Tuesday night's matches, the Pastry Boys won two from the O'Donnells and the Firemen took two from the Sacred Hearts.

The Pastry Boys conquered in the first by a narrow margin of 37 pins. The winners won the second, hitting a marvelous 1036 score, despite the fact that Sullivan could only roll 141. Patocnig bowled 224, Sharkey 231, W. Galvaneck 229 and Morgan 201. The O'Donnells came back very strong and bowled a high 970 while Skeffington's proteges could only roll 918. Walter Galvaneck and Patsy Patocnig rolled for averages better than 200.

The Firemen captured the first two from the Hearts and had the angels against them when they lost the final setto by the narrow margin of six pins. The class of bowling in this match was the poorest exhibited yet, neither team bowled as high as 850 during the course of the evening.

Affinity of Twins

Revealed by Mishap

London.—The strange affinity of twins was recalled here on hearing of an incident recently in the lives of Isalah and Henry Hargace, sixty-two. Both had lived at Wombwell all their lives until recently when Isalah went to Brampton Bierlow and Henry to Leeds. One day Isalah broke a leg in a coal mine and on the same day his brother was taken ill and was removed to a hospital.

Henry said, "I feel worried about Isalah: I wonder if anything has happened to him."

The incident served to recall the case of L. R. and R. L. Chambers, twins, undergraduates at Cambridge, who have had the same grades in examinations, first to a grammar school and then to Cambridge, where they matriculated together and now have won Greek scholarships.

One of two Yorkshire twins, Miss Elsie Harrop, said recently that she and her sister think the same thoughts and do the same things.

"In childhood we both woke up trembling at the same nightmares."

Prehistoric Bones Are

Found on Farm in Ohio

Kenton, Ohio.—Attention of Ohio scientists recently was attracted to the find of a farmer named Shipp, who lives west of Kenton, of a number of large bones believed to be parts of the skeletons of two prehistoric monsters.

A tooth that weighs four and a quarter pounds, a jawbone that is all one man can lift, and two tusks that are more than five feet long are parts of the monsters that have been unearthed in muck pockets.

It is believed the remainder of the skeletons is imbedded in the earth near the places where Shipp found other bones.

A short distance north is a farm where 14 Indians were found buried in a sitting position.

Wrecks Car and Fence

to Save His Straw Hat

Beacon, N. Y.—Destruction of an automobile and of 100 feet of ornamental fence was the cost to Frank Miano, of New York city, for a straw hat carried from his head by a gust of wind while driving in Wappingers Falls recently. He was arraigned before Judge Trabucco on a charge of reckless driving because, in snatching for the hat, he lost control of his car which mounted the curb and tore into William Gurney's lawn.

As Miano agreed to pay for the damage he was not fined.

Refused Food, Man Steals Auto; One to Ten Years

Vincennes, Ind.—Appearing in city court, John Hollendoger, thirty-four, a transient, said he stole an automobile from the garage at the rear of the home of Dr. R. G. Moore to "get even" because he was refused in his request for food at the Moore home. He was sentenced to the state reformatory for ten years.

ings in the park a secret, while Una's sisters usually, in silence, from too much to say.

"Shepherds in Sackcloth" by Sheila Kaye Smith—The shepherds: the title is to the ministers of a Sussex village. One is a young non-conformist whose pathetic love affair ended with the girl's death; the other is the old village rector, dying alone and unhappy after many years of loving, unobtrusive service. The devotion of the old man and his wife, and the tragedy of his estrangement from his Bishop over his church ritual, make a moving story.

"A Note in Music" by Rosamond Lehmann—Two unsatisfactory married women of middle age think they find in a gay amusing young man a symbol of happiness they seek in life. The story is little more than an episode in their lives, but their brief friendship with Hugh remains, for one at least, a very sharp memory.

Introspective, brooding, and at times vague, the book is tentatively written, with emotional backgrounds more often suggested than presented. Miss Lehman is also the author of the well remembered "Dusty Answer."

"Angel Pavement" by John Boynton Priestley—A long leisurely novel of many characters. Mr. Golspie descends from the Baltic upon a shabby office in the quiet little street called Angel Pavement, just off the main business thoroughfares of London. There he puts new life and excitement into the office staff, and not only they, but their remote and scattered home families, and friends, are portrayed here with skill, humor and understanding. At last Mr. Golspie departs as suddenly as he had arrived. The book has something of the flavor of Dickens.

"Free" Masons The term Free Masonry is of ancient origin and was applied to bodies of masons who traveled throughout Europe. The term "free" applied to their being in no particular guild or jurisdiction.

Resourcefulness Forgetful Husband (to friend)—I want you to help me. I promised to meet my wife at one o'clock for lunch, and I can't remember where. Would you mind ringing her up at our house and asking her where I am likely to be about that time?—Perthshire Constitutional.

Mavor Refuses Offer to Debate Donoghue

which is the right of every citizen. His shouting at this late hour that the expenditures are illegal does not make them so.

I have not, by reason of these expenditures, gained a single nickel. However, Mr. Hermann has gained and benefitted directly, not only from the expenditures under my administration, but also under the administration of the former School Board. I am attacked as being philanthropic. Accepting his language, if I am philanthropic, I distribute my charity to a great number of people and do not benefit directly or indirectly myself. However, in the words of Mr. Hermann, he and his associates have not only been extravagant and charitable, but the charity all went to "Poor Joe." Land for the Cleveland School was purchased from "Poor Joe" or his family, which is the same thing. Land for the High School was purchased from him. He was paid $29,000 for land for the school play ground, $32,000, was paid for dirt to fill in this play-ground, and the greater part of which he got. I want him to explain to the people why that play-ground is not filled in to this day and a running track was not built as he contracted to do.

If Mr. Hermann shouts extravagance against me and my administration, he shouts it against himself and his Democratic constituents who bonded the town to build schools. But they, let me say here, were more far-sighted than he was. If he claims that the purchase of land for the antiseptic tank in East Rahway was illegal, he makes Charles Conrad, who is running with him for Councilman on the Democratic ticket a party to the crime, because Charles Conrad was a member of the corporation from whom a great part of this land was purchased. If he asks where another expenditure on the trunk sewer (Noe's Creek) went to and if he wishes to make this a crime, he makes himself a party to it because he applied for and benefitted by an extension costing at least $6,000.

He shouts about the indebtedness of the Borough. Does he hope to win this election by fooling the people? If he fools the people now, what will he do after he gets elected- Sixteen years of his past administration is the best answer. Yes, the town is indebted but why should Joseph A. Hermann as a professed business man lay open the liabilities of the Borough and not speak of the assets I know of a man who doesn't owe a penny to anybody; yet he walks around with patches in his pants and begs for his living. I know another man who is indebted in the sum of $10,000; yet he wears fine clothes, has a fine family, a steady income, sends his children to school, owns a $20,000 home and the debt I speak of is a $10,000 mortgage on his home. The condition of Carteret under Joseph A. Hermann's administration was like that of the beggar with the patches in his pants. The condition of the town today under my administration is like that of the second man with a steady income, a $10,000 mortgage but a $20,000 home.

In conclusion, let me state this—Mr. Hermann says that in 1921 the Borough's indebtedness was only $23,000. When I became Mayor at the beginning of 1923, Mr. Hermann left the town indebted in the sum of $160,280.27. In his own words, the indebtedness of the town under him increased approximately $137,280.27 in one year. I want him to tell the people why this debt was accumulated and itemize what he did with the money. Now that Mr. Hermann has asked me questions and I believe I have answered them fully, let me ask him some.

1. Is it not true Mr. Hermann that you are attempting to create an impression with the people that I and my Council have bonded the town for $1,250,000.00?

2. Is it not a fact that this impression is false because under the law, the Mayor and Council cannot bond this town for more than approximately $850,000.00 and that the bonded indebtedness of this town today is not more than $517,000.00? Is it not a fact that the schools over which I had no control has a bonded indebtedness of $800,000.00 or over? Did not the people vote for the building of the schools? Did you oppose the building of these schools? Did not your own political constituents who are more far-sighted than you, place the issue of this bonded indebtedness on the ballot and did not the people vote for it by an overwhelming majority?

3. Is it not a fact that the people, by an overwhelming majority, voted for the bonded indebtedness of the Borough Hall and the trunk sewer?

4. Did you not derive benefit by the sale of the land for the Cleveland School? By the sale of the land for the High School.

5. Were you not paid $29,000, for the play-ground? Did you not receive the greater part of another $32,000 spent for filling in the play-ground and building a running track? Why isn't the playground filled in and why isn't the running track built? Speaking of extravagance and charity, weren't you the charitable receiver of this extravagance?

7. Isn't it a fact that the cost of maintaining schools in 1921 was $93,000 per year and that the cost today is $318,000 per year? Is this not due to the fact that your own constituents were obliged to make improvements in a period of eight years which should have been made over a period of twenty-four years?

8. Did you not during your administration keep your constituents, who were more far-sighted than you, from making sufficient appropriations for the running of our school system.

9. Did you not, during your administration, keep unnecessary appropriations from other departments and apply this money to the building of roads in which you were personally interested?

10. Is it not a fact that I built more roads in eight years than you built in sixteen years at a comparative cost and saving of at least $70,000.00.

11. Do you deny that the cost of local government under your administration increased 78 1/2% from 1917 to 1921, a period of five years against an increase of cost for local government during my administration of only 40 1/2% in a period of eight years?

12. What will you do to relieve the unemployment situation? Is it not a fact that a worse unemployment situation existed in 1920 during your administration and what did you do to prevent this?

13. Did we not lose two large industries, to wit, Williams & Clark and Chrome Steel Works, while you were a member of the County Board of Assessors? What did you do to prevent this?

14. I recently arranged a conference with the factory heads for the purpose of relieving the unemployment situation in this borough. Why didn't your Democratic Councilman, William D'Zurilla, attend this conference? Did you know that William D'Zurilla on that day was playing golf?

15. Are you not saying to the people of this Borough that you have the power to force local factories to employ local people? What is this power that you have and how do you intend to use it on the factories?

16. You are representing to the people of this Borough that you have an influence of giving jobs to the unemployed. If this is true, why don't you give them jobs now when they need it? Do you expect them to starve until you are elected into office? Are you using the present situation as a blackjack for sinister political purposes?

17. Did you or did you not promise the Polish people that if elected you would change Central Avenue to Pulaski Avenue? If elected, do you intend to keep this promise?

You have several days left in which to answer these questions. Please answer them straight and to the point as I have answered yours. I believe the public is interested.

AN ORDINANCE TO CHANGE THE NAME OF CENTRAL AVENUE TO PULASKI AVENUE, IN THE BOROUGH OF CARTERET. Be It Ordained by the Council of the Borough of Carteret:

1. That from and after the passage of this ordinance, Central Avenue, in the Borough of Carteret, from Roosevelt Avenue to its westerly terminus as now existing, shall be changed to and known as PULASKI AVENUE.

2. This ordinance shall take effect as provided by law.

Introduced October 20, 1930.
HARVEY VO. PLATT,
Borough Clerk

NOTICE

The above ordinance was introduced at a regular meeting of the Council of the Borough of Carteret, on October 20, 1930, when it was passed on first and second readings, and the said ordinance will be considered for final passage at a meeting of the said Borough Council to be held at the Municipal Building, on November 3, 1930, at 8 o'clock, P. M., at which time and place all persons interested will be given an opportunity to be heard.

HARVEY VO. PLATT,
Borough Clerk.

URGE ELECTION OF GEBHARDT-KROEGER

Democratic Members of Board of Freeholders Ask for Members to Continue Economy.

At a series of meetings held in every municipality of the County during the past week, voters were urged by the Democratic members of the Board of Freeholders to elect Peter M. Kroeger and Anthony J. Gebhardt to the Board next Tuesday, so that the policies inaugurated, following the Grand Jury presentment of a year ago, might be continued in force. Those making the request were director, Lewis Compton, and Freeholders Klemmer Kalteissen, C. Raymond Wicoff and Henry C. Berg.

"Reorganization of the Board of Freeholders, in accordance with suggestions made in that presentment, has resulted in greater efficiency, marked economy and has produced excellent results", the various speakers said. They emphasized results shown in the Department of Highways and Bridges, where sixteen miles of road construction work was financed at costs no greater than previously expended for twelve miles of reconstruction. This was made possible through close cooperation with the State Highway Commission, they pointed out.

The Freeholders spoke proudly of the $45,000 remaining after the 1930 road and bridge construction program was completed, which permitted the rebuilding of four additional miles of road, which gave employment to 175 unemployed men.

In a further attempt to relieve the unemployment situation, the Board of Freeholders sponsored a conference with municipal officials to be held November 10, when an attempt will be made to finance considerable construction work to be done during the coming winter.

On the theory that all campaign pledges of 1929 had been fulfilled in 1930, voters at the various meetings were asked to return Democratic majorities for every one on the ticket from Senator to Coroner.

ATTENTION VOTERS!

NOVEMBER 4th IS THE DAY

when you may select the candidates for the various public offices to be filled this year.

The UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION has resulted in thousands of families being forced to live under conditions of POVERTY and DISTRESS. This will continue, unless MEN INTERESTED in alleviating these conditions are elected.

Leading business men of the nation say, "THE TROUBLE is 'FINANCIAL' — NOT 'LACK OF FINANCES'".

Legislation to prevent a repetition of the Wall Street orgy of October, 1929, will DIVERT THE USEFUL CHANNELS the hundreds of millions of dollars now used exclusively in speculation.

Our candidates can be depended upon to carry on the fight against Wall Street, and the interests responsible for the present BUSINESS DEPRESSION!

The PROHIBITION QUESTION will seriously occupy the attention of our next CONGRESS and STATE LEGISLATURE. Men whose public record indicates a SYMPATHY for the present PROHIBITION LAWS, and who have always supported the forces that were responsible for the establishment of Prohibition, CANNOT BE DEPENDED UPON to lead an aggressive movement for its repeal. Some of the candidates on the OPPOSITION TICKET, HAVE NOT YET DECLARED THEIR ATTITUDE on this great question of the day.

Those who believe that the matter of Prohibition is one that should be left to the INDIVIDUAL STATE, and is not a NATIONAL question, should support the DEMOCRATIC candidates. They are pledged to LEAD THE FIGHT for the REPEAL of this law.

The AFFAIRS OF MIDDLESEX COUNTY have been in charge, since January 1, 1930, of men who have evidenced an INTEREST IN THE PUBLIC'S WELFARE. These men have kept their EXPENDITURES WITHIN THE BUDGET APPROPRIATIONS. They have refrained from issuing so-called EMERGENCY NOTES. They have established the POLICY of NOT EXPENDING for improvements more money than an amount equal to the BONDS MATURING in any year—and this has KEPT DOWN the DEBT of the County, and is CONTRARY to the methods pursued by the FORMER ADMINISTRATION when the BONDED DEBT mounted from $4,085,500.00 in 1926 to $5,472,500.00 on January 1, 1930.

The County TAX RATE INCREASED in the same time from .88 to 1.05. NEXT YEAR IT WILL BE REDUCED TO .95 OR LESS. Keep this kind of government, as you would an employee who performed his duty satisfactorily. VOTE ON ELECTION DAY, and MARK YOUR BALLOT AS SHOWN HERE, if you desire the things that these men stand for.

DWIGHT MORROW

Politicians were amazed at the great sweep of Dwight Morrow in the primary election.

Politicians are usually long on promises and short on performance.

In Dwight Morrow the people recognized for once they had a man who had been doing things all his life and who refused to talk about himself. Can anyone imagine a politician refusing to talk about himself?

When Morrow went to Mexico that country was in the midst of a campaign of religious persecution. People were not permitted to worship God in the churches of their own selection. Shortly after Morrow went to Mexico the so-called problem steadily faded, and gradually the churches were opened up again.

When Morrow went to Mexico most all of the industries were closed down due largely to a mistaken policy on the part of the Mexican politicians running the government. Morrow, not a politician, but a common sense business man, soon convinced the government there, that it was best for the interest of all to change their policy. Not long after the industries, strangled by the politicians, opened up, the people went back to work and contentment reigned once more.

Everyone said Morrow was a fool to accept the Ambassadorship to Mexico because no one had ever succeeded there. But they did not know this quiet little Jerseyman.

When Cuba was practically bankrupt with no money to pay its government employees and industry in bad shape Morrow was sent there on a commission. There were no brass bands, no red fires no front page statements when Morrow started his job. However, in a little over a month, Morrow sailed for home. He had nothing to say but he had established Cuba's credit again. Its employees were being paid and once more optimism replaced pessimism in the little island country.

So in the great world war when a masterful handling of the international debt problem was required, Morrow's advice was earnestly sought by all. But we heard nothing about it, because he is not a politician.

When the United States got into the war it became quite a problem as to how to handle its vast shipping and how to co-ordinate shipping with other countries so as not to waste time, space and lives. Everyone wanted to run the show. Morrow was called in to head up a commission. After that you heard no more about the shipping problem and everyone knows we did not lose a single troop ship in all the submarine infested waters.

Morrow is a simple modest little man. He has a small physique. He is not a strong man. He has been working night and day for his country unselfishly for three years without any kind of a vacation. While he has a small body, he has a great mind and a big heart. He is tolerant of those who do not agree with him.

He and more men like him are badly needed at Washington. We have too many politicians there, men with big lungs and small minds. It is time we reversed it and sent some one there who has and can do something to aid the people.

The country today, as never before, needs people in Washington such as Morrow to help it get back to sanity and on its feet once more. We need less talk and more action. Morrow never held public political office. He ought to get every vote in New Jersey.

NEEDED NOW

In his first speech in the election campaign, Mr. Morrow took a lot of bunk out of party politics. He was the first one to come clear and admit that no party makes prosperity. He was the first one to come clear and admit that there is a real depression. He urged action and courage on the part of everyone to try to turn the situation about.

Right on top of this leadership, by such an outstanding man, the powers that be in all directions began to announce committees to get together to formulate a program. If they were on the job, they would have formulated such a program a long while ago because business has not just become bad.

What we need is more of this Morrow leadership. If we had our choice of drafting anyone in America to send to Washington to help the situation, we could not pick out a better man than Dwight W. Morrow. He has done things, not just talked things.

He reorganized Cuba's finances when the country was practically bankrupt and he did it quickly. He did much the same thing in Mexico. When connected with J. P. Morgan & Company as attorney, he had a leading part in the restoring of credit to Austria in 1923, helping balance the governmental budget and outlining normal methods of taxation and trade. With Germany struggling to get back on its feet, he was one of the leaders in arranging an $110,000,000 loan, in 1924. In the same year a credit was arranged of $100,000,000 for the Bank of France when that country was in despair. In 1925 the British Treasury attempted to go to the gold basis and $100,000,000 credit was arranged for them. In the same year, $100,000,000 credit was arranged for the Italian Government.

All these countries were in terrible straits. They were America's best customers. When they got the credit they bought America's goods and gave America the greatest prosperity it ever knew.

What we very badly need is Dwight Morrow's vision, leadership and energy in Washington, especially now. In normal times it would be almost a crime to send a man of the high type of Morrow down with a lot of windjammers. The country needs him and needs him badly now. No one can better appreciate this than those in industrial communities where present conditions are directly felt.

Now is no time for wisecracking or smart aleck jibes and that is all that Simpson offers us.

A vote for Morrow is a vote in the direction of getting the country out of the present situation. He cannot do it alone but he can point the way. He has done this all his life in every situation he has ever been in and there is no reason to expect anything different now.

Lawrence Washington
Check for $26.15 Found

Richmond, Va.—An old check bearing the signature of Lawrence Washington, who is believed to have been the last male member of the Washington family born at Mount Vernon on the Potomac, has been presented to the Virginia State library. It has been announced by Dr. Henry R. McIlwaine, the librarian. The check was brought to light recently when Mack Weekley, of Richmond, purchased a collection of old papers.

The check is dated September 10, 1891, and is drawn to the order of cash on the Farmers' bank of Virginia, then at Fredericksburg, Va., for the sum of $26.15. It is signed "Law Washington." The signature is believed to be that of Lawrence Washington, who was a grand nephew of George Washington.

Dogs Want Milk, Cow

Lynn, Mass.—Mrs. Lena Shapiro, owner of a milk farm in Saugas, today complained to Patrolman James P. Sullivan that one of her cows had been assaulted by two dogs. Investigation by the policeman revealed that the dogs were attempting to steal milk from the cow, that the cow objected by kicking the dogs and that the dogs retaliated by biting the cow.

How Towns Were Named

Two towns in Missouri, Independence and Liberty, came by their names in an interesting way. The sites on opposite sides of the Missouri river were settled by rival political groups from Kentucky; and it was at a time when the slogans were: "Clay and Liberty," and "Jackson and Independence." Each band named its settlement after its favorite candidate's war cry.

Slaves in '61

The price of a slave at the time of the Civil war varied much as any other commodity would. An old and decrepit slave would be almost without value, while a young, personable, able-bodied slave might bring as high as $1,000, and in some cases a young and attractive female would bring much more.—Washington Star.

FIND INSANITY IN FRANCE INCREASES

Auto and War Blamed for Overflowing Asylums.

Paris.—Hectic Parisian life and bitter memories of the World war are driving so many French people into insane asylums that the French government has suddenly found itself with more crazy people on its hands than it can accommodate.

Steadily since the war there has been a continual increase in the number of persons admitted to mental hospitals. There are 87 insane asylums in France and they are taxed to capacity. The government is considering the rapid construction of emergency hospitals to take care of this year's increase.

The total number of demented patients for the region of Paris is now around 23,000, while public health officials note an alarming increase in the number of new patients this year. The six leading hospitals in and around Paris are crowded to the doors and to take care of new and pressing cases some of the older patients are moved to provincial institutions for confinement.

The assistants of M. Desire Ferry, minister of public health, have been studying the reasons for the alarming increase in the number of demented patients every year. Their studies lead them to believe the greater majority of mental derangement is caused from too fast and hectic a life, or from worries and fears growing out of the war.

Several doctors believe that modern Paris traffic is partially responsible for the mental condition of some of the asylum inmates. Harassed throughout life by wildly dashing taxis, the day eventually arrives, declare these doctors, that something snaps in their brains.

Every day in France 10 persons are killed in automobile accidents, a figure which has led Premier Andre Tardieu to issue strict orders that driving must be taken away from persons found to conduct an automobile. Statistics show that only 1,626 persons were killed by automobiles throughout France in 1924 while last year the total was 3,717.

Young Seals Must Be Taught to Swim, Claim

Seattle, Wash.—Young seals have to be taught to swim; they don't take to the water like ducks or fish.

Dr. George Haley, professor of biology at St. Ignatius college, San Francisco, brought that information with him when he returned here after a tour of the Pribiloff islands, where a federal survey showed 900,000 seals this summer.

"A young seal thrown in the water will drown," Doctor Haley said. "They must be taught to swim, taking it by degrees at their mothers' sides."

The seal population on the islands has been steadily increasing since the United States, Canada, Great Britain and Japan reached an agreement toward the protection of seals foraging off the islands, he reported. The rookeries will eventually reach their maximum population of 4,000,000, he believes.

Doctor Haley returned here on the federal boat Penguin, which carried $1,000,000 worth of seal skins consigned to a St. Louis fur company. The United States receives a percentage of the profits and gives 10 per cent to Great Britain and 5 per cent to Japan as part of the protective agreement.

Since the three nations agreed to protect the seals against wanton hunters, the population of the islands has increased at the rate of about 7 per cent annually, Doctor Haley reported. Seals spend their winters off the coast of Washington and Oregon, returning to the Pribiloff islands during the summer.

American "Buries" Self to Study Ancient Race

Tokyo.—Dr. J. F. Rock, noted American botanist and explorer, has sailed from Yokohama en route to Li-King one of the most inaccessible districts of China, where he intends to take up a residence of 10 years to study the life, literature, customs, ceremonies and habits of the Nashi, a Tibetan-Burmese race.

For the past 10 years he has lived at Li-King, spending only four months of that time within the limits of civilization. He returns now to make an other 10 years' study.

At various times he has contributed data for the Smithsonian Institution, Harvard university, and the National Geographic society. He has just presented the congressional library in Washington with 543 original books written by the Li-King people in their native tongue.

54-Inch Rattlesnake Found by Swimmers

Clinton, Ind.—A 54 inch rattlesnake, on the tail of which were ten rattles, was displayed here by Pat Lowry and Hiddle Miller of St. Bernice. The men said they killed the reptile while swimming.

Lady Bathes as Friend Steals Sock and $104

Denver.—A bath cost Catherine Wessel $104. While she was in the tub a friend waiting in the living room of her apartment disappeared with a stocking containing the $104.

Laughed at Salt Tax

Salt taxes was never very effective in the American colonies. Samuel Winslow got a special franchise for making it exclusively for Massachusetts, but he never profited much by it. Many Colonists went to distant points on the coast and made what they desired for their own use without let nor hindrance.

From the Hindu

Sanskrit is an ancient Hindu word and signifies perfection or perfect. The Hindu word is Sanskrita. Sanskrit was from the earliest time a classical language and between 2000 and 1500 B. C. was the language used in the writing of the Vedas or sacred books of Hindustan.

Washington Predicted Transatlantic Flight

Washington.—George Washington, as early as 1794, predicted that the ocean would be spanned by air. Representative Sol Bloom, associate editor of the George Washington Bicentennial commission, declared, calling attention to the fact that the Coste-Bellonte flight is not the fulfillment of a modern dream.

"The dream," he said, "is almost as old as our country. George Washington himself had a distinct vision of this great achievement, although he did not, of course, envisage the character of the modern airplane. It was as early as 1794 that our first President, in a prophetic letter to Major-General Duportail, friend of Lafayette, said: "Our friends in Paris in a little time will come flying through the air, instead of plowing the ocean to get to America."

Burglars or Fire, It's All Same to This Cop

New Orleans.—Burglars or fire, it's all the same to Corp. Raymond Credo of the New Orleans police force.

Credo won promotion when he shot it out with two hold up men, killing one and wounding another.

Shortly after, Credo was roaming around the Criminal courts building, when the test fire gong started. Coincidentally, a judge's office burst into flames.

Credo won laurels by seizing an extinguisher and battling the flames until he extinguished them.

Mistakes Red Lights on Auto; Calls Out Firemen

Montrose, Colo.—Firemen answering an alarm at the home of Mary Olive Gray found a passerby had mistaken the lights left burning on her automobile for a blaze.

Elect
DWIGHT W. MORROW
United States Senator
AND THE ENTIRE REPUBLICAN TICKET
on Tuesday, November 4, Polls Open 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

SELDOM have the citizens of any state had the opportunity to vote for a man as eminently qualified for the office of United States Senator as DWIGHT W. MORROW. His services to the State and Nation have been outstanding achievements.

Under Governor Wilson he served as counsel in connection with the drafting of the Workmen's Compensation law.

Under Governors Edge and Edwards he was Chairman of the Prison Inquiry Commission and Chairman of the State Board of Institutions and Agencies.

Under President Wilson he was director of the War Savings Commission of New Jersey, advisor to the Allied Maritime Transport Council, and civilian aide to General Pershing in France. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

Under President Coolidge he was delegate to the Pan-American Conference in Cuba, Chairman of the President's Aircraft Board, and Ambassador to Mexico, where he brought about an era of peace and good will for the first time in twelve years.

Under President Hoover he continued his work in Mexico, and later took a leading part in the London Naval Conference as a member of the United States delegation.

The State of New Jersey now has the opportunity of sending to the United States Senate this man of great national and international achievements. In the hour when the nation needs the clearest thinking, the most fundamental intellectual honesty, and the highest courage of conviction this is indeed

HIGH TOSSERS OUT FOR FOURTH WIN

Weak Metuchen Team May Surprise McCarthymen. Game Tomorrow at Metuchen.

Given more confidence by their triumph over a fast South River outfit, Coach Francis McCarthy's high school gridders went through their practices this week in preparation for the Metuchen contest tomorrow afternoon with more pep and enthusiasm than has been displayed for the past few weeks. The contest is to be played at Metuchen.

The Blue and White are very confident of a victory which will be their fourth of the year and their second straight. The Metuchen tilt was considered as the only breathing spell in a rugged nine game schedule which could compare with any class B outfit's slate in the whole state.

However as the day of the game approaches there is a fear that the Blue and White may be surprised by Coach Nichols' squad. The locals are an overwhelmingly favorite on paper but there is nothing as uncertain as a football game.

The Blue and White mentor is confronted with a big problem in his backfield—not because of the lack of material but because of having too many excellent ball carriers.

Until last Saturday the team lined up with Coughlin, Huber, Poll and Szlag in the backfield. Szlag was out of Saturday's game on account of injuries and Kleban, who replaced him, played such stellar ball in his new position that it is a question as to whether he will be shifted back to his regular end post to make room for Szlag.

McCarthy has not as yet announced his starting backfield but it is thought he will give these five men equal chances to show their ball carrying prowess.

The Carteret line will be taken care of by Baksa, Mikics, Symonowski, Kubicka, O'Brien, Essig, R. Grutza, Carlisle, C. Grutza and Collins, all of whom are sure of seeing service before the final whistle.

Creosote Not Necessary

There is no necessity for creosoting the wood used in airplanes. It is done only when the wood is in contact with the ground or actually placed in the ground. The objection to using creosote on wood for airplanes is that it prevents the satisfactory application of paint and also adds unnecessarily to the weight of the machine.

Myth Exploded

The widely credited possibility of ships becoming embedded in the weeds of the Sargasso sea, and being unable to escape was disproved by the expedition of the Michael Sars under the direction of Sir John Murray in 1910, which found the surface covered with weeds only in patches, not continuously. The Beebe expedition later verified this statement.

along said line of lands to the Northerly line of lands of the Conlon Tract; thence (7) Easterly, along said Northerly line of said tract to Washington Avenue; thence (8) Southerly, along Washington Avenue to the Northerly line of lands of the Hermann Tract; thence (9) Easterly, along the Northerly line of said lands to Noe's Creek; thence (10) still Easterly, along the several courses of said creek to Pershing Avenue; and thence (11) Southerly, along Pershing Avenue to the place of Beginning.

DISTRICT NO. 7: (Voting place, Nathan Hale School), BEGINNING at the intersection of Noe's Creek and Pershing Avenue; running thence (1) in a Westerly direction along the said creek to the Northerly line of the Hermann Tract; thence (2) still Westerly along the Northerly line of said tract to Washington Avenue; thence (3) Northerly, along Washington Avenue to the Northerly line of the Conlon Tract; thence (4) Westerly, along the Northerly line of said tract to the Westerly line of the Brady Tract; thence (5) Northerly, along the Westerly line of said tract to the Southerly line of property belonging to the Mexican Petroleum Company; thence (6) Westerly, along the Southerly line of said property to the Central Railroad of New Jersey; thence (7) Northeasterly along the lands of said railroad to Roosevelt Avenue; thence (8) Easterly and Southeasterly along said Roosevelt Avenue to Pershing Avenue; and thence (9) Southerly along Pershing Avenue to the place of Beginning.

DISTRICT NO. 8: (Voting place, Nathan Hale School), BEGINNING at the intersection of the Northerly line of Roosevelt Avenue and the Westerly line of Charles Street; running thence (1) Northerly, along the Westerly line of Charles Street and continuing in a straight line to a point in the Rahway River where Deep Creek enters into same; thence (2) in a general Westerly direction along the several courses of Rahway River to the Westerly boundary line of the Borough of Carteret; thence (3) in a general Southerly direction along the Westerly boundary line of the Borough of Carteret and also along Blair Road to the New Jersey Terminal Railroad Company; thence (4) Easterly along the New Jersey Terminal Railroad Company to the Central Railroad Company; thence (5) Northerly along the Central Railroad Company to Roosevelt Avenue; and thence (6) Easterly and Southeasterly, along Roosevelt Avenue to the place of Beginning.

"ELECTRIC EYE" WILL GUARD PRISON WALLS

Latest Marvel of Science to Block Escapes.

San Francisco.—Science's latest marvel—known as the "electric eye" and endowed with almost human intelligence—continues to amaze an already miracle-hardened world.

Capable of performing hundreds of operations heretofore considered conquerable only by human beings, the new device accomplishes almost everything from preventing prison breaks to sorting almonds.

Briefly described, the "eye" or photo-electric cell, operates when a beam of light reflected into it from a distance is broken by a shadow or some other "unnatural" element.

Will Halt Escapes.

Perhaps the latest and most interesting application of the device is the hope of providing an infallible preventive against prison breaks.

In this situation a "electric eye" is placed atop the prison walls, one at each of the four corners. A narrow beam of light, directed along the top of the walls, completely encircling the prison, shines into the never-tiring "eye."

Nothing then could ever pass over those walls without breaking the light that shines into the "eye." And, once that beam is broken, an alarm is sounded, guards and neighboring peace officers are warned, and pursuit has started.

Another amazing feature of the device is its uncanny ability to count and sort materials according to size, color or temperature.

Placed over a traveling belt conveyor, used to carry labeled packages or cans, the machine unerringly counts and "O. K.'s" those that are properly marked and rejects every parcel it "sees" without a label or with the label placed upside down.

Turning on huge electric signs with the approach of dusk and extinguish them at dawn is another job now given to the unfailing "mechanical eye."

On Oakland Plant.

Such an arrangement has been provided for the new 180-foot sign placed above the Oakland plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, sponsors of the new device.

The sign, the largest of its kind in the West, was lighted for the first time as a special feature of the National Electric Light association convention here.

Countless other chores have been given to the "eye" and its inventor, J. V. Breisky, Westinghouse research engineer, predicts even more amazing accomplishments for his brain-child.

Early American Libraries

In 1731 a subscription library was opened by Benjamin Franklin in Philadelphia. Many early subscription libraries have become the foundations of public libraries. The public library as we know it today was scarcely known before 1850 and has developed for the most part since the formation of the American Library association in 1876. The earliest tax-supported library is supposed to have been the town library of Salisbury, Conn., established in 1803. The oldest existing library is said to be the one at Petersburg, N. H., established in 1833.—Kansas City Star.

Dandy French Musketeers

A musketeer is a soldier armed with a musket, an infantryman of earlier times, but the word is specifically applied to a company of gentlemen who were a mounted guard in the service of the kings of France from 1601 down to the time of the revolution. They were clad in scarlet, hence their quarters were called the "Maison Rouge." In peace they followed the king on his hunting expeditions to protect him. In war they fought either on foot or on horseback. They were dandy soldiers, who went to war with curled hair, white gloves, "and perfumed like milliners."—Montreal Family Herald.

Seal Sale Causes Decline in Death Rate

The decline in Tuberculosis Mortality in the past twenty-five years in New Jersey was declared the most outstanding fact in the tuberculosis problem by Emil S. Frankel, Director of Research, Department of Institutions and Agencies at the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the New Jersey Tuberculosis League at Paterson, October 24th.

Dr. E. I. Dorn was among the representatives of the Middlesex County Tuberculosis League to attend. Dr. Dorn conducts the Carteret clinics.

In the 25-year period, 1904-1929, the death-rate from tuberculosis of all forms in New Jersey dropped from 179.5 per 100,000 of the population to 73.9, a decrease of 58.8 per cent. In the last ten years alone the tuberculosis death rate has shown a decline 40.5 per cent. Dr. Frankel credited the health engineering work of private and public agencies, the preventive and educational work of tuberculosis clinics, and the restorative treatment of the preventorium and sanatoriums with a large share in the improvement of the situation.

Dr. Dorn in mentioning the work in which he plays so active a part, always stresses the fact that it is supported entirely by the returns of the annual sale of Christmas Good Health Seals, which opens the day after Thanksgiving.

Dr. Silk, President of the Organization, has noted that the returns from Carteret last year amounted to $934.04, which means an average expenditure of less than seven cents for every man, woman and child in the community. The chairman hopes to see this sum doubled this year.

Chromium

The bulk of the chromium used in this country comes from Rhodesia, in Africa, in the form of ore, which is reduced to ferro-chromium after its arrival. Chromium steel was used in the erection of the Eads bridge over the Mississippi river at St. Louis, and the structure is still in constant use, although erected in 1874. This was the first important use of chromium steel in structural work.

How Islands Got Name

If you think the Canary Islands were so named because the trees were full of yellow songsters, guess again. Large numbers of dogs roaming around caused King Juba II of the Mauretanians, who discovered the islands, to take the Latin name "canaries," meaning "dogs" and bestow it on the place.—Exchange.

QUEER NAMES FOR WINDS AND RAINS

Nomenclature Varies in Different Countries.

Washington.—In foreign countries it may be a buran, pooraga, a pampero, but here in the United States it's just a plain blizzard.

Algeria dreads the coming of the chillis, Nacaragua looks out for daily chubascos in the summer time, Spain scorches under the heat of an African leveche, and Persia has resigned itself to the shamal.

Winds, for instance. A visit to Australia would find many curious names for the winds.

In the Far East there is the monsoon, a possession that has been known to halt the enthusiasm of the most ardent salt gatherer in India.

On the wing of this wind is carried the world's greatest rainfall, on Cherrapunji, at the head of the Himmlaya foothills, the monsoon drops more water than does any other wind in the world.

The home of the blizzard is Adelle land in Antarctica. Here a yearly average of 50 miles per hour is maintained and explorers record that an Adelle blizzard kept a speed of 107 miles an hour for eight hours with gusts ranging as high as 200 miles per hour.

Takes Own Medicine, "Cured"; Has Sellout

Paris.—There are smart folks, and then there are also those smart enough to make monkeys out of the smart ones.

The other day Emile was out selling cough and throat pills in the street. In a hoarse and untidy voice Emile exhorted his unwilling listeners to take a fling at the capsules and be cured.

"Cecile Sorel uses my pills every day," he barked. "Aristide Briand fuels up on them every time he gets ready to cast a spell over the League of Nations," and so on.

Husky Doctor Trounces Two Youthful Holdups

Buffalo, N. Y.—The combination of Dr. John V. Swierat and a folding chair was too much for two youthful holdup men, and they fled without gaining their objective.

According to Doctor Swierat, the two walked into his office, and after one complained of an ailment, the other flourished a gun and ordered him to raise his hands.

Wedding Dress Stolen as Ceremony Nears

Portland, Ore.—The bride who was left waiting at the church couldn't be much more chagrined than Miss Ethel Maronay, nineteen, who reported to police that a thief entered her apartment and stole her wedding dress a few days before she was to be married.

Farmer Gets Aid From Sky; Meteorite, $650

Heber Springs, Ark.—Aid from the skies during the drought came to Julian Bailey, farmer living northwest of here, but it differed from any he had hoped for, and it enabled him to sell a product that few farmers take to market.

The heavenly assistance took the form of a 37 pound meteorite which fell on his farm. Bailey sold it to a Rochester (N. Y.) firm for $650.

State Boundaries Long Matter of Disputation

For a great many years the boundary between the colony of New York and Massachusetts was in dispute. The government of New York maintained that the eastern limit was the Connecticut river, basing its claim upon a Dutch title.

Long Line of "Caesars" in Annals of Old Rome

Caesar was the surname of a toy sailboat and told her to put some water in the bathtub and sail.

Why aren't you sailing your boat? asked her mother. Oh, the tub ran over and the boat kept falling out," replied Sharon calmly.
