

Glowing In Grace

Galatians 6:9 (NIV)

Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up.

In Due Season

Do Not Grow Weary in Doing Good

Every day we are sowing seeds that will later produce a harvest in our lives. Whether the harvest is good and helpful determines the type of seeds we are sowing. According to Paul in Galatians 6, we can sow seeds of the flesh that reap corruption or we can sow seeds of the Spirit that reaps eternal life. The Apostle knew how discouraging life can be to a Christ follower. He knows the pressures of Satan, the temptations we face from sin and the trials and tests that God sends to authenticate our faith (1 Peter 1:7). These can cause us to grow weary in the Christian life. I am so thankful for this verse because it tells me that it is okay to admit my weariness. There is not anything unspiritual about becoming weary if you do not stay in your weariness because the Bible gives us great hope!

In Due Season We Will Reap

You do not have to worry if God is going to recognize and reward your righteous living. God promises He will. Yes, in due season!

Opportunities will come for you to bless others, give sacrificially, share your knowledge, skills, and expertise. When these opportunities come, understand that you are not “wasting time,” but instead, you are sowing seeds of the Spirit that will reap eternal life.
