CITY OF BOSTON

IN THE YEAR TWO THOUSAND TWENTY-TWO

ORDER A HEARING TO ADDRESS THE FACILITY
CONDITIONS OF THE BCYF'S POOLS TO ENSURE CITY
SERVICES TO ALL RESIDENTS

WHEREAS, After multiple heat waves and an unprecedented lack of rainfall, Boston has experienced one of the warmest and driest summers on record. According to the U.S. Drought Monitor's weekly report, released on August 25, roughly 96 percent of the state experienced severe drought conditions at some point this summer. So far this year, there have been 24 days when the temperature was 90 or above, marking the sixth-highest number of days in one year at 90 and above in Boston; and

WHEREAS, The Boston Centers for Youth & Families (BCYF) manages 17 indoor pools, two outdoor pools, and three beaches in the City; and

WHEREAS, At the very start of the summer, only seven of the 19 pools were open, and the three beaches located at the Curley Community Center in South Boston were closed; and

WHEREAS, According to the Boston Centers for Youth & Families (BCYF), the nine pools closed due to facility issues and capital construction projects were the Curley Community Center in South Boston, the Mattapan Community Center Pool in Dorchester, the Paris Street Community Center Pool in East Boston, the Draper Pool in West Roxbury, the Blackstone Community Center Pool in the South End, Clougherty Pool in Charlestown, the Hennigan Community Center Pool in Jamaica Plain, the Marshall and the Holland Community Center pools, both in Dorchester; and

WHEREAS, Only two of the seven opened pools were located in neighborhoods with an area median income lower than the city's average: the Mason Pool in Roxbury and the pool inside the Leahy-Holloran Community Center in Dorchester. In the South End and West Roxbury, no public pools were open at one point; and

WHEREAS, These closures were a disservice to residents, prohibiting several neighborhoods from city services like recreational swimming and aquatic lessons, especially in one of Boston's hottest and driest summers to date; and

WHEREAS, It is in the best interest of our residents to proactively address the current facility conditions of all indoor and outdoor pools to avoid sudden closures due to facility issues, so preparations and renovations can be made for next summer; NOW, THEREFORE BE IT

ORDERED: That the appropriate committee of the Boston City Council holds a hearing to address the facility conditions with a full facility assessment of every pool managed by the Boston Centers for Youth and Families (BCYF) in order to ensure equitable city services to all city residents. Representatives from the Boston Centers for Youth and Families, Boston Public Schools, the Public Facilities Department, members of the Community Centers, the BCYF foundation, neighborhood organizations, residents, and members of the public shall be invited to attend.
